

PACK PRODUCTS CO. IS MAKING ICE CREAM; SALE BIG

Delicious ice cream, made by the Pack Products company in Gresham, has come to be very much in demand, notwithstanding the fact that the plant has been putting out this commodity but one week. Those who have sampled it say that it is of excellent flavor and superior quality and they are unanimous in their approval. The first freeze reached the market Friday afternoon and the total output for the week has been 325 gallons.

The services have been secured of an expert ice cream maker, J. Marriage, recently from North Dakota. He had hoped to take a little time to try out the new, modern equipment of the Gresham plant before plunging into the work of making ice cream on a large scale, but the demands were so great that there was no time for experimenting. The very first freeze proved the value of the new apparatus, where the cream is placed for about 12 hours, when it is thoroughly hardened and has a peculiarly fine, velvety texture. This is said to be the first plant on the Pacific Coast to adopt this method and it is attracting the attention of ice cream manufacturers far and near.

This ice cream is made from sweet cream and sweet milk furnished by local dairymen and is handled locally exclusively by Glen H. Davidson of Davidson's Pharmacy.

The new ice cream will be known as the Van Heller brand. This is recognized as one of the leading brands in the east. The Gresham company is licensed to use it and is bound by the conditions to maintain the high standard of the original Van Heller brand.

NEW FIRM BUYS DRY GOODS STORE

An important local business deal was consummated this week in the sale of Bishop Brothers' dry goods store to L. A. Wack and W. R. Hicks, who will continue the business under the firm name of L. A. Wack & company.

L. A. Wack comes from McMinnville, Oregon, where he has for 13 years been manager for one of the oldest department stores in the Willamette Valley. Mr. Wack is an up-to-date merchant, having had 26 years experience in the dry goods business both in the east and on the coast.

W. R. Hicks, who is financially associated with the new firm, will not be locally active. Mr. Hicks is one of the many well known representatives for the J. V. Farwell & Co., wholesale dry goods firm. As Mr. Hicks' headquarters is in Portland we expect to see him quite often in our city.

AGED WOMAN PASSES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Mary F. Cleveland died at her home in Gresham on Friday night, May 18. Although she has been in failing health for a number of years, she was confined to her bed but a few days.

Mrs. Cleveland was born in Ireland about 90 years ago. She emigrated to Canada in her childhood with her parents and came to Oregon in 1882, settling in Gresham. She is survived by two daughters and a son, Mrs. Annie Bower and A. J. Krider of Gresham and Mrs. Mary J. Davidson.

Funeral services were conducted at the house on Monday forenoon by the Rev. J. H. Wood, an aged friend of the deceased for many years. Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Miss Martha Hagberg, Mrs. E. W. Aylsworth, Guy D. Jones and Leslie Walrad. The interment was in Mt. Scott cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the friends who have assisted us and shown sympathy during the last illness and burial of our mother, Mrs. Mary F. Cleveland, and the gifts of beautiful flowers.

PRIZES FOR ANIMAL STUNTS AT COUNTY FAIR

H. A. Lewis has announced that prizes amounting to $10 will be given the boy or girl putting on the best animal stunts at the coming county fair July 31 to August 4. Whether this will be all in one prize or will be divided into two or three prizes is not known.

This should start the boys and girls training their animals for the occasion. A pig can be taught to do some funny things, but the most likely winner will be a dog or pony.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER PROGRAM PLEASURES

It was an appreciative group of mothers and daughters which filled the seating capacity of the auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church last Friday evening to listen to inspirational addresses and beautiful musical numbers. High ideals of home life were held up by the speakers, and it was made plain that while methods of work change from generation to generation and the complexities of modern life brings great difficulties the principles of virtue, honesty and unselfishness abide the same and these should be well established in the home in order that social, religious and political life should be on a high plane.

The evening closed by the serving of light refreshments, which consisted of delicious brick ice cream made in Gresham by the Pack Products company, cookies made for the occasion by Mrs. J. R. Cavanagh, and punch.

OUTLOOK PRINTS FIVE NEWSPAPERS A WEEK

The Outlook office, always busy, has been unusually so during the past two weeks on account of taking on the composition and printing of two weekly newspapers the size of the Outlook. This makes, including the two Outlooks, five newspapers each week for the local printing office. The three are edited and published by others for various east side districts of Portland.

Besides the newspapers, the Outlook office issues three fraternal publications, two of them monthlies and one twice a month.

BOY DROWNED IN JOHNSON CREEK

One would scarcely think of a drowning accident occurring in Johnson creek but that is the sad fate that befell Donald Belmore near Bell station on Saturday.

Donald, ten-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Belmore, 6804 East Sixty-second avenue Southeast, waded out into the creek beyond his depth and before his boy companion could summon help was drowned. All possible effort was made to resuscitate him but without success.

DEATH COMES AS RELIEF TO SUFFERER

After years of illness and patient suffering, death came as a relief to Benjamin F. Watkins, who passed away at his home on Sunday afternoon, May 20. For ten years he had been in ill health but for the past nine months he has been an almost constant sufferer. He is survived by his wife, Eugenia Watkins, four brothers and one sister. They are M. K., Albert W. and James A. Watkins and Mrs. Jennie Smith of Philomath, Oregon, and N. E. Watkins of Eddyville, Ore.

Mr. Watkins was born in Knoxville, Marion county, Iowa, in 1859. He came to Oregon in childhood and lived in Benton county. As a young man he moved to Grant county where he lived for 30 years and then moved to Portland. He was a member of Troutdale Masonic lodge and Order of Eastern Star.

Funeral services were held at the Gresham Masonic hall, where the Eastern Star funeral ritual was used and a brief service was conducted by the Rev. A. S. Hisey. Interment at Mt. Scott cemetery was in charge of the Masons.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the friends who have been so kind in many ways during the long illness of my beloved husband, B. F. Watkins, for the favors shown by Masonic lodges and Eastern Star chapters and for the profusion of flowers. EUGENIA WATKINS.

GUARD COMPANY MAKES RECORD MOBILIZATION TEST

A telegram was received by Company Clerk W. E. Stratton of Headquarters Co. 1st Battalion 186th Infantry last night at a little before 6 o'clock ordering the company to report at the local armory as soon as possible after 8 o'clock and stating that 60 per cent would constitute a satisfactory showing. All the men in the district, excepting those away on leave for various reasons, reported and were in place at the armory at 8:03. Their showing was 75 per cent. Major Libby, battalion commander, reported with the headquarters company. The other officers were 1st Lieutenant C. G. Schneider and 2d Lieutenant Dave Evans. The men were held under arms until 11. They spent the time drilling and maneuvering.

Orders like the one received here were sent from the office of the adjutant general to all the other 33 national guard companies of the state and caused some concern, as the object of the mobilization was not known. It was later explained, however, that it was a test of the efficiency of the various companies.

The headquarters company will leave on June 16 for a two-weeks' encampment and drill at Camp Lewis. Applications will be welcome.

GRESHAM PHOTOGRAPHER WILL QUIT ACTIVE DUTIES

Gresham, Oregon, May 22, 1923.—Editor Outlook:—It is with a certain amount of regret and yet with a decided sense of elation and gladness that I feel compelled to state that I have decided and positively succeeded in closing out, in fact, in absolutely selling my very lucrative business of photography.

Prompted by a sense of approaching old age and its correlative, nervousness, I have aimed to express the wish of my numerous and eminently beloved patrons to take the above step, lest in the future I might be less able to come up to and remain at my high standing as a first-class artist in the photographic line.

Now this is to thank my many patrons for their great patronage and also to add that my successor, a Mr. Hardy of Seattle, is a worthy representative of an excellency in the photographic line. In fact, good, superlatively good, work will be his slogan in the future.

Once again, dear friends of Gresham and vicinity, farewell, God bless you for your appreciation of my work and the patronage you have given me.

Mrs. Schneider as well joins me in bidding farewell to our many and beloved friends. It is her aim as well as my own conviction that the preservation of "good health alone stands paramount" in this dreary world.

We shall prepare to depart for my "otium cum dignitate" about June 15.

God bless you all!
MAXWELL SCHNEIDER.

PACKERS GIVE HINTS TO BERRY GROWERS

Officials of the Berry Growers Packing company have addressed an open letter to strawberry growers in which the following instructions are given:

As the time is near when the strawberries will start to move, a few suggestions are timely as to picking and handling:

Do not mix different varieties. Do not pick knotty or bird-pecked fruit.

Pick often to prevent having over-ripe fruit. Take out both shipping and cannery crates and pick all good stock in shipping crates until given notice to pick for barreling. You understand that shipping berries are picked a little on the green side and barreling berries must be fully colored. You should call for some crates now.

Keep berries dry and in the shade and use a cover cloth to exclude the sun and dust in delivery.

Stamp all shipping crates with your Grower number (if you have not received your stamp call at the cannery for it). Also mark the variety on the end of the crate as follows: G. D. for Gold Dollar, O for Oregon, M for Marshall, Mag. for Magoon, Wil. for Wilson, C for Clarks, No. 89 for Etterberg 89. We want all of the No. 121 Etterberg delivered in cannery crates for barreling to fill an order we have taken of 10 tons and we think it will take all of this variety to fill this order. We want the berries of this variety well ripened and we want you to let us know before you start picking so as to have all of this variety delivered at about the same time by the different growers so that they can be barreled together as these berries go into a separate pool. It is claimed that these berries will keep in good shape on the vines for a few days after they are ripe and if so this will admit of larger picks and will make the picking cost less to you. It is also claimed that this berry can be readily hulled in the picking and if this is true, if you can deliver them in good condition with the hull off we can allow you 1c per pound extra. This together with the extra cent per pound that this berry is sold at will make you $40 per ton extra which I am sure you will appreciate. Do not forget to let these berries get fully ripe before picking.

See that all berries are honestly packed and that each hallock in the shipping crates contains an equal amount of fruit as near as possible and that the crates average 10 pounds of fruit.

If any members need posts for berry sheds we can supply them, as we have secured a supply of choice cedar posts of different lengths that we can sell cheap. If you will need camp supplies, tents, camp stoves, spring beds, etc., please place your orders early as we only figure to fill orders for these supplies.

On the question of harvest help, if you have any friends anywhere that you can induce to come and help with the harvest you should let them know and do all you can to help supply yourself and we will do all we can here. We can supply you with circulars and you can send them to your friends and probably they could pass them on to others who would want to help. Please do all you can to help in this matter as it is of great importance to all of us.

Workmen Make Record.

What was considered a record in that kind of work was made recently in road work near Gillis, when W. L. Rhoads, Lewis Miller and Albert Quay shoveled 100 yards of gravel in six and a half hours.

Musical Activities

The mandolin and guitar club had last night its second practice with the teacher, Senor M. Palacios, of Portland, and progress was apparent on the part of those who have taken up this interesting line of music activity. The practice affords both private and class instruction on the mandolin and guitar. At present there are three mandolins and three guitars. All are practically beginners. Several others have indicated their desire to join the club and some are arranging for instruments and private lessons. A good start can be made this season and it is hoped to have a large club by next fall.

The annual meeting of the Musical Arts club will be held early in June, which will practically end the music activities for the two or three summer months, but plans will be made for the coming year. It is hoped all singers and musicians will enroll as members and so far as possible will plan to attend the annual meeting. The dues covering the year to June 1924 are one dollar and should be paid to the treasurer, Miss Frieda Bratzel or Miss Florence Honey, the secretary.

FAIR COMMITTEE LAYING PLANS FOR HISTORY PAGEANT

A well attended and lively meeting of the Better Fair committee was held at the library last evening and plans for a monster Oregon historical pageant for the last day of the fair were tentatively made.

Mrs. A. L. Rose, pageant specialist, who has been directing these superlatively attractive in various places, was present and outlined to the committee the conditions and possibilities of a fine pageant here at fair time. She convinced the committee that it could be done and would be a splendid attraction. In fact, it is thought this can be made a great annual event. The location is ideal and if held in connection with the fair it will be a great attraction. The committee believes this can be made for this part of Oregon what the Round-up is for eastern Oregon or the great Wayfarer pageant for Seattle.

The committee will meet again on Thursday evening, May 24, on the fair grounds at 6:30, to look over the grounds and lay out plans for the various entertaining features which it will further. Later in the evening the committee will meet with the fair board to make more definite arrangements.

Those present at last night's committee meeting were, F. N. Lasley, J. P. Lynch, B. E. Bolce, C. E. Gossett, E. I. Calkins, Alta Gentry and R. H. Confrey.
