

ALTMAN'S JERSEY EMPRESS DOROTHY MAKES FINE TEST

As a name, Empress Dorothy would fit the queenly heroine of a romantic story. It suggests queenly dignity and royal excellence. And it loses none of its suggestiveness when thought of as the name of one of the most queenly members of B. C. Altman's herd of prize-winning Jerseys.

Empress Dorothy is classed as a junior four-year old and her most recent test under the rules of the American Jersey Cattle club started on January 26, 1922, and ended December 31, 1922, covering 340 days.

During that time her record has been phenomenal and stands as follows:

Milk, lbs.	13,097.9
Butterfat, lbs.	737.5
Average test	5.6 per cent.

This cow (being under five years she is classed as a heifer) was one of probably 5000 entered in the Record of Merit test. For three consecutive months she was at the head of the list in her class. Having produced over 700 pounds of butterfat she could be withdrawn from the test and this was done in order to get her ready for another R. M. test the requirement of which is 850 pounds of butterfat within a specified time. Her recent test is not quite complete, however, and will not be unless she drops for her owner a living calf which event is expected about March 23.

Empress Dorothy, by her record, is not only entitled to a silver medal, awarded a cow under five years with a record of 535 pounds of butterfat, but also wins the gold medal, the reward for a mature cow producing during the test 700 pounds of butterfat.

Mr. Altman has five other cows on test, including Empress Lass of Ingleside, who has made 10,750 pounds of milk in ten months. She is expected to complete the year with 750 pounds of fat as a senior two-year old, which will make her also a silver and gold medal heifer with a very remarkable record.

These Altman Jerseys were prize-winners at the International Livestock show in 1920.

TOWN AND FARM COOPERATION.

To the Editor Gresham Outlook:—At the close of the most successful Farmers' Week that has ever been held in this part of Oregon, I feel that the farmers and merchants are coming to realize more fully the need of one for the other. The wonderful spirit of cooperation, as made manifest during the past week, is proof of this. And we must recognize the need one for the other.

"A Fly in the Ointment."

There is one place, however, where we, as farmers and townspeople, are not doing as well as we should to help to keep our money in OREGON and help to make our HOMELAND prosperous and this is a question of "Potatoes." A few days ago I was surprised to learn that there are merchants in this part of Multnomah county that are supplying their customers with "cull" potatoes that were shipped in from another state. THIS IS NOT CO-OPERATION.

Just what the motive behind such business I do not know, but we all know the result. Their customers get skinned of out their good money and the potato growers here are deprived of that much of their market.

I believe that it will pay the merchants to use their utmost effort to see that the sale of outside cull potatoes is kept off the market here, for it must be plain to all that merchants in a farming community that would help to bankrupt the farmers would themselves be on a poor road for prosperity.

A BOOK FOR VALENTINE!

My lady of the Valentines is lovelier by far
Than mountains, hills, or little streams,
Than dawn or evening star.
Now should I send her candy, perfume,
Or violets,
Why, those are just the silly things
That every lady gets!
I cannot cut my heart out to send her wrapped in gold,
I cannot send her kisses,
For distance makes them cold.
So I shall send a story book, as long as it can be,
And all the time she's reading it,
Perhaps she'll think of me.

Hard Boiled.
The black-haired waitress, very much out of sorts, sailed haughtily up to the table at which sat the grouchy customer. She slammed down the cutlery, snatched a napkin from a pile and tossed it in front of him.
"Then striking a furious pose—
"Watcha want?" she snapped.
"Coupla eggs," growled the customer.
"How ya want 'em?"
"Just like you are."

Getting By.
When a lady who was "burning up the road" on the boulevard was overtaken by a traffic officer and motioned to stop, she indignantly asked:
"What do you want with me?"
"You were running forty miles an hour," answered the officer.
"Forty miles an hour? Why, officer, I haven't been out an hour," said the lady.
"Go ahead," said the officer. "That is a new one on me."

COUNTY COUNCIL P.-T. A. HAS GOOD PROGRAM

The annual program, given by the County Council of Parent-Teacher associations last Friday evening in the union high gymnasium in Gresham, was composed of numbers furnished by the various districts in the county. The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Mary Parsons of Troutdale. The many events which took place last week kept many from attending who would otherwise have been present but there was a fairly large attendance present.

Among the numbers on the program was an exercise by four girls and a solo by Mrs. Graham from the Pleasant Valley school. Corbett was represented by an unusually long reading; by Lillian Nelson and a piano solo by Belle Reed. Gresham came next on the program and was represented by a talk on "Citizenship" by C. M. Quicksall, principal of Gresham grade school, and two numbers by the Girls' Glee club. Miss Mildred Kummel of Lynch honored the audience with a piano solo. An additional musical number by the Lynch boys was amusing. Victory district furnished readings by Alton Douthitt and Miss Faye Lord. Mrs. Scott and Miss Faye Parsons, representing Troutdale, sang a duet, and a piano solo was also given by Mrs. Lou Harlow. Buckley school had two numbers, a reading by Miss Gladys Hulise and a song by Miss Carolyn Hessemer. The numbers by Gilbert school won much applause which consisted of songs by a trio composed of Leona and Evelyn Siemy and Kenneth Lord, and a piano solo by Miss Frances Byers.

The County Council of Parent-Teacher associations plans to give a special program each year.

Stapleton Honored with Pleasant Surprise.

Judge and Mrs. G. W. Stapleton were pleasantly surprised last Friday evening when they returned home from a dinner party held that evening in honor of Mrs. Stapleton at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haley. When Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton returned home they found the house filled with people. The surprise was gotten up by the Gresham grange in honor of Mrs. Stapleton's birthday. She was presented with a blossoming white cyclamen plant by Mrs. George Leslie in behalf of the grange. The evening was spent with music and cards.

Those present were pleased when shown the silver engraved plate which has recently been presented to Judge Stapleton by the Progressive Business Men's club of which he was president last year. The plate bears his name as president, the name of the club and the date, 1922. It was presented to him when the new president was elected for this year.

Refreshments of birthday cake, punch and wafers were served. Those present besides the host and hostess and daughter, Miss Georgie, and their special guest of the evening, Mrs. D. L. Houston of Portland, were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ruegg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. George Sleret, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parsons, Miss Faye Lord, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haley, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Thorne and daughter, Betty, and Mr. Thorne's sister-in-law, Mrs. C. F. Thorne of Stanfield, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brugger, Miss Anna Brugger, Mrs. L. T. Lusted and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hornecker.

THE THREE-MILE LIMIT.

As is well known this government exercises the same jurisdiction and authority on the sea within a three-mile limit that it does upon the land. This has come to be a principle of international law accepted and observed by all civilized nations.

It is claimed this law is a purely arbitrary limitation; that it was promulgated by a Hollander named Bynkerschoek; that when advocated by him the range of a shore gun was about three miles. Hence this was fixed as the limit of a country's authority along its ocean shore line, as it was the extent of its power to police and defend.

Today the range of our shore guns is 20 miles and more.

The United States then could and should defend itself against the malicious attack of rum fleets along its shores for their attacks amount to nothing less than a form of warfare. We mean, of course, by use of all legitimate policing and protective powers.

If reports are correct rum running vessels have repeatedly gathered off the New Jersey coast close to the three-mile limit. At one time there were 14 rum vessels reported near Ambrose Lightship and that these vessels were visited by many small boats from the shore.

At this time the American people cannot be expected to be patient with far-fetched legal technicalities while impudent criminals snap their fingers at American sovereignty while in sight of the American shore.

GRESHAM STUDENT IS HONORED AT U. OF O.

Joe Peak, freshman in the university from Gresham, was among the 24 freshman who as members of the frosh football team, were awarded sweaters and numerals by the class at a recent meeting.

In past years members of the frosh squad who played in the required number of games were awarded numerals, bought by the class. The class this year established a new tradition and bought neat, blue sweaters with "1926" emblazoned in large figures on the chest and awarded them to the football heroes.

Peak played consistent ball for the frosh gridsters last season and aided them in defeating the O. A. C. rock eleven in the annual clash between the two institutions.

The Sensational Rise of Chevrolet.

The most discussed automobile on the market is Chevrolet which in less than a year's time jumped from seventh to second place in current registrations and yet promises in 1923 sensational developments in the market.

This car has been on the market about seven years but not until the fall of 1921 was it regarded at all seriously as a contender for leadership in the low-priced field.

At that time a new line of models was brought out embodying important engineering improvements, high-grade bodies on all closed models and prices ranging from $525 for the touring car to $875 for the 5-passenger Sedan (later reduced to $860).

The Chevrolet motor had always enjoyed an excellent reputation and the added improvement caused a rapid increase in demand that resulted in a shortage of supply that persisted all during 1922 in spite of double shifts and plant enlargements.

The new models announced in October included marked improvement in design and some added equipment at no advance in price.

About this time it was announced that new assembly plants were being built at Buffalo, Cincinnati and Janesville, Wisconsin, also new body plants adjoining the automobile manufacturing plants at Buffalo, Cincinnati, Flint, St. Louis, Janesville and Oakland, thus giving Chevrolet the largest high-grade closed car capacity in the world.

Inasmuch as the demand for closed cars of all makes has of recent years always exceeded the supply at least part of the year, this new Chevrolet capacity is very important, because as is well known in the trade, closed car business goes to the concern that can make the quickest delivery.

The practical measure of the remarkable progress of Chevrolet is told by sales figures for the last two years. In 1920, up to that time the motor industry's best year, Chevrolet marketed 153,646 cars. In the bad year of 1921, sales fell to 71,969 cars. 1922 rolled up the splendid total of 243,000 sales, and production schedules for 1923 are said to be about double the 1922 sales.

Oh! How Could You!
A henpecked little man was about to take an examination for life insurance.

"You don't dissipate, do you?" asked the physician. "Not a fast liver, are you?"
The man hesitated a moment, looked a bit frightened, then replied in a small piping voice, "I sometimes chew a little gum."

Close Enough.
Pat was the man who did all the odd jobs about the place, and owing to petty thieving his employer instructed him to get a good yard dog. Pat was out all day, and in the evening came home with a dachshund.

"What on earth have you brought along, Pat?" queried his employer.
"Well, sir," said Pat, "he's the nearest I could get to a yard dog—he's two feet ten inches long."—Pathfinder.

REALIZATION

The Tug of War in business activities will be found by the young man, to be surprisingly strenuous. There will be times in his career when he will feel that nothing can save his business from getting out of balance, from going over the mark. It is then that he begins to realize the value of counsel and advice from a good bank, something that will steady the line until he can secure a new footing.

Our intimate acquaintance with business conditions and developments acquired through 17 years in the banking business in Gresham enables us to co-operate most understandingly and helpfully with local business men.
