MAKING OREGON KNOWN.

Oregon's scenic, agricultural and industrial advantages and resources are being heralded throughout the country.

An example of the wide publicity being given Oregon by the Southern Pacific company is seen in the current issue of the Southern Pacific Bulletin just off the press which contains much valuable data regarding the development and opportunities offered in the state.

Not only does the publication contain a lengthy article on the territory which the railroad's new line from Kirk to Oakridge will pass but it is well illustrated with pictures depicting many salient features of the country. The cover page of the magazine shows a view of one of the many beautiful lakes in the Cascade mountains.

An interesting feature of the publication is a descriptive article on Crater lake by J. A. Ormandy, general passenger agent for the company at Portland.

More than 40,000 copies of the magazine are being distributed by the Southern Pacific on the Pacific Coast and to the principal cities of the United States and Europe, through the company's general agencies.

It's easier these days to do a good deed and not be found out than to do a dastardly one and not be discovered.

Some persons seek strange ways to commit suicide. Perhaps they enjoy the thrill.

The Chinese bandits are slow compared to their American brothers.

Germany first made of her solemn treaty a scrap of paper, then she made her mark a mere scrap of paper. Now she is facing financial ruin more disastrous than the defeat of her armies.

GRESHAM YOUNG PEOPLE TAKE MARRIAGE VOWS

At a quiet wedding at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ida Hengstler, Miss Lilah Hengstler became the bride of Oliver B. Northrup last Sunday afternoon, the Rev. S. F. Pitts of Cottrell officiating. The bride was beautiful in a gown of blue Canton crepe trimmed with silver lace.

The young people have gone to housekeeping in their new home on 82d street near the Powell Valley road. Mr. Northrup is in the employ of the city of Portland as an auto mechanic.

COUPLE KNOWN HERE MARRIED AT BEND

Mrs. Lorene Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Alexander of Anderson station, became the bride of Oren J. Crosier, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crosier of Portland, formerly of Pleasant Home, at the Methodist parsonage at Bend, Oregon, by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Frank James. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander and sons Robert and Vern went to Bend for the wedding.

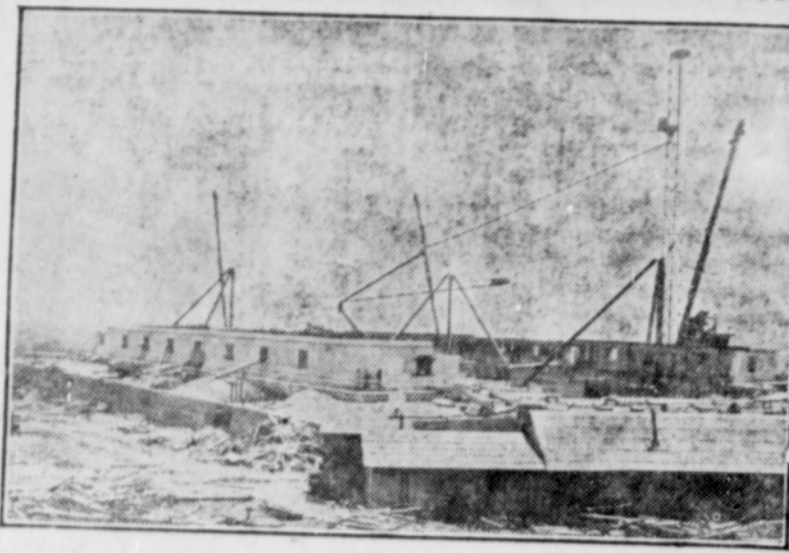

Mr. Crosier is a mechanic in the employ of the Ford agency at Bend, where the young people will make their home. The bride was formerly a student in the high school at Gresham.

The Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, calculates the total wealth of the United States as about three hundred billions of dollars, three thousand dollars for every man, woman and child, nearly double the total wealth of 1912.

WASHINGTON NATIONAL MEMORIAL IS BEING BUILT.

GEORGE WASHINGTON MASONIC MEMORIAL GREATEST IN WORLD

Greatest of all memorials ever erected to any man will be the George Washington national Masonic memorial, now being built in Alexandria, Virginia, just outside the national capital. The cornerstone of this beautiful and extensive structure, to cost $4,000,000, will be laid on Thursday, November 1, and Masons of the United States are planning upon making this great occasion the most impressive in the history of the order. It is expected that many of the 17,000 Blue lodges in this country will have one or more representatives at the festivities. In addition, there will be pilgrimages from every state. Railroads already are preparing to handle the enormous number of travelers to Washington, which is expected to reach into the hundred thousands. There are approximately 3,000,000 Masons in the United States.

This national Masonic memorial was determined upon in 1910. The plans were modest at first but as the project has been considered from year to year the plans have been enlarged until they have assumed their present gigantic proportions.

The memorial is located on Arlington Ridge, which commands a splendid view of the capital city. The Memorial association has acquired in all 32 acres of land surrounding Shooters Hill, which will be passed by all those who travel from the national capital to Mount Vernon, Washington's home. The edifice will be surrounded by artistic landscaping and will be reached by broad walks and stone steps ascending through seven terraces. From the topmost colonaded tower of the memorial, visitors will view for miles around the region in which Washington passed a great portion of his life.

The dimensions of the edifice over all will be 230 feet in depth by 160 feet in width, exclusive of the steps, terraces and approaches. Its height to the summit of the observation tower will be 200 feet. The main masses of the building comprise a base in which will be located the great Washington Memorial Hall and various Masonic rooms, and above this base will rise a form of tower. One of the most stately features will be an imposing atrium, 70 feet wide and 100 feet deep, which will form the Memorial Hall, and in which it is proposed to set a statue of George Washington. This hall will be 64 feet high, rising by a cleftery above the surrounding portion of the building. It will be flanked by great Ionic columns 40 feet high and surmounted by a number of rooms devoted to Masonic interests, above the roof of which cleftery lights will admit the light.

The entrance of the building will be expressed in a six-columned portico of pure Greek Doric design, forming an interesting contrast to the plain unbroken side walls of the Masonic rooms. Rising above the Memorial Hall, and forming the second story of the tower, will be a museum room to house the many memorabilia of George Washington and his time, as well as interesting relics connected with Washington's service as Master of Alexandria-Washington lodge. There will be a third level above the museum, above which again there will be a covered observation platform, all three levels screened by stately colonnades.

In addition to housing the priceless relics of Washington possessed by the Alexandria lodge, the memorial will be the center and rallying point for Masons of the United States and of all other countries. One of the most prized of the relics is the trowel used by General Washington September 18, 1795, to lay the cornerstone of the capitol of the United States at Washington, D. C. Another priceless possession of the Alexandria lodge to be housed in the memorial is the Williams portrait of Washington, painted in 1794 the truest likeness of the Father of His Country in existence, for the artist was instructed to "paint him as he is," which he did.

This $4,000,000 structure is being financed by popular subscription. Each Blue lodge is asked to contribute about one dollar per member.

Oregon will be represented at Alexandria on November 1 by several of the grand officers of the lodge. Among them will be George T. Cochran, grand master; D. C. Cheney, grand secretary; J. S. Roark, superintendent of Masonic and Eastern Star home; Leslie M. Scott and George E. Chamberlain. It is likely that many Blue lodges will also be represented.
