

GRESHAM ROSES GET HONORABLE MENTION

A beautiful "honorable mention" prize ribbon has been received from the rose festival by Mrs. Frank Heiney, chairman of the local committee together and arrange the roses of this community in the annual rose contest in connection with the festival. This was won in the rose mountain contest with some of the surplus roses of the committee, and will be placed with the cup at the Gresham library won last year in the rose contest. Gresham roses missed winning the cup this year by a very small margin.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Thursday is Gresham Day at the fair. By vote of the Commercial club it is recommended that business houses close on Thursday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Roy Wood of Marshfield is visiting for a few days with Mrs. Harry Truitt, Mrs. Homer Williams and other friends. Mrs. Wood was formerly a resident of Gresham.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Black have had as guests for a few days the Rev. Herbert Jamison, his wife, Dr. Auleen Jamison and their daughter Jude, of Cedar Creek, Tennessee, in the heart of the southern highlands, where they have charge of a school for the mountaineers and where Dr. Jamison is physician and teacher. She has been speaking at Y. W. C. A. summer conferences and was on the program at Seabeck, Washington, where the family attended the conference before coming to Gresham. Mr. and Mrs. Black entertained their guests with several automobile trips, including one on the Columbia river highway as far as Cascade Locks, and another to Portland city parks. They were delighted with the beauties of this section.

Melvin Allen, the 14-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Myers, died at the home of his parents east of Gresham on last Thursday night, after three or four hours' illness from some unknown cause which threw the child into convulsions. It was supposed that he had eaten something which poisoned him. Funeral services were held on Saturday at the house by the Rev. A. S. Hisey. Interment was in Lone Fir cemetery in Portland.

R. E. Cannon, principal of the union high school in Gresham, returned late last week from Indiana where he went six weeks ago for a visit. Mrs. Cannon, who accompanied him on his visit, will remain for a few weeks longer. They found weather conditions trying, as the temperature was exceedingly high and there was not much respite at night. Mr. Cannon expressed himself as glad to be back in Oregon.

Several loads of berry pickers from the Strong berry ranch enjoyed a picnic on the banks of the Sandy river last Friday and reported a most successful outing.

J. N. Mewhirter has sold his home at the corner of Third street and Roberts avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Alf Nelson, who recently arrived here from North Dakota. Mr. Nelson will remodel the house and put up a building for his law office on the lot adjoining his residence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Altman and Mr. and Mrs. A. McMahon have gone on an automobile trip which will take them around Mt. Hood. They went by way of the Columbia river highway and will return by way of Government Camp and the Mt. Hood Loop highway.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bunting and family came over Sunday from Carver where they are staying for the summer to look after their belongings here. They expect to return to Gresham at the end of the canning season.

Miss Helen Moreland has returned to Portland after spending two weeks with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Moreland. Miss Moreland is a teacher in the Kelso, Washington, high school.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Todd, and grandchildren, spent last Friday at Welches attending the annual picnic. They have spent several days at Zigzag and near Mt. Hood.

E. D. Raker, wife and little son Bobby, left Saturday evening for a week-end outing at Battleground, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. DeSelm of Cambridge, Ohio, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Sterling and Miss Elizabeth Heskett. They were all former neighbors and friends in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller and family have moved from Portland to their summer home on the Section Line road.

Miss Gertrude Alexander has returned from Zig Zag, where she has spent several weeks assisting C. M. Quicksall in the ranger station at that place. Miss Helen Hoss has gone to Wihlon, substitute carrier on route 4, will carry the mail. The change will become effective on August 1. Mr. Gorsage has been on the mail route for the past five years and the change to the office will be welcomed by him.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Beauchamp of Wyoming, formerly of Colby, Kansas, visited with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Larsen on last Sunday. Mr. Beauchamp expects to enter the pastoral work of the Methodist Episcopal church in this conference in September.

Semi-Weekly Letter to Members of The Cooperative Berry Growers.

The harvest season of western Oregon is probably the nearest to perfection of any part of this old earth with its cool nights, cloudy mornings and bright sunny afternoons, making it possible for the harvesters to work up to their full capacities.

The logan harvest is practically finished and the raspberries will soon be all in the cans and barrels. Our Mr. Fisher has demonstrated his ability as a general in handling our vast tonnage without a hitch or a balk and without loss. We would be safe in saying that a world's record has been made in the handling of the largest berry tonnage at a single receiving station, over 1000 tons in 30 days.

The blackberry harvest is now on and we must ask all growers of strawberries, logans and raspberries to return to us for credit at once all the empty shipping crates you have, as we need them for the blackberry harvest. If you fail to return these crates we will be compelled to buy others, and we will not be able to give you credit after the blackberry season is over. So please take notice and return them at once or you will have to keep them and pay for them at the regular price. The blackberry demand seems fair to be good and we hope it will be equal to the supply.

Now a last word about the picnic at the fair on Saturday. You will note in last Friday's Outlook the special program of sports provided by the enterprising business men of Gresham especially for an entertainment. This is in addition to the regular program for the day so we can promise you that from early morning until late at night there will be something doing for your amusement. The sale of tickets is progressing satisfactorily, but we hope all who can will take advantage of the fair board's very liberal offer. And we have been instructed to close out the balance of the tickets at cost. Come in and get information as to prices—get your allotment of tickets and drive dull care away at the Multnomah county fair on Saturday, August the 4th, next.

P. S. Later the fair association has agreed to honor berry growers' tickets any day of the fair so you may attend any day you wish.

Last Raising of the Giese Flag.

In the troublous days of the Civil War Ernest Giese and Elizabeth, his wife, pioneers of the Gresham district, purchased material and made a beautiful flag which they used on their own flag pole to show their loyalty to the Union cause. It was frequently used in patriotic demonstrations in the neighborhood.

One day in April, 1865, the booming of guns at Fort Vancouver aroused the curiosity of the family and Mr. Giese went to Portland to learn the cause. On his return he gathered the family about him and announced the assassination of President Lincoln. "Bring out the flag," he said. It was placed at half mast where it hung until after the memorial services for Lincoln in Portland. It was then taken down and laid away and has never since then been unfurled to the breeze.

SMALL BOY DROWNS NEAR BASE LINE ROAD

Anthony Kramer of Portland, who was with his step father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lish, on the Cowan berry farm as pickers, was accidentally drowned in Beaver creek near the end of the pavement on the Base Line road last Saturday. He was 10 years and six months old. The boy was apparently wading in the creek with other children and stepped into a deep hole. The children ran for help and by the time they arrived the child had died.

Funeral services will be held at the Catholic church at Vancouver, Washington, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery at Vancouver. The body is at J. E. Metzger's undertaking establishment at Gresham.

GRESHAM WOMAN WEDDED DOES NOT CHANGE NAME

Word was received on last Friday from Detroit, Michigan, of the marriage there on Friday, July 29, of Mrs. Violet Thornton of Gresham to L. Clarence Thornton of that city. The wedding was performed by the Rev. Clyde M. Gearhart, pastor of the Atkinson Avenue Methodist church.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. P. A. Gould, was reared to womanhood in this community, and a host of friends here who will wish her happiness in her new home. She has been employed for several months past at the Walrad Mercantile company's store and left on July 16 for the east, accompanied by her little daughter, Eva.

Mr. Thornton has been foreman for the past six years in the electrical department of the Dodge Motor Car company of Detroit. He is a brother to Mrs. Thornton's late husband, Perry M. Thornton, who died here a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton will occupy their new bungalow which has just been completed for them at 1975 La Belle street.
