

NEW BIG PLANT IN PROSPECT HERE

If plans now under way materialize as expected the woodworking plant of the Zwieble Manufacturing company will soon be taken over by a company said to be financed largely by eastern capitalists.

As near as can be learned the intention of the new company is to operate the woodworking plant as it was originally intended and also erect other buildings and start a wool combing plant. The plans are said to call for an investment of several hundred thousand dollars.

It is reported the company has been formed and incorporation papers have been filed and operations toward constructing and equipping the new plant are expected to begin in the near future.

The tract on which the Zwiebel plant stands comprises about five and a half acres in the northwest section of the city. It is ideally located on the electric line with freight connections with the O. W. R. & N. at Fairview. City water is piped to the buildings. It is intimated that drainage will be one of the problems to be worked out as a wool combing plant will require lots of water and good drainage.

The Zwiebel plant has never been brought to a completion, although said to be near it, and lack of funds to finance the starting if manufacture and marketing of its products has kept it at a standstill.

Many Gresham people have made small investments in the Zwiebel plant and will welcome the near prospect of its completion and use.

ICE CREAM COMPANY TO BE REORGANIZED

The Gresham Ice Cream and Ice company, formerly the Pack Products company, is to be reorganized and put upon a stable, paying basis, according to E. A. Pack, former president of the Pack Products company, who is here this week with D. B. Coates of Portland, who are investigating the condition of the business, which they say can be saved from threatened bankruptcy and made a going concern. Mr. Coates is said to be an experienced ice cream manufacturer. He will manage the plant and Mr. Pack will handle the financial interests.

Since leaving here a few months ago Mr. Pack has been in Portland and has organized a new concern, the "Patent Sales Service," with a fully subscribed capital stock of $25,000. It has been incorporated under the law of the state of Oregon and offices have been opened in the Chamber of Commerce building. It is planned to open offices in Los Angeles and Washington, D. C. within the next 60 days. Mr. Pack is president and Mr. Coates vice president and manager.

MRS. ARDELIA P. LYON PASSES AWAY AT SANDY

Mrs. Ardelia P. Lyon passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. L. Shaw near Sandy, on Tuesday, August 21, aged 72 years, 9 months and 10 days. She is survived by another daughter, Mrs. G. J. Burlingame of Tygh Valley and by a son, F. E. Bachus of Fairview.

Mrs. Lyon was a pioneer in Oregon, having crossed the plains in 1862 from Illinois. She lived for a time at Lebanon and also with her daughter at Tygh Valley and came last June to be with her daughter at Sandy. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 60 years.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lyon were held at the Methodist church at Fairview on Thursday afternoon, August 23. Interment was in Douglass cemetery.

Zion Evangelical Church.

The forward movement program of the Zion Evangelical church launched a number of years ago has been gradually taking shape. At a recent meeting the members of the congregation decided to continue improving the church property. Within the near future the church building is to be turned so as to face the street, part of the church sheds will be removed and the remainder repaired and the lot will be drained, filled with dirt and seeded.

The regular services will be held on Sunday as follows: Sunday school for all ages at 10 and preaching services in the German language at 11 o'clock. Anthem by the choir: "My Lord and I." Divine services in the English language at 8 p. m. Solo by Henry Karpenstein: "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled." The pastor, the Rev. H. R. Gebhardt, will preach at both services. The members of the congregation cordially invite all those who have no church home to worship with them.

GRESHAM CAMP GROUND SCENE OF PICNIC

After enjoying the baseball game at Troutdale between the Stevens Athletic club, of Portland, and the Troutdale teams Sunday the following persons motored to the Gresham camp grounds and spent several hours of fun and refreshments: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pelton, Sellwood; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Shurte and sons, Walter and Francis, Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Witbeck and son, Portland; Prof. and Mrs. N. Norton and son, Westmoreland; Dr. Ballard, Kelso, Washington; Miss Ruth Read, Vancouver; M. Roy Shurte, Troutdale; J. W. Coons, Troutdale; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Coons and sons, Troutdale.

Three of the long camp ground tables were set with "good eats" and if anyone left the tables feeling in the least hungry it was no fault of the various cooks.

Later in the evening Professor Norton, ventriloquist, entertained with his doll, "Billy." Many snappy jokes were sprung among the crowd by "Billy," which kept everyone laughing.

"Sour Dough Charlie," who was camped on the grounds, exhibited his "famous Alaskan Huskies" and was amply repaid with a feast of the delicious muskmelons and watermelons grown between Boardman and Irrigon, Oregon, and brought to the picnic by Mr. Shurte.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Snashall, of Gresham, also enjoyed some of the melons.

At a rather late hour the crowd broke up, each expressing hopes for other such parties in the near future.

A family reunion dinner was given at the country home of Mrs. Milo Coons, Troutdale, last Monday. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Shurte and sons, Roy, Walter and Francis, of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Witbeck and son, Portland, Miss Ruth Read, Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Coons and family. The event was also a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Coon's brother, Roy.

GRESHAM DISTRICT NO. 4 HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting for Gresham school district No. 4 will be held in the city hall on Tuesday evening, September 4, for the purpose of determining whether pupils living more than a mile away from the school shall be furnished free transportation. The question of transportation has arisen since the consolidation of Terry district No. 8 with the Gresham district, since all the residents of that district are more than a mile from the schoolhouse. The school board is also calling for bids for the transportation of pupils to be acted upon following the special meeting in case the decision is in favor of free transportation.

Work on the schoolhouse is being rushed and both contractor and architect assure the school board that the class rooms will be in shape for the opening of school on September 17, though considerable work will likely be left for completion after that date on the auditorium and other parts of the building. Some delays have occurred in getting the necessary hardware but it is expected that school work can begin on the date set by the board, which is a week later than the opening of the schools throughout the county.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

The pastor, Rev. A. S. Hisey, will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday, both morning and evening. His morning topic will be "What is Man?" This sermon will deal with the relation of psychology to religion, and especially the matter of hypnotism, the law of suggestion, and the spiritual resources of the human personality. In the evening the topic will be, "Why I believe in Divine Healing."

Special music will add to the interest of both services.

The Epworth League will meet at the usual time, 6:30 p. m. Miss Violet Coe will lead. The topic will be "Echoes from the Institute." Visiting delegations from Boring and Pleasant Home will assist in bringing the spirit and matter from the recent Falls City meeting.

Friday, August 31, the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Powell Valley Circuit will meet in the Gresham church. The conference will convene at 10:30, and continue until about 4 o'clock.

Every day sees new work on the church finished. The basement is well along, windows set, and the concrete work nearly all done. The approach will be well done before Sunday, making the auditorium easily accessible. The work will be nearly complete by the end of the conference year.

Stearns Seen as Factor in Guiding Nation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Frank W. Stearns, the Boston merchant and the new President's closest personal friend, has been referred to as the "Colonel House" of the Coolidge administration. He is expected to play a leading part in shaping legislative programs. Together with William M. Butler, Boston lawyer, and James B. Reynolds, Washington banker who hails from Massachusetts, the three are acknowledged as the new President's closest political advisers. The above photo is a very rare and intimate picture of the inside life of unofficial Washington, taken just before the late President Harding left on his Alaska trip. BOY SCOUTS CLIMB TO TOP OF MOUNT HOOD

The Gresham Boy Scout troop, with the Rev. A. S. Hisey, scout master, and others who accompanied them, have returned from Warm Springs on the south slope of Mt. Hood, where they camped for a week. The big event of the outing was the ascent of the mountain, which they accomplished last Monday under the guidance of Orville Zimmerman, everyone who started reaching the summit. The climb was commenced from the timber line at midnight and the top was reached at 8:40. At 10:10 the return trip was commenced and the party was back in camp at 3 p. m., with everybody ready for a plunge from the new diving board into Warm Springs pool. Afterwards all enjoyed the big stew dinner prepared by Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman, Mrs. J. R. Horr and Mrs. A. S. Hisey.

Those who accomplished the climb were the guide, Orville Zimmerman, Mr. Hisey, J. R. Horr, M. E. Rich, Howard Brown, Carl Zimmerman, Dale Altman, Massao Yishida, Paul and Guy Rusher, George Wadsworth, Jack Dowsett, Philip Wright, Robert Wright, Veal Howell, Horace Whilon, Dick Beadle, James McAllister, Harvey Yates, George McAllister, Orville Johnson and Clinton Chalker.

On Tuesday evening, just as the official "mulligan" was being prepared from the left over food turned in by the boys, the terrific storm of rain, wind and hail struck the camp. While it dampened the fire for a little while, it did not spoil the appetite of the boys who were ready to fill themselves with the delicious concoction as soon as the storm subsided.

POWER IS WITHIN YOU.

By RICHARD LLOYD JONES.
All men have a love of power but not an equal capacity to gratify it. Power is something more than mere energy; it is a directed force. Whatever tension the steam gauge on a locomotive may show, the engine is a lifeless thing without a brain-guided hand to move its throttle.

Power is force under control. The waterfall is wasted energy; harnessed to a wheel it produces mill power.

Concentration is the secret of power. Hitch your energy to some fixed purpose.

To be noble is to be powerful. Negative goodness is never a contributing goodness; positive goodness is. Positive goodness has purpose. Energy put to purpose is power.

This world always makes way for the man of power and he makes room for many. So does real power direct for good.

The men of greatest power are they who give to the world a spiritual rather than a material force.

Napoleon was great because he directed his power to make himself a crowned master of men.

Lincoln was greater because he used his power to make men masters of themselves.

Christ was the greatest because he used his power to spread the glory of the Golden Rule over the world, teaching men that they serve themselves best when they serve others.

His example brings to every man, woman and child the simple lesson that in all the world there is no sweeter thing than a soft and gentle power which unceasingly works for the good of many.

So it is that they who have the most power in the world are they who are most generous in heart.

Power cannot have too gentle an expression, for its opponent is always weakness.

Manhood is measured by the use made of its power.

FORTY CHILDREN IN W. C. T. U. FARM HOME

To the credit of our state be it said that after years of neglect of the dependent child there are now housed in two well equipped cottages of the Children's Farm Home of the W. C. T. U. 40 of such little waifs as have hitherto been condemned to temporary homes, housed in sectarian institutions or sent to daily association with delinquents in institutions established for the care of those who have lost the innocence which is the rightful heritage of childhood.

The Farm Home Board are congratulating themselves upon their good fortune in having secured in the person of C. T. Webb, as superintendent, an ideal father and administrator. With unusual grasp of the need of the work undertaken, and high ideals of the mission of the Home he has been able to organize the family collected from many counties and as many kinds of surroundings into a real family and home life. The motto of the Board, "A Real Home on a Real Farm," is rapidly being made a reality.

Not only are humanitarians of the state becoming more and more interested in the project but hard headed business men are regarding it as one of the most foresighted business enterprises, planning as it does to develop those who might soon become an economic liability into a distinct economic asset. Governor Pierce in a recent letter to the Farm Home office says: "I want to assure you that there is no greater work going on in Oregon than the work you are doing."

The two first cottages will be formally dedicated September fifth and a general invitation is extended to all readers of this paper to go to Corvallis for this event. The pressing need for additional buildings, that the many children for whom applications are being made in increasing numbers may be housed in so great that appeals are being made for "dedication gifts" in the hope that such will enable the management to meet this need. Inasmuch as building that cannot be enclosed before the rainy season begins must be delayed until spring, no time is to be lost. It will be wise to send gifts direct to Portland Farm Home office, 615 Stock Exchange Bldg. These will be presented at the dedication. If preferred they can be brought or sent to the Home at time of dedication.

Pullmans at the Arctic Circle.

A Pullman vestibuled train now runs almost to the Arctic circle, according to the Pullman News. The several cars are operated by the U. S. Government railroad, the equipment having been purchased from Pullman company.

"The line runs from Seward and Anchorage on the coast to Fairbanks and Nenana in the interior," says Pullman News, "and is patronized by old 'mushers' and 'sourdoughs' who used to travel over the snow behind 'huskie' teams or poled their way on turgid streams. Even the Indians will surrender the price of a prime beaver skin for a berth, and this usually causes the porter some worry as the white men do not care for the close proximity to unaromatic lo."

"The porters have had to modify their accustomed formalities to suit local conditions and traditions. For instance, some grizzled 'musher' boards the train with wet socks and boots. At a roadhouse he would hang his socks on the stove over night and place his boots underneath. As a substitute the porters hang wires over the heaters in the day coaches, from which are suspended the pedal gear of the passengers."

"This train also carries a lunch counter diner with stools, the prices being about 25 per cent more than in the average Alaskan restaurant."

HIGHWAY CELEBRATION AT ESTACADA, SEPT. 3

Estacada is planning a big celebration for Labor day, September 3, in recognition of the completion of the paved highway to that city.

The plans include a parade, free barbecue, sports, ball game, boxing, dancing and a general good time.

A queen contest is now on which will close Saturday night, Sept. 1.

Estacada is to be congratulated on the event of the improved highway and may well make it a red letter day in its history. With the great hydro-electric development work of the P. R. L. & P. on the upper Clackamas, running into millions of dollars, Estacada should benefit by a considerable boost to its population and business.

Many Gresham people will doubtless attend the Labor day celebration at Estacada.

Federal Ownership a Colossal Blunder

"The railroad question is no theoretical problem," said the late President Harding in an address. "When the government undertook operation during the war and standardized wages and was caught in the sweeping current of mounting cost, it created a situation to ignore which would quickly develop a national menace. At an awful cost we learned the extravagance and mounting burden of government operation. Yet there are today very insistent advocates of government ownership. Frankly, I do not share their views. Our political system has not reached a state of development when we can insure proper administration."

"I believe it would be a colossal blunder which would destroy initiative, infect us with political corruption, create regional jealousies and impose incalculable cost on the public treasury. But we must find a solution of the rate problems and the necessary expansion of facilities and find that solution in spite of the prejudices of the present-day sponsors for operations and the present-day destroyers, else government ownership and operation will become an accepted necessity. Nor do I share the views of those who would lower rates without regard to railroad good fortune."

Gospel Meetings.

The gospel meetings which have been in progress at the Gresham grange hall during the past week by W. R. Ruddock of Los Angeles, California, will be continued another week. Good audiences have been in attendance and much interest is manifested. The services each week day will begin at 8 o'clock in the evening and on Sunday evening at 7:30. Following are the subjects for the week which have been announced by Mr. Ruddock:

Sunday, "How a D. D. Got Saved." Very real.

Monday, "The Brazen Altar and the Golden Altar Types of Christ." Illustrated.

Tuesday, "The Rainbow with Its Seven Colors Giving the Sevenfold Glories of Christ." Illustrated by a chart. Bible students and every Christian should hear this.

Wednesday, "The Three Appearings of Christ, or the Passion and Patience and Power of Christ." Very much needed truth.

Thursday, "Will the Christ Go Through the Tribulation, is the Coming of Christ Pre-Millennial?"

Friday, "The Four Mysteries of the New Testament."

Free Methodist Church.

Services at the Free Methodist church next Sunday will consist of Sunday school at 10 o'clock, preaching at 11 in the morning, song and praise service at 7:30 in the evening and preaching at 8. Because of conditions it has been deemed best to withdraw plans for tent meetings and plan to hold special services later. All are welcome to worship at this church. The Rev. E. D. Blackman is pastor.

JUSTICE COURT HERE TRIES MANY CASES

John Brown, justice of the peace for Multnomah district, is gaining quite a reputation as a dispenser of justice and is trying many cases of local origin and some brought here from a distance. Mr. Brown has a reputation for fairness and careful attention to all court business.

Among the recent cases was a state case against Les Hunt, a resident of the Bushmark hotel, Portland. He was arrested last Wednesday and brought before Justice Brown, charged with selling booze. He pleaded guilty and was fined $150.

Marshal Merriell Bacon of Cornelius and Chief of Police A. W. Mills of Forest Grove appeared as witnesses against him. These authorities had been after Hunt who is said to have followed fairs for the past several weeks. They located him Saturday night but were unable to procure a warrant in Portland.

Since Hunt was found in this county a complaint was sworn to by Willard M. Houston, state prohibition officer, and the case was brought to Gresham for trial.

Hunt is said to have been on the grounds at the Multnomah county fair where he had a small concession which was closed by order of Marshal Cox who claims he put Hunt off the grounds.

Another recent case before Justice Brown which resulted in a small fine was that of Emmet Coleman, of Portland, who was arrested in company with a woman named Mrs. L. T. Anderson. Coleman, who was said to have been driving a car for hire car, was charged with drunkenness. He pleaded guilty and was fined $20.

It is alleged Coleman ran off the road near Linneman station and damaged his car badly. He was brought here and placed in the city jail overnight and Mrs. Anderson was taken to the hotel. The next morning Mrs. Anderson made her get away, although her statement of the circumstances had been previously taken by Justice Brown.

Another man and woman, who are said to have been in the car with Coleman, disappeared following the accident.

FOUR BY YOUR CLOCK.

If you have a clock with Roman numerals you will notice that the hour of four is indicated by four straight marks, not IV the ordinary Roman numeral. The reason for this, though oft stated, is little known. It is explained by S. A. Pope in an article on time pieces in the August Southern Pacific Bulletin.

In the year 1364, a Dutch inventor by the name of DeVick built a tower clock much superior to anything preceding it for Charles V of France. It was a crude, cumbersome contraption with only one hand and was wrought from iron. Instead of the pendulum control of its power, it had what was known as a verge and balance escapement, taking a horizontal motion.

History records that clocks hitherto had been shut up in monasteries, but now they began to be used for common convenience of cities. In connection with this clock, the following anecdote was handed down. The King ordered DeVick to make this clock for the Palace Tower and when the work was finished DeVick reported to the King, who, wishing to find some fault with it, told its maker that the hour of four o'clock should be indicated on the dial by four vertical strokes (1111) instead of the Roman numerals IV.

"I fear your Majesty is wrong," replied DeVick.

"I am never wrong," said the King. "Change it immediately."

From that day to this, it is said, when Roman numerals are used on clock or watch dials, the King's own version has been followed.

History of the Watch.

The prehistoric cave man used a grass rope, which he knotted, dampened and set afire. As it slowly burned it recorded the passing of the day.

First sun-dial, 742 B. C.

Twelve-hour sand glass of Charlemagne, 807 A. D.

Time candle of wax, King Alfred, 900 A. D.

Oldest clock; placed in a turret opposite Westminster Hall in London, 1288, during reign of Edward I.

Tower clock built by Dutch inventor, DeVick, in 1364; real ancestor of the modern timepieces.

First portable clock, or "watch," was constructed by Peter Henlein, young locksmith of Nuremberg, in 1504.
