

LOCAL GUARDSMEN WILL GO TO CAMP LEWIS SATURDAY

The Headquarters Company 186th Infantry will leave tomorrow morning on the first train to Portland, where they will join other companies and proceed to Camp Lewis where the entire 41st Division will be mobilized. The division is made up of the troops from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana and it is expected that 10,000 men will be in camp. The 41st Division won marked distinction in the Great War and this is the first time they have been mobilized since then.

The character of the work to be done at this summer camp will be largely school work, though there will be one night maneuver. This will be the first time the division has ever been mobilized for instruction.

Schneider and Second Lieutenant David B. Evans. The non-commissioned officers are First Sergeant Ellsworth Raker, Staff Sergeant Cleveland Bliss, Sergeants Jas. R. Horr, M. J. Allhouse, and E. W. Stratton; Corporals Fred C. Chalker, Jackson F. Jones, Carl Soderquist, Walter V. Sweek and E. R. Wedin. Other men who are in line to go are Ray Adams, Alex Adams, Ernest Brugger, Herbert C. The Gresham business men have undertaken to raise a mess fund of at least $2 for each man in the organization.

The officers of the company expressed deep gratitude for themselves and on behalf of the men, for the courtesy shown them.

The camp this year will be the most interesting and instructive of any yet held, according to Adjutant General George A. White, who expects to have at least 2200 Oregon men in attendance.

Oregon cities to be represented are Portland, Hood River, Gresham, Tillamook, Woodburn, Salem, Silverton, McMinnville, Dallas, Corvallis, Lebanon, Albany, Eugene, Toledo, Newport, Cottage Grove, Roseburg, Medford and Ashland.

Oregon units that are a part of the 41st division are the 162d infantry, 166th infantry, Battery A, 148th field artillery, 167th field hospital, Company A, 116th engineers and the various headquarters and staff corps detachments.

J. R. Martin has been requested by the American Legion to act as a committee of one to assist the merchants and business men of the city in their plans for adequate window decorations for July 4. He will be ready to cooperate with any who wish assistance and hopes to get plans under way early.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

The annual Children's Day program will be given by the children of the Methodist Sunday school next Sunday evening beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. The program is one of great attractiveness, with a fine assortment of costumes of bright colors, representing the seasons, and the nature life of spring. A silver offering will be taken which goes into the student loan fund of the church.

The campaign for the funds for rebuilding the church is progressing well, and will probably go beyond the $3000 mark before Saturday night.

The pastor, the Rev. A. S. Hisey, will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning. The topic of the sermon will be "A Girl Who Served." The hope of the world is its childhood, and only as children are made better than their parents can the world be set forward.

The Epworth League devotional topic will be "Preparing for Christian Citizenship." Mildred Metzger will be the leader.

The presence of Bishop W. F. Oldham in Gresham on Wednesday evening, June 20, will be an event of unusual interest. A great man, who has done great service in two continents, Bishop Oldham has the power to present his experiences in vivid and gripping language. Gresham will be indeed highly honored to have as its guest this great man of God.

Former Gresham Boy Marries Portland Girl

A wedding of especial interest to many Gresham people took place on Wednesday evening, June 12, in First Methodist church South, Portland, when Miss Hermion Darling became the bride of Glen O. Rusher, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rusher of Gresham. Dr. Harper, pastor of Corvallis Methodist Church South, performed the ceremony in the presence of nearly a hundred guests, many of whom were from Gresham.

Miss Myrtle Rusher, sister of the groom, was maid-of-honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Alta Taylor and Miss Mary Stanton of Portland. Ray Forest of Corvallis was best man. Two little nieces of the bride were flower girls. Her brother, Delos D. Darling, gave the bride away.

There were many reminders of college days in connection with the wedding. Dr. Harper is the chaplain of the Delta fraternity to which Mr. Rusher belongs. There were present 14 of the Tau Delta boys, among them being the best man and the ushers, and Hokan Truedson, who, with Mrs. Ray Siderious of Portland as accompanist on the piano, played the wedding march from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional. Miss Elenor Whitson of Portland sang "O Promise Me," and "Perfect Love."

The bride was beautiful in a simple white satin gown. She wore a veil with lace bandeau and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia and bride roses and maiden hair fern tied with white satin ribbon. The maid-of-honor wore turquoise blue taffeta trimmed in gold and black metal lace. The bridesmaids wore green and pink Georgette.

Following the ceremony at the church a large number of friends of the bride and groom gathered at the home of Delos Darling on 18th and Belmont, where a reception was held. This was a jolly occasion, filled with singing and merriment. College songs were in evidence and one was written expressly for the occasion. A wonderful collection of gifts was on display. A buffet luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Rusher left immediately for a wedding trip to California. On their return they will make their home in Albany, where their house is all ready for their occupancy. Mr. Rusher has a large interest in the Smith-Bowly Manufacturing company and is employed for the Southern Pacific railway company.

Gresham people include on the invitation list were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rusher and family, the Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Hisey, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair and Chase St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Walrad and Leslie Walrad, Miss Helen Hoss, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McCurtain, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ruegg and Carroll Heslin of Fairview.

MRS. JACK STAFFORD IS INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. Jack Stafford was knocked down and severely bruised at the fountain corner in Gresham yesterday by an automobile driven by Ferdinand Floss of Corbett. She was rendered unconscious and was carried at once to the office of Dr. A. W. Botkin where it was found that her wounds were apparently flesh wounds. No bones were broken, and unless some internal injury develops Mrs. Stafford will soon recover.

Mr. Floss was put under arrest by Justice of the Peace John Brown and was deprived of his license to drive, indefinitely. There seemed to be no cause for the accident excepting his inability to handle the car, as he was driving slowly and there was plenty of room for him to have made the turn around the fountain without hitting the pedestrian crossing Powell street, according to those who witnessed the accident.

PLEASANT HOME

Fire destroyed the house of Irvin Neibauer on Saturday shortly after noon, together with practically all its contents. A piano and two sewing machines were saved but all other furniture, clothing and supplies were lost. There was no insurance. Neighbors and friends have been assisting the family with the necessary things and on Monday evening Multnomah grange, through its home economics committee, will hold a miscellaneous shower for the benefit of the family. The Methodist Ladies' Aid will do some sewing for the children, of whom there are two, a boy 2½ years old and a girl 5. Mr. and Mrs. R. Neibauer, parents of Irvin Neibauer, who make their home with their son, lost all their belongings.

There will be no choir practice at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening of next week on account of the visit of Bishop Oldham at the Gresham Methodist church, whom many wish to hear. The choir will hold a strawberry social on Friday evening, June 22. Children's Day services will be held on next Sunday morning.

The Control of Disease.

At the recent meeting of the County and City Health officers, held in Portland, there developed one problem, and that none were able to solve that seemed to be common to all to successfully cope with; the securing of reports of contagious and reportable diseases. Upon this one event depends the successful control and prevention of those diseases capable of being transmitted to other individuals, of reaching epidemic proportions, and of causing widespread suffering and some loss of life.

The moral obligation of good citizenship should be the only incentive necessary to assure the performance in a satisfactory manner of the prompt reporting of all cases of transmissible diseases to the proper health official. This sounds good in print, but is apparently void of practical application, and is not sufficient to inspire men to cheerfully respond to those tasks imposed by legislative action. If it were so the enforcement of the Volstead Act would not be the most perplexing problem confronting our politicians today. Some form of supervision seems to be necessary to urge delinquent humanity to perform his ordinary duties and moral obligations. This is true of all classes in which is included our doctors.

To secure reports is the function of the city and county health officers. The degree of success will depend upon the time and energy put into the task. The county and city health officers receive from $100 to $1000 per year. They are dependent upon their private vocations for their bread and butter, and to expect a physician or any other type of individual to give a great portion of his time for $100 at the sacrifice of himself and family is absurd. This is not intended as an excuse for the health officer. If he does not expect to assume the obligation of the office he should not accept it for such an absurd sum. The idea is to express the absurdity of the system of part time public service. Nothing short of full time service on the part of physicians and nurses can be regarded as approximately adequate protection for the public. "Comparisons are odious." For the protection of life and property we maintain sheriffs, police forces, and armies. We need them, too. But the greatest murderers and squanderers of life, health, happiness, and poten-

HONORS ARE WON BY 34 STUDENTS OF UNION HI SCHOOL

Principal R. E. Cannon reports that the year's work of high school has been checked and all but a few entries have been made. After averaging the grades it was found that 34 were honor students. In order to be an honor student in the senior year a student must average 90 per cent or better during the four years of his work, show success in high school activities, have qualities of leadership and manhood or womanhood and must be loyal to the school. In the other three classes an average of 90 per cent is required in the subjects carried in their respective years.

Honor students for this year are: Freshmen—Airlie Bartell, Harvey Brown, Wilma Davies, Harold Dye, Wilma Fensk, Glenn Full, Dora Hoffmeister, Harriett Holmes, Helen House, Louise Howard, Orville Johnson, William Keenan, Emma Langford, Helen Laudan, Lillian Markwart, Sarah Metzger, Helen Plants, Irene Schweitzer, Myrtle Soderquist.

During the summer, C. E. Rusher, the janitor, with the assistance of others, will make many improvements in and around the buildings. It is planned to install a much needed fire alarm system. A roadway around the main school building and gymnasium will be constructed, bordered with a concrete parking. The present auto sheds are to be moved to the rear of the agriculture garden and a parking place laid out where the garden now is. A new septic tank is planned to supplement the one now in use and a lawn will be graded and made in front of the new gymnasium. The heating in the bungalow has never been satisfactory and repairs will be made so that no classes will be dismissed on account of the cold. The over-crowded commercial department is to have new quarters in the old gymnasium.

The school officials and others feel that with the above and other improvements the best school plant in the state will be in the best possible condition for the opening of school next September 10.
