ADVERTISING Rates reasonable. Our representative will call.

Official paper of the Town of Gresham. Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Many a man when he loses his heart loses his head also.

The way of many a transgressor today is hard-surfaced.

The only time to knock is when the door between you and your fellowman is closed.

Perhaps the speed fiend who shot J. Salzman, traffic officer, near The Dalles on Sunday was one of those escaped convicts.

If you make of life an interesting game to be played, with your fellows as partners, with a definite goal in view, you will get a great inspiration that will make each day a pleasant one.

Of course, the game must be played according to certain necessary rules and you must "play fair."

This is Better Homes week in Portland and Gresham should benefit from an overflow of sentiment and publicity on the subject if not in other ways.

One feature is a word contest based on the statement of the late Warren G. Harding as follows: The home is the cornerstone of our civilization.

Governor Jack Walton has called the Oklahoma legislature to meet in special session on October 11.

His proclamation calls on the legislature to enact laws to protect the state against "lawless marauders and mobs and secret organizations."

The leader of the insurgent legislators has called the legislature to meet on October 17 in special session to impeach the governor.

More fireworks are looked for in Oklahoma.

It will be a great relief to Governor Pierce doubtless and will certainly be to many voters to learn that they will not have to vote on the recall measure on the November ballot.

There probably were not enough signers, or the change in wardens, or something induced the sponsors, whoever they are, to hold up the recall at this time.

It is said the voters will have an opportunity to vote on it later. Well, we should worry. Conditions may change materially in the meantime.

One of England's great men, who piloted the British ship of state through the trying years of the world war, Ex-premier David Lloyd George, is on American soil for the first time.

He was given a cordial though rather demonstrative reception in New York last Friday and is now in Canada where British subjects will give him a hearty welcome.

He is called the little Welchman but has exerted a large influence in determining the policies of his country especially as they have been related to world affairs.

The Portland postoffice has been granted authority by the postal department to employ 41 additional men as carriers and clerks.

Postmaster Jones says will greatly improve the handling of mail, both city and general distribution. This will be welcome news to many in this locality who have believed the Portland mail service unnecessarily slow.

The increase was made upon a request submitted last June by Postmaster Jones in which he gave figures showing Portland's increased volume of business in recent years, her growth in population, number of school children in the city, postal receipts, etc.

Jones considered the requested addition to his staff necessary in order to keep his postal service up to standard. The increase in Portland, it is said has amounted to 15 per cent over the preceding year.

It isn't so much fun being a democratic governor in a republican state even with the supposed backing of the K. K. K. Pressure brought to bear on Governor Pierce through the threatened recall and agitation of the press has induced the governor to fire Warden Smith—at least the warden was forced to resign—and A. M. Dalrymple has been appointed. It is stated the appointment is temporary.

If he makes good perhaps it will be permanent. He is said to have had no prison experience but is a democrat and was prominent in the democratic organization in the last campaign. Incidentally it may be noted that if the governor was willing to go outside of his party and wanted a really good man, a man with years of penitentiary experience in states where the management of penal institutions has been a notable success, he could find such a man near Gresham in the person of O. N. Ford, now manager of the Portland Gun club.

The Outlook does not know whether Mr. Ford would accept such a position if offered him but believes there are few if any men better qualified by experience than is Mr. Ford.

Just Like That. Crabby Diner—"Well, if this is chicken, I'm an old fool." Sweet Young Waitress—"Quite right, sir. It's chicken."

One way of judging the wheels in a man's head is by the spokes in his mouth.

LEGIONNAIRES WILL PAY PORTLAND A VISIT

Two special trains filled with legionnaires and their families will arrive in Portland this month, one on October 12 and the other the following day, according to word given out by legion department headquarters in Portland.

The Minnesota contingent will arrive the first day to be followed by Wisconsin Legion men. The specials will be bound for the San Francisco National convention of the American Legion, October 15-19.

The legion's state transportation committee, headed by Phil Jackson of Portland, have made arrangements for entertainment and a tour of the famous Columbia River highway. It is likely that greetings will be extended by Governor Pierce and Mayor Baker, and a big parade held on the downtown streets of Portland, as prize bands and drum corps are coming with both delegations.

Mayor Nelson of St. Paul, Mayor Leach of Minneapolis and Lieutenant Governor Collins of Minnesota will be with the Minnesota contingent and prominent men will also be among the Wisconsin legionnaires.

Civic and fraternal bodies and the Wisconsin and Minnesota state societies will be asked to assist in arrangements for a gala reception and entertainment for the visitors.

Preparations are now well under way for the Oregon legionnaires who are planning to attend the National convention of the legion in San Francisco the 15th to 19th of October. Reservations are being made for hotel accommodations through the state department headquarters in Portland; the Hotel Stewart being reserved for the Oregon contingent.

Reservations for the special train to leave Portland Saturday, October 13, to carry the Oregon legionnaires and their families to the national convention have been coming in from all over the state and a full train load is assured.

The special is to carry only legion members and their families.

It will be of interest to local Legionnaires and their families to learn that the fare from Portland to San Francisco and return for them will be half the regular fare, or $26.96.

Those wishing to take advantage of the opportunity must first obtain an affidavit signed by the state adjutant of the American Legion.

ARTIFICIAL LEATHER IS MANUFACTURED ON A LARGE SCALE

From a daily output of 5,860 yards in October, 1920, to the manufacture of from 30,000 to 50,000 yards of artificial leather a day at present, after two years effort, is one of the interesting achievements of the Ford Motor company's plant in Highland Park.

Five grades of leather, each suited to a different purpose, are produced and with these the company is able to supply, wholly or in large part, its own side curtains, side quarters, back curtains, cushions, cushion facings, tops, sedan roof covering.

The artificial leather manufacture, which was first begun as an experiment in 1918, has reached a high state of perfection and now proceeds on the continuous production system.

The principal cloths used are drill, twill, moleskin, sateen and Ford cloth, which is woven at Highland Park. The average length of strip of any of these is 300 to 400 yards, with widths from 36 to 52 inches and weights running between 200 and 500 pounds per roll.

As soon as a roll of cloth enters the manufacturing section of the department it is placed on a re-rolling device and carefully inspected for any possible defect.

Next it is weighed and started through the coating ovens where the coating proceeds on a continuous system. As the cloth passes the first station or section, the coating mixture flows onto one side of it and is evenly distributed by a spreading knife.

After the coat is applied the cloth passes into a drying chamber which is heated by steam to 210 degrees Fahrenheit. By the time it emerges from the drying chamber it is ready for the next coat and so the process is repeated until the desired surface covering is secured when the cloth leaves the oven.

Before one roll has been run out, the starting end of another is sewed on, so that the coating operation may continue uninterrupted.

When the cloth finally emerges from the oven, with one side hidden beneath a black and glossy, but flexible coat, it is re-wound on a roll and separated from its successor. Then it is weighed to ascertain if sufficient coating mixture has been applied.

Next comes the embossing process by means of which the leather pattern is produced on the coated side of the cloth. This is accomplished through flat and rotary presses, heated by steam to 220 degrees Fahrenheit and under pressure ranging on some from 400-500 tons to 600-700 tons on others.

After the leather imprint has been made, the cloth goes to the final oven for its finish or lustre coat. After a final inspection it is passed along to go into automobile production.

Approximately 2,100 gallons of coating mixture are required to supply the seven ovens during an 80-hour working shift and with the department now operating on a 16-hour day, 4,200 gallons are used daily.

This means that another Ford venture has been fully justified, that another functioning productive unit has taken its place in the Ford industry.

FAIRVIEW

Miss Knowles of St. Helens was the week-end guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer T. Green.

Mrs. Eli M. Surface and Mrs. Marion Burlingame are visiting relatives and friends at Estacada this week.

"The Quest of the Ages" will be the theme of the sermon at the Smith Memorial Presbyterian church next Sunday morning by the pastor, the Rev. E. R. D. Hollensted at 11 o'clock.

Sunday school will meet as usual at 10 o'clock. Last Sunday was a real Rally Day in both services of the church. The church was well filled. The Sunday school program consisted of roll call of pupils, including cradle roll, music and scripture recitations by the children. At the church service following the roll of members was called and two charter members responded, Mrs. J. W. Townsend and Mrs. H. M. Shaw, who have been members since the organizations about 30 years ago.

The Luscher Brothers quartet was greatly enjoyed and Chinese women gave several fine numbers, dressed in native costume. Next Saturday Fairview grange will resume its day meetings and will hold a sort of a rally day to begin the winter activities. Mrs. E. R. D. Hollensted, the lecturer announces the following program beginning at 2 o'clock: presentation of the income tax measure to be voted upon at the November election, by R. R. Morrill; a discussion on "Better Homes" to be opened by the Rev. E. R. D. Hollensted. Musical selections will complete the program. Members and visiting grangers are cordially invited to the exercises of the day and the public is invited to attend the lecture hour program.

Miss Alice Deaton visited last week at the home of her uncle, D. W. McKay. She was accompanied by Mrs. Plana. Both are members of the orchestra which furnished music for the Hotel Vancouver, the largest hostelry in Vancouver, B. C.

The Women's Society of Smith Memorial Presbyterian church met at the home of the president, Mrs. Donagh, on Thursday afternoon and transacted much business for the society. The date for the annual supper and sale was set for Friday evening, December 7. Mrs. C. G. Fancher and Mrs. Zook of the general committee reported that the arrangement of the departments will be similar to those of last year. A chairman for each department was appointed as follows: fancy work, Mrs. Lockwood; floral booth, Mrs. Alma Hall; parcel post, Mrs. Janet M. Grant; market, Mrs. Oscar Wallin; candy, Mrs. S. P. Osburn. The committee for supper will be appointed later. Mrs. Donagh has volunteered to give for the benefit of the society an interpretation of Gerhart Hauptmann's symbolic drama, "The Sunken Bell," at the city hall on Friday evening, October 26. An all-day work meeting, with pot luck lunch at noon, will be held at the home of Mrs. Julia Snover on Thursday afternoon, October 18. Quilts and aprons will be the work.

Mrs. Annie Richardson and Roy Hensley of Troutdale are at Parker, Washington, working in the apple orchards.

Mrs. Janet M. Grant of Portland and Mrs. H. H. Pratt of Fairview were in Troutdale Wednesday calling on old friends.
