REPUBLICAN "SPLIT" JUST TALK.

All this talk about a possible disruption in the republican ranks over the proposed world court plan is pure buncombe. It is agitation for political reasons and is without any good foundation.

Arthur Sears Henning, in the Chicago Tribune, recently covered the facts and possibilities in regard to the effect of the world court idea on party unity quite thoroughly and he concludes with this statement:

"Just as the president does not believe in coercing congress, he does not believe in dictating to the republican national committee. He does not demand that the committee espouse the world court proposal in the absence of a party mandate to do so. He is trying to convince his party that it should endorse his world court plan in convention next year."

TURNING DEFICITS INTO SURPLUSES.

When the second complete fiscal year under the Harding administration ends June 30, it will close with a cash surplus well in excess of $100,000,000.

That the estimated deficit has been transformed into an accumulated surplus is due to the business administration of President Harding and his executive associates. They were able to put into practice their business ideas because of the budget act, which was one of the first laws passed by the last republican congress when called into special session by President Harding.

The budget law made possible the splendid fiscal administration of President Harding, but it cannot be over-emphasized that the budget law did not make such an administration imperative. There is no truth in the argument that now that the law is on the books it little matters which party is entrusted with its administration.

No system of government can be efficient unless it is directed by men who are efficient. No law can bring about reforms in financial administration of the government by the mere fact that it is upon the statute books.

VENDORS OF NARCOTIC MUST REGISTER

One of the very important, although little discussed, functions of the internal revenue bureau is the enforcement of the restrictive measures designed to curb the traffic in narcotic drugs.

"Application for this registration must be made annually on or before July 1, and at the time of registering or re-registering, applicants must file an inventory showing all the narcotic drugs in their possession," said Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, today.

Mr. Huntley urges all registrants to expedite the filing of their applications in order to avoid the possibility of delinquency on their part and also to prevent a congestion in his office on July 1.

better lubrication at half the price

If you could get better lubrication with high-priced oils in return for the fancy price you pay, well enough—but the superiority of Zerolene in each of the following tests has been demonstrated repeatedly:

- 1. Zerolene follows closely the changing clearances of the moving engine parts; it maintains perfect piston seal always.
2. Zerolene absorbs less gasoline than other oils; it resists dilution and emulsification in the crankcase.
3. Zerolene forms less carbon; it cuts carbon removal operations from 25% to 50%.

The reason is this: Zerolene is produced from selected Western Naphthenic-Base Crude, and vacuum-distilled by the exclusive high-vacuum process developed by this Company.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.
