PRESIDENT'S VISIT FIXES EYES ON STATE

The eyes of all throughout the nation's broad expanse will be fixed as never before on Portland on Wednesday, July 4, the 147th observance of the declaration of independence by the American colonies.

The reason for this centering of attention on Portland and Oregon will be the visit of the nation's chief executive and the first lady of the land, together with a large party of national leaders and their wives. Among the celebrities in the presidential party are Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of the Interior Work, each with his wife, speaker of the House Giffert, and Rear Admiral Rodman.

This is said to be the sixth president to have honored Portland with a visit and this will probably be the largest presidential party to be the guests of the city in its history.

On Tuesday the president will participate in the dedication of the old Oregon trail at Meacham in the Blue mountains. He will arrive in Portland early Wednesday morning.

Portland and Oregon is highly honored by this visit of President Harding, especially on the nation's birthday. The president is to participate in the festivities of the celebration and deliver the patriotic oration at 2 p. m. at Multnomah Field. The address will be radioed throughout the coast states and will doubtless be picked up by the more powerful stations everywhere.

The speech will be heard by those at the grandstand on the fair grounds at Gresham. Plans for this are being made by Floyd L. Mack.

The program of the features in which the president will take part in Portland is given below.

9:00 a. m. Arrival of Presidential party at Union depot. 9:15 a. m. General parade. President will address 2000 school children and 1000 boy scouts during the parade.

2:00 p. m. President will deliver his annual Independence Day address at Multnomah Field. Amplifiers will be distributed throughout the Field so that everyone will be able to hear the President.

4:00 p. m. Airplanes circling the city in all directions.

4:00 to 7:00 p. m. Regatta and aquatic sports on the river, in which the officers and men of the division of nine destroyers of the Pacific fleet of the United States Navy and of the British Cruiser "Curlew" will take part. The city will be profusely decorated; the streets, business houses and public buildings.

Evening. General illumination of the city on a most elaborate scale, including several hundred search lights, electric fountains, electric roses and other effects.

At Dusk. Magnificent display of fireworks on the shore of Guild Lake, of which the public will have an uninterrupted view from the old Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds and from the hills. This will be the greatest display of fireworks in the history of the city.

10 p. m. Departure of President Harding for Tacoma.

ROCKWOOD WATER DISTRICT ORGANIZED

Certificates of election have been issued by the circuit court to the commissioners of the Rockwood water district and a meeting for organization was held last week by the commissioners.

The commissioners are, B. E. Boice, C. L. Haynes, George Barr, Wm. McKee and F. A. Arata. The board organized with B. E. Boice as chairman, Dr. C. L. Haynes as secretary and Geo. Barr as treasurer. George Johnson was employed as attorney for the district.

Mr. Boice says it is the plan of the board to go ahead with the development of the district and engineers will be employed to make the preliminary surveys and estimates.

There has been much opposition to the formation of this water district and it is stated notice of appeal from the court decision has been filed.

The district is a large one and includes much farm acreage which it is claimed by the opposition does not need or desire the water system and it is claimed cannot bear the added expense of installation of a city water system.

A Queer Place—America. "What's that noise," asked Pat, newly arrived in New York and visiting at Fort Hamilton, when the sunset gun was fired.

"That's sunset," answered a native. Pat—"Holy Moses, and does the sun always go down with such a racket in this country."

OREGON STORMS GENTLE BREEZES IN COMPARISON

Once in awhile, say a few times a year, there is a lightning flash in this part of Oregon and a distant roll of thunder echoed from mountain range to mountain range, but nothing like they have it elsewhere.

For instance, those who have sought refuge from the sweltering heat and blinding electric display of the prairie states to the east delight to show the Outlook office the report in newspaper or letter of the terrific thunderstorms of regions from which they emigrated.

R. W. Stafford hands the Outlook a recent copy of the Libertyville (Illinois) Independent in which is the following account:

"Caught in a terrific electrical storm which broke Monday night, three of America's foremost trap shooters were stunned by lightning when they sought shelter under their overturned boat at Pequot, Minn. The men are M. Troch, Vancouver, Washington; Jay Graham, Long Lake, Illinois, and Frank Hughes, Moberg, South Dakota.

The three men were on a fishing trip when the storm broke. They drew their boat up on a strip of land and crawled under it. They were knocked unconscious when a bolt of lightning struck a tree near by.

The three men were not seriously injured but had two such close escapes that they are still unnerved.

Mrs. Benj. H. Davies, of Grey Eagle, Minnesota, has written her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair, that a recent cyclone struck Long Prairie and other nearby places but did no damage in the immediate neighborhood. A terrific electric storm raged, however, from 8 o'clock in the evening until daylight, with constant flashing of lightning and booming of thunder.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL TO JOIN CELEBRATION

Announcement has been made that the annual Fourth of July picnic of the Community Council, representing the Pleasant Home, Lusted and Cottrell neighborhoods, has been postponed until later and the people of those communities will cooperate with the American Legion boys in the celebration in Gresham.

His Words.

Uncle George (dying)—All right, Parson, if I die, I will forgive that nigger, but if I get well, that nigger better make hisself scarce.

PRESIDENT WARREN G. HARDING

Our Flag—What It Stands for, How to Treat It

Symbol

"The flag of the United States symbolizes that freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which our forefathers sacrificed their lives and personal fortunes. Today this flag represents a nation of over 100,000,000 free people, its Constitution and institutions, its achievements and aspirations.

"The national flag represents the living country and is itself considered as a living thing.

Pledge

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Salute

"During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in parade or review all persons present should stand at attention facing the flag. Men's heads should be removed with the right hand and held at the left shoulder. Those present in uniform should salute with the right hand. Women should stand at attention facing the flag or as the flag is passing in parade should salute. If the national anthem is played and no flag is present all stand at attention and salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining the position until the last note of the air is played.

Anthem

"The Star-Spangled Banner" is recommended for universal recognition as the national anthem.

Flag Law.

"There is but one Federal statute which protects the flag throughout the country from desecration. This law provides that a trademark cannot be registered which consists of or comprises, among other things, the flag, coat of arms or other insignia of the United States or any simulation thereof. (33 Stat. L. p. 725, Feb. 20, 1905.)

Display

"The flag should be displayed from sunrise to sunset only or between such times as designated by proper authority on national and state holidays, and on historic and special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

"When carried in a procession with another flag or flags the place of the flag of the United States is on the right.

"When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs the flags of the United States should be in the center or at the highest point of the group.

Platform

"When used on a speaker's platform the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor drape over the front of the platform.

"When used in unveiling a statue or monument the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

Church

"When the flag is displayed in church it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman, with the service flag, state flag or other flag on the left wall. If in the chancel the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation."

Don't

Do not dip the flag of the United States to any person or any thing. The regimental color, state flag, or

FOUR GENERATIONS HONOR MRS. STEPHENS

Mrs. J. A. Stephens of Pleasant Home, head of a large family of descendants, was the guest of honor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. C. Altman of Ingleside Jersey farm on Sunday, June 24, when members of her family and friends gathered to celebrate her 73d birthday.

Mrs. Stephens, who is the widow of Iven D. Stephens, veteran of the Civil War, came from Ohio to Oregon in 1871 and settled in Pleasant Home. For 18 years they ran the postoffice and general store there. Twelve children were born to them, nine of whom are living. Mrs. Stephens has twenty grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Four generations were gathered and a photograph was taken showing Mrs. Stephens, her son C. W. Stephens, her granddaughter, Mrs. Walter G. Cooper and her great-grandson, Walter G. Cooper, Jr.

Children of Mrs. Stephens present on this occasion were C. W. Stephens of Harney county, Mrs. B. C. Altman of Pleasant Home, Mrs. James Fitzgerald of Boring, Mrs. Ed. Wolters of Auburn, Washington. Grandchildren were Mrs. Walter Cooper, Wilbur and Dale Altman, Dorothy, Bobby and Louise Fitzgerald, Edna, Edward and Arlyn Wolters. Three great grandchildren, Walter, Evelyn and Ellis Cooper were present. Others at the celebration were B. C. Altman, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Altman, Jas. Fitzgerald, Walter Cooper, W. A. Cooper, Mrs. Florence Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Mitchell and son, Ed. Wolters, Mrs. Hillery and Mrs. Short. A sumptuous dinner was enjoyed. Mrs. Stephens received many tokens of love and esteem.

Biographical Sketch of Dr. Wm. C. Schultze

Dr. Wm. Chambers Schultze died at his home in Gresham, Oregon, Thursday, June 28, at 7 p. m. Dr. Schultze was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1839, and came to this country at the age of 12 years. He graduated from Lafayette College, Caston, Pennsylvania, in 1865 and Bellevue Medical College in 1867. He located at Marango, Iowa, in 1868, and practiced medicine there 40 years. He moved to Oregon City in 1906 and has since resided in Oregon City and Portland, removing to Gresham six months ago. He was a Phi Beta Kappa and a member of the Masonic lodge.

Dr. Schultze is survived by his three children, Mr. W. S. Schultze of Gresham, Oregon, Mrs. H. C. Wright of Husum, Washington, and Dr. F. P. Schultze of Portland, Oregon.

The funeral services were held at the crematorium in Portland, Saturday, June 30, and were conducted by the Rev. A. A. Morrison of Trinity church.

The Puzzling Thing.

Visitor at the hotel, to the chambermaid: "Look at these boots, one larger than the other."

Chambermaid—I see, and the queer thing is the lady next door is in the same fix.

GRESHAMITES VISIT CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Several Gresham people visited on Sunday the grounds of the state Camp Fire Girls, situated in a beautiful cedar grove on Eagle creek in Clackamas county, four or five miles beyond Eagle Creek station. Two Gresham Camp Fire girls, Helen Hisey and Lillian Nelson, were encamped there in company with more than a hundred other girls from Portland and other places. Those going from here were Miss Florence Honey, guardian of the local Camp Fire, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair, Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman and Miss Mildred Metzger.

The approach to the camp is difficult, the last two or three miles being over a one-way plank logging road, broken in many places and hard to negotiate. Some drivers ignored the difficulties and the damage to cars and drove through to the camp. Others, among them the Gresham people, left the cars and walked the last two miles. The walking, however, was good and was so timed that the arrival was just as the dinner call was sounded.

Besides the girls in camp there were at least 50 visitors present, who lined up and passed through the cook house, where each was served by the girls on K. P. They passed into the roomy dining tent where long tables and benches were placed for all. The meal consisted of plain, wholesome food, well cooked and satisfying, topped off with apple dumpling a la mode. It was made interesting by frequent outbursts of song by the girls, when typical camp songs were sung.

After dinner an assembly was called and an address was given by Miss Edith "Alaska" Kempthorne, of New York, national field secretary of the Camp Fire girls, who gave a talk on the work of the organization and showed some beautiful work symbolic of Camp Fire honors, including her own ceremonial gown and head band. Miss Kempthorne was charmed with the wonderful trees in which the camp is situated and said they were the distinctive features of this particular camp and that she had seen nothing like it in her visits throughout the United States.

Following the assembly a program of water sports was put on for the benefit of the visitors. The "primer class" demonstrated diving and swimming. More advanced swimmers engaged in a race and the retrieving of a stone tied in a handkerchief and thrown into the middle of the stream. One of the most interesting demonstrations was that of several methods of the saving of drowning persons, and various holds by which they may be brought out of the water.

A number of decorated canoes filled with "water nymphs" took part in a colorful parade and "wood nymphs" danced gracefully on the opposite shore.

Camp life for the girls is methodical. A well arranged schedule is posted and all must follow it. The tents must be kept neat and sanitary and an inspection is given them every day. Besides the sports mentioned above, there are classes in botany, hand craft and camp craft. Some may even engage in a night hike through the woods, where they must clear their own way to a given point.

Mrs. Elizabeth White of Portland, head guardiar for the state, is in charge of the camp, which has been open for two weeks and will be open for girls for two weeks more.

Firemen Want Flowers. Any one having flowers they can spare for the fire department to decorate the fire truck for the parade on the Fourth of July, please notify F. L. Mack, phone 603, and the flowers will be called for.
