RELIABILITY SERVICE

A Complication Usually Prevented by Osteopathy

Some times after a pneumonia patient has passed the crisis and recovery is expected the case does not progress satisfactorily. The membrane lining the inner chest wall and covering the lungs has become infected and pus collects in this space outside the lungs between these two layers of the pleura. The only known treatment for this condition is surgical drainage. It is significant that patients receiving OSTEOPATHIC treatment during pneumonia seldom develop empyema, as this pleural abscess is called. If a patient goes to an Osteopathic physician with some condition which the latter diagnosis as empyema he refers the patient to a surgeon.

SPLENDOR AND MYSTERY AT AUTOMOBILE SHOW

From the shows at Chicago and New York the focal point of the American automobile industry swings to the great district shows, one of the most important of which is the Portland Show, opening February third and running until February 10. Portland's exhibition is the Northwest center of the trade and the motor fans for Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana. From Portland the interest swings to San Francisco where the show opens February 17, running for one week.

Neither the Portland show nor the San Francisco show were timed this year until after the big shows in the East had been set, so as to make certain that the very best in everything would have ample time to get to Portland, as well as the leaders of the industry who head towards the west at about the same as the exhibits.

While primarily a retail show, its importance as the exhibit of the Northwest trade has grown year by year. The Portland auditorium space devoted to the show this year covers three floors of the block square building. Never in the history of shows has the demand for space been what it was this year. Every foot from the basement to the top is filled with automobiles or some device that makes owning a motor the more enjoyable or the more practical, or economical.

The automobile industry has become the wonder of the world through its ability to constantly reflect development and advancement when its approach to the ultimate always seems so near. For the Portland show dozens of express cars are rushing across the continent with these very latest things in motor lore.

In Portland, as rapidly as unpacked they will be placed in the most elaborate setting yet conceived for a show in the West. Incidentally it is admitted that only in the West can be seen these colorful settings for the eastern shows are more formal, but less elaborate. The Portland and San Francisco shows established themselves last year as the most beautiful in the country.

This year's setting is a huge creation that is almost a trip to ancient Egypt. Floods of colored lights, great steaming incense urns, and dozens of brilliantly garbed attendants will help carry out the romance and mysticism of the ancient setting. In extreme contrast will be the very modern chariots, more wonderful than any king of ancient Egypt ever owned, yet within the reach of everyone in blessed America.

For the public many special events will make a busy week. The opening Saturday will be for the youngsters when every one of them will be admitted free and given balloons besides. Webber's Juvenile orchestra of 35 pieces will be featured in a two-hour concert afternoon and evening. The style show on Thursday evening will give the ladies some idea of what the spring will bring.

The trade will gather in Portland Wednesday for a convention. Dr. A. F. Sheldon, world renowned business revivalist, will speak to the dealers and tradesmen on that date. In the evening a big banquet to which the whole trade is invited will be staged.

On Friday night the Old Timers will again gather for their annual supper. To this the trade is also invited. The Old Timers at every show in the country are the bright spot, the fun end of a busy week of business.

GRESHAM GIRL MARRIES PORTLAND MAN

A pretty home wedding was celebrated in Gresham last Wednesday evening, January 31, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Towle when their daughter, Miss Olive Towle, became the bride of Dr. Herman Bouchet of Portland. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The wedding took place at 9 o'clock. The Rev. A. S. Hisey, pastor of the Methodist church in Gresham, read the simple ring ceremony. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends were present. They were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Townsend, brother-in-law and sister of the bride; Miss Edella Towle, sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Towle, her parents; two brothers of the groom and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison of Portland, friends of the couple and Bayard Miller of Gresham.

Mrs. Bouchet is a graduate of the Good Samaritan hospital of Portland and was head nurse at the Veteran's hospital until she recently resigned. Dr. Bouchet is chief dental surgeon of the U. S. Veteran's Bureau with offices in the Myler building in Portland.

Dr. and Mrs. Bouchet will be at home to friends after March 1, at 307 East 47th street north, Portland.

Fine for Summer.
The easterner on a San Francisco Bay ferryboat pointed to a blotch on the water in the distance as it rose and fell with the tide.

"What's that?" he inquired.
The regular commuter followed the direction of his finger. "Hawaiian underwear," he replied.

The easterner turned a puzzled gaze on him, so the commuter explained: "Seaweed."—Judge.

A NEW DISCOVERY More and Better Fruit

Nature's way of production greatly improved.

The fruit is much larger and the fruit buds mature extremely large cherries and they do not fall. Bear in mind that fully 50 per cent of our cherry crop falls before maturity. This may all be saved, except for weather conditions, the first year by the application of "More's In-ovigorant," applied by expert horticulturists. All fruit made to bring forth an abundance as the "In-ovigorant" feeds the fruit giving buds. The serious bleeding as well as bacterial gummosis, in the cherry, soon overcome, through the perfect circulation of the sap. Blossoms and all the lower kingdom made to respond with brighter tints, all cereals, vegetables, forced into heavy production.

Practical pruning, spraying, budding and grafting done in proper season.

All sprays have the "In-ovigorant" added free.

The wilderness and the dry land shall be glad; And the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.
