Official paper of the Town of Gresham. Official paper of the Town of Fairview.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

It's what we do thoughtfully that counts most for ourselves and others.

Try to make work a pleasure, recreation a strength, reading and worship an uplift and life a joyous upbuilding.

To show an honest intention to do right, though failing, may not add to one's capital but it adds to one's credit.

A little word, a little deed,
May not appear to count at all,
But when the column is added up
The life's grand total will not be small.

A lot of things in life could be simplified to advantage. For instance, the calendar, the clock dial, the tables of weights and measures, our methods of eating, sleeping and dressing. Think of the time and bother a more simplified method of spelling would save. Often our business methods and teaching methods are slow and cumbersome. There is still much room for improvement in the common affairs of life. But we are bound by tradition and custom and hampered by prejudice and lassitude.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Next week, October 7 to 13, will be fire prevention week—what every week ought to be. But by proclamation of the governor and special effort to spread information and awaken interest it is hoped to arouse more than usual interest in the subject.

The governor's proclamation even asks all churches, schools, civic and municipal bodies to join in exercises and in all ways possible help to educate the people to the importance of doing all possible personally and as communities to lessen fire hazards.

That there is need of such a campaign is evident to all who read and think.

In the United States last year 15,000 persons were burned to death, the equivalent of one every 35 minutes.

The fire loss in the United States last year amounted to over half a billion dollars, approximately $5 per capita. Oregon's loss was $9,000,000, or $11.25 per capita.

This loss we are told is borne by the people who pay insurance premiums, not by insurance companies.

Reduction of fire loss would mean reduction of premiums.

It strikes us as most fitting that fire prevention week should come at this time of year as the risk when house fires are started with the coming of fall weather is undoubtedly great.

Three things are of first importance: See that chimneys, pipes and stoves are safe; see that moss is cleaned from the roof and rubbish from the premises, and, lastly, eternal vigilance.

WILL BE GREATEST AMERICAN MONUMENT

The center of interest for American Masons will very soon be located at Alexandria, Va., just across the Potomac from Washington, D. C., where on November 1st will be laid the cornerstone of the magnificent George Washington Masonic National Memorial. This splendid structure, which will be one of the most imposing memoials on the continent, will cost approximately four million dollars, and to this building and maintenance fund Masons from every state are contributing.

The design for the meemorial is taken from those of the ancient towers built by Greeks and Romans to mark the entrance to their harbors and on whose summits great flaring beacons lighted the way of the mariner at night.

The architects say of it: "The great tower of the memorial represents to the world at large the guiding spirit of Washington in statesmanship and his revered precepts which for all time will set an example by which the Ship of State may direct its course."

It is expected that the ceremony will draw together the greatest assemblage of distinguished Masons in the history of the country.

That great machine, looking like a silver coated fish, slowly traveling through the air above New York, was a warning to the six millions of that city, and the whole country.

In the morning, with the sun obscured by clouds, the air giant was barely visible. Had the captain chosen to go a few thousand feet higher, it would have been absolutely invisible.

Such a traveler coming out of the misty dawn, above the edge of the ocean, would first make itself known by dropping enough bombs to destroy New York, enough deadly gas to kill three-quarters, of the inhabitants.

The next war will be an air war. This country should be ready for it.

Outlook want ads will bring buyer and seller together cheaply and quickly.

Timely Comments

By Arthur Brisbane.

The United States built a giant dirigible, in England. It fell, killed 62. Another, built in Italy, fell, killed 34. Last week, the United States Zeppelin, ZR-1, built here, by the American government, flew over New York and started for Philadelphia, having first traveled 100 miles over New Jersey. Those who think the government can't do anything and must always hire private assistance, take notice.

Yesterday you could buy a thousand million marks for $100. In 1914, one thousand million marks were worth $250,000,000. German money, then worth two and one-half million dollars, is worth $1 now. That's what war does when you lose. But that won't discourage the next war-like nation.
