PLEASANT HOME A surprise party was given Irvin Ickler last Friday evening at his home in honor of his 18th birthday by a number of his school friends. An enjoyable evening was spent with games and music and at the close ice cream, cake and punch were served. Those present were Eva Caddy, Amy and Esther Sloop, Alma Yocum, Annie and Ethel Moffit, Myrtle Nasshahn, Clara Johnson, Barbara Walters, Swea Lundbom and Mrs. A. Walters, Lester Boring, Harry Carlson, John Staffenson, George Yocum, Ernest Neilson, Ray Strong and Herman Walters. Ray Strong gave several fine numbers on his harmonica. Miss Mabel Sloop is at Parker, Washington, where she is visiting with relatives and friends and assisting with apple picking and sorting. Mr. and Mrs. David Rose of Knappa, Oregon, were guests last week at the Grant and Clifton Sloop homes. ORIENT Mrs. Nellie Price and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Jacobs of Venice, California, enjoyed a wonderful trip to Hood River and the apple orchards last week. They went Tuesday and spent several days there, after which the Parkers proceeded on their way to Montana and Mrs. Price returned home. Mrs. Price has leased her place for three years to J. Hearren of Denver and expects to leave Wednesday to make her home with her son, Bob Conklin, in Ocean Park, California.

Overland Champion Is Farmer's Friend New Closed Model Is Beautiful All-Family Car with Wonderful Utility Qualifications At last the farmer has been given a closed car of superior finish inside and outside, that he can utilize for various farm jobs and "chores" with the same cheerful abandon as he does his open touring car. Thousands of farmers have expressed the opinion that they would gladly use closed cars if they could press them into practical work and get out of them the same all-around service the touring car provides. This has been the farmer's winning argument for the touring car over the closed car for some years and it is admittedly a reasonable one. Practical service on the farm means the hauling of grain and other material of a highly "spillable" nature. A load of bran or shorts for instance leaves a car resembling the interior of a feed grinding room. Whole grain, despite every precaution, will persist in "creeping" out of the cage and scatter to every corner and crevice of the car. Summing up "practical service" for the farmer means the haulage of milk cans, live poultry, root crops, cans of kerosene, machinery oil, household supplies, garden tools, implement parts, rolls of belting and a long list of every conceivable sort of usable material on the farm from wire fencing to an occasional live calf. No wonder the farmer hesitated to invest his money in a closed car. But now the wonder ceases with the advent of the new Overland closed car, fittingly named the Champion, for the good and logical reason that at 1895 it leads the world in closed car values and "champions" the cause of the farmer in every respect. This new model, having as many personalities as a South American Chamelion, can proudly claim the distinction of being called "America's most versatile car" for in introducing the Champion, Willy-Overland has succeeded in bringing out something absolutely novel and radically unique; in fact, a type of motor car that the farmer has long wished for—and now has. It is probably the most extraordinarily useful car for the farmer that has ever been produced, with an all-steel body built on a standard Overland chassis cradled on the famous Triplex springs and powered with the larger Overland engine. Exclusive features, utilities and economies mark this model as a remarkably convenient car, warranted to give the utmost in closed car benefits to the farmer. In the Champion, the rear seat and upholstery is entirely removable, providing fifty cubic feet of clear carrying space. Apart from this, the unusual and characteristic of the unusual feature of both front and rear seats which with the upholstery can be entirely removed and made up into a luxurious bed in the car, occupying the whole length and width of the car. What a boon to the farmer and his family who want to spend the night away from home on a little hunting jaunt. But this does not end the many amazing advantages included in the Champion and perhaps the most outstanding superiority from the farmer's viewpoint is the fifty cubic feet of space obtainable in the car by re-mov-ing the rear seat with the upholstery. This arrangement leaves an absolutely clear carrying space capable of real service to the farmer who can load tools, bags of fodder, produce, and so forth, into the car through the wide rear door, with the satisfaction of knowing that the car can be thoroughly cleaned out later and the rear seat installed for passenger trips. The long grain Spanish upholstery is washable and wearable, so that nothing of being comfortable, who had in mind at all times the farmer and his particular needs, and for this reason the Champion will have a strong appeal to the man living away from the metropolitan centers. The Champion is solidly built with that thoroughness of workmanship characteristic of all Willy-Overland products. The unusually clever general utility points of this exceptional car are the result of long and careful study on the part of the designers, who had in mind at all times the farmer and his particular needs, and for this reason the Champion will have a strong appeal to the man living away from the metropolitan centers.
