PLANS MATURING FOR CELEBRATION

The plans for the big celebration at Gresham on the Fourth now being worked out by the various committees of the American Legion Post No. 30 are elaborate and give promise of a glorious time.

The announcements already broadcast over the county name three big events for the forenoon, the parade starting at 9:30, the ball game at 11 and the program of music and speaking at 11:30. Then will come the picnic dinners, followed by the general sports and the horse racing from 2 to 5. The day will end with a grand ball given in Masonic hall by the local Legion post.

A Portland band will dispense patriotic and entertaining music during the day.

A noted speaker will deliver the oration and local talent will furnish vocal music.

The ball game will be between Gresham and Sandy teams.

Parade Big Feature.

The parade is scheduled to start at 9:30 from the school grounds on west Powell. The route will be east on Powell to Main, north on Main to Division, east on Division to Roberts avenue, south on Roberts avenue to Powell, west on Powell to Main, north on Main to the fair grounds.

The parade will comprise the following divisions: commercial, private, civic, fraternal and other organizations, comics and bicycles. Silver cups will be awarded for best in first two divisions, with $10 cash in each as second prizes. Liberal cash prizes will be awarded best in each of the other divisions, with honorable mention.

Kenneth Roberts is chairman of the parade committee and entries should be reported to him as early as possible. He can be called on phone 1361.

Program of Sports.

During the afternoon there will be all kinds of sports for the boys, girls and others. O. A. Eastman, for the committee on sports says there will be foot races for boys and girls, a fat men's race, a hundred-yard dash, a men's race, between Sandy and Gresham, and numerous other sports. There will be grased pole climbing and a bicycle race. Liberal prizes will be awarded in each of the events.

MULTNOMAH POMONA HAS INTERESTING SESSION

A well attended and interesting session of Multnomah Pomona grange was held with the Columbia grange at Corbett on Wednesday, which was presided over by Master R. W. Gill. Degrees were conferred on 37 candidates by the Pomona degree team. The floor work was in charge of Past Master J. J. Johnson and was supplemented by a beautiful tableaux put on by a committee from Evening Star grange under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Kelly.

The Pomona went on record as in favor of the income tax bill and the oleomargarine bill as passed by the last state legislature, and urged all to support the measures. The income tax bill will come up before the people in November and the oleomargarine bill a year later. A motion was passed constituting a committee to make a systematic canvass in favor of this legislation, which shall be made up of the lecturer and three others appointed by him, together with the master of each subordinate grange with four others appointed by him.

James G. Kelly, who represented the Pomona at the state grange, made an interesting verbal report of the same.

Among others who took part on the program were the new state master, George Palmiter of Hood River, who outlined his policy in the conduct of the state grange; M. C. Glover, state overseer; Past Master B. G. Leedy. Mr. Leedy was invited by the Washington state grange to confer the sixth degree on candidates at the next meeting of the Washington annual meeting. He reported that the organization will be held in Vancouver.

Several members from Sandy grange were present at the meeting, also Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered of Oswego grange.

Great praise was given the members of Columbia grange for the splendid meals served at noon and evening and for the fine program of musical and other numbers which they gave.

The next meeting of the Pomona will be held with Rockwood grange in September.

Will Continue Nursing.

Mrs. Harriett Timmerman wishes to announce that she will continue nursing under the supervision of Dr. H. H. Hughes and Dr. Geo. Inglis at her home on Fifth street near Roberts avenue, Gresham, and the home will be open to calls day or night. Phone Gresham 1861.

NEED OF CLEAN-UP ON FAIR GROUNDS

The Outlook has no word from headquarters regarding a clean-up of the fair grounds but thinks it is high time something was started. The matter will be brought to the attention of the business men at the commercial club meeting next Monday night and announcement will be made next Tuesday of an evening for this work, which will likely be next week.

The citizens should take a special pride in having the grounds in good condition. Many outside of the city who are interested in the fair and grange field day should assist. All local people especially should be interested in putting the grounds in presentable condition in view of the events soon to be staged there.

First will come the Fourth of July celebration which is only about ten days off. Then on July 21 will be the Farmers Field day and ten days later the county fair.

It is reported the auto camp grounds are in poor condition, the little cook house is unusable and little or no convenience is afforded campers, yet a fee of 50 cents is charged there. This situation has aroused considerable comment.

It is expected the subject will be carefully considered by the commercial club and all interested are invited to participate.

Berry Growers Are Given Important Instructions

The management of the Berry Growers Packing company has sent out general instructions and items of general and special interest to the growers of the vicinity in the following letter from headquarters:

As the season is near when picking will start and we must have the space cleared of shipping crates in the cannery, we ask you again to call for the double-deck shipping crates and the large No. 15 cannery crates, especially the loganberry growers, as we must have the cannery space cleared.

These crates must also be used exclusively for the blackcaps and all red raspberry growers should take out a few of these crates to pick the early berries in and either sell them in the fresh fruit market or bring them to us for sale. The early berries will bring a good price and as there is not enough to start canning on you will understand the need of this order, but as soon as the berries move in sufficient quantity we will start delivering to the other canneries and start our own cannery. Then you must deliver in our No. 15 cannery crates and if you have a surplus of the shipping crates please return them for credit so that others can have them to use.

As you will understand with our 325 grower members a surplus of 325 crates with each member means 1000 crates that should be in use. You should get your camps ready now and get your pickers on the job so as to avoid getting behind with your picking, as to get the best price you must pick the berries at the right time. The bright red firm berries are what are wanted for canning and shipping.

If you get more inquiries for picking jobs than you can use, please turn them over to us and we will try and place them with other members. All members who have not engaged pickers enough should report to us at once as we have many pickers listed who are awaiting assignments. Please do so at once.

As the Starr Cannery will not be ready to start canning raspberries for a few days, all of the above named growers should come to the cannery at Gresham and take out double-deck shipping crates for the early berries and you should either sell them in the fresh fruit market or bring them to us at the cannery at Gresham. When you come for the crates we will explain the sale plan.

The following members have been assigned to make deliveries direct to the Starr Fruit Products Company at Portland in Starr crates: R. Durschmidt, A. V. Folkman, C. Jorgensen, J. F. Jaeger, R. J. Williams, D. Shannon, J. L. Nelson, E. W. Liden, Wm. Sorensen, C. Gesme's ranch (F. McGrath), I. N. Skeie, I. Gabrielson, E. Arnsperger, Fritz Swanson, C. H. Blanchard, A. Blatchford, A. H. Wohler.

All are invited to attend and are assured the program will be well worth any special effort which may be put forth to enjoy the service.

Farmers' Field Day Coming.

The date for the Farmers Field Day this year is set for Saturday, July 21, and the event will be held on the fair grounds as usual. Preparations are being made for this annual farmers and grangers picnic which has been so well attended in the past.

The Molalla band has been engaged for this occasion and also for the county fair. Other details of the program will be ready for announcement soon.

COUNTY P.-T. A. PLANS ITS FAIR ACTIVITIES

The executive board of the Multnomah County Council of Parent-Teacher associations met yesterday afternoon at the library in Gresham to formulate plans for their picnic and Parent-Teacher association booth at the coming county fair. Representatives of the Portland council met with them.

The picnic will be held on Tuesday evening of fair week. The regular meeting will be held in the afternoon and the picnic supper will be at 6:30. The County Council will furnish coffee and cream. Patrons are asked to bring lunch, cups and silver. This arrangement enables all to attend the pageant in the evening.

A booth has been planned in the club building where mothers may be comfortable and rest their children. Hostesses will be provided for each day during the fair week. On Tuesday all members of the P.-T. A. will be asked to register, and badges will be given so that all may be recognized. It was decided to have signs made to show where the P.-T. A. booth is located. The association voted to buy a family ticket for the use of the hostesses.

OFFICIAL RETURNS GIVE MULLENHOFF ELECTION

The official count of the election for school director for Union High School District No. 2 for five years showed H. G. Mullenhoff of Orient district elected with a large majority. His votes throughout the union district were 100, that of his nearest opponent, H. G. Andrew of Terry 46, while E. P. Schodeen of Hillsview received 38. Both Hillsview and Orient gave their entire vote to their local candidate, while Terry, the home of Andrew, gave their candidate 20 and turned the other 19 votes to Mullenhoff.

In the local election in the Terry district J. Allen Young was elected clerk to succeed himself, instead of J. R. Cavanagh, as was erroneously stated in the last Outlook.

At the meeting of the high school board held last week two new teachers were elected for the coming year, Miss Helen E. Ankorn of McMinnville, science teacher; and Miss Ulala M. Stratton of Eugene, for foreign language.

MISS GLADYS HARMON HONORED BY SHOWER

A very unique and enjoyable affair of recent date was the shower given Thursday evening by about 20 members of the choir and young peoples class of the Baptist church for Miss Gladys Harmon, whose marriage to Vern Radford will take place Sunday. The residence of Rev. and Mrs. D. Q. Barry was the setting for a well planned program.

The evening's entertainment consisted of appropriate readings by Miss Marie Blom, a duet by Miss Elsa Sharp and Miss Clara Mason, dainty refreshments of Gresham ice cream and cake, and a well carried out mock wedding, which was a surprise to the honor guest.

Miss Marie Blom, as the bride, wore a lovely white gown and an "old lace" veil fastened with a bandeau of mock orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of bride's roses and white carnations.

Miss Floella Jacobs as maid of honor and Miss Gladys Sharp as bridesmaid wore appropriate gowns and carried rose bouquets. Clara Mason as groom, Elsa Sharp as best man, and Fern Burton as bridesmaid's escort were realistically dressed in suits befitting their part in the affair. Josephine Clow was characteristically dressed as ring bearer and carried out her part, even to the dropping of the ring. Doris Brown played the wedding march from Lohengrin. The wedding ceremony was performed under a beautiful bower of roses and ferns. Mary Wold, in clerical attire, officiated. The whole party tried to convey to Miss Harmon the difficulties she would go through.

Another novel event of the evening was the shower. Lights switched on and off gave the appearance of flashes of lightning, while thunder was produced on the bass notes of the piano. During a period of darkness gifts were brought in and when the shower was over, they were presented to Miss Harmon. She received many beautiful gifts.

COUNTY INSTITUTE IS INTERESTING OCCASION

The institute of the Multnomah County W. C. T. U., which was held in the W. F. Honey grove yesterday, was well attended and an interesting program was carried out. A delicious dinner was served at noon by the Gresham Union.

H. A. Lewis, president of the Multnomah County Fair, was the principle speaker. He expressed his appreciation of the cooperation of the women's organization in the efforts to bring about better moral conditions and financial returns for the fair.

The county union voted unanimously to be responsible for the sale of 500 season tickets to the fair. The rest room in the main building and the checking window will be in charge of the organization, as heretofore.

A vigorous protest was voiced as to the manner in which the trial of roadhouse operators have been conducted and the secretary was ordered to express the same to District Attorney Myers and Judge Hawkins.

The local Union presented a check for $63.70 to the county president to be applied to the Children's Farm Home, this being the amount raised by the recent bazaar and the sale of articles.

Effect to Cause.

Mother—"Hey Jimmy, what's all the racket up stairs?"

Jimmy—"Faw just threw his heavy underwear in the hall."

A few words will tell the whole story in the Want Column.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH MAKES ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Bible school will convene at 9:45 as usual. At 11 the pastor, the Rev. D. Q. Barry, will preach on the theme, "A Series of Discoveries." The choir will sing "Ivory Palaces" by Henry Barraclough. The B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7:15 and at 8 the annual Children's Day program will be presented. This will consist of recitations and musical selections by the children and a special number, "The Children's Praise," Wilson, by the choir. Several musicians from the White Temple are expected to assist in the program, giving five or six special numbers.

All are invited to attend and are assured the program will be well worth any special effort which may be put forth to enjoy the service.

Farmers' Field Day Coming.

The date for the Farmers Field Day this year is set for Saturday, July 21, and the event will be held on the fair grounds as usual. Preparations are being made for this annual farmers and grangers picnic which has been so well attended in the past.

The Molalla band has been engaged for this occasion and also for the county fair. Other details of the program will be ready for announcement soon.

GOSPEL TEAM AT METHODIST CHURCH

An attractive feature of the services at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday will be the presence in the evening of the Portland District Gospel Team of the Epworth League. The team will meet with local Epworthians for a basket lunch at 5:30 in the fair grounds, at which they will hold a conference on League matters, and conduct the devotional program. They will use the evening church hour for a live and interesting evangelistic service. The young people are specially invited to attend and help with these services.

The morning church service will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. A. S. Hisey, who will administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Opportunity will be given those desiring to unite with the church to come into its membership, and transfers from other churches will be announced.

The Gospel of Mark earned by the pupils of the Daily Vacation Bible school will be awarded through the Sunday schools. These little volumes are embellished with some beautiful, colored pictures, and will be highly prized by those receiving them. The girls were the winners in the contest, as they enrolled a larger proportion of their number than the boys.
