Too Big a Contract.

Dear little Johnnie's Aunt Emma, a lady of most generous build, had come for a visit and dear little Johnnie had been gazing at her raptly for some minutes. Finally he could stand it no longer.

"Mamma," he cried, "does Santa Claus fill everybody's stockings?"
"Of course, dear," replied his mother in some surprise.

"Grown-up people's, too?"
"Yes, dear."
"Well," returned Johnnie doubtfully, "but as one clinging to a shred of hope, I hope he gets to mine first."—American Legion Weekly.

Our Christmas Trees.

Ancient sun worshippers used to decorate trees, because they thought a spreading tree was like the sun rising higher and higher in the heavens. They used lights to signify the lighting; apples, nuts and balls to signify the sun, moon and stars, and figures of animals to denote the animal sacrifices which were made to their gods. The angels, cross, etc., which we add were put in by Christians to commemorate Christ. The star at the top is a symbol of the star which led the Wise Men to Bethlehem.

What If It Is?

Mistletoe may be parasitic, as the botanists claim, but properly festooned upon the chandelier with the soft lights glowing through its leaves, at Christmas time, and the girl there underneath it, in view of the traditions—well, suppose it is parasitic?

The Pot of Gold.
It has been a beautiful sunset, and the golden streamers of light are fast fading from the sky. The last crow of the cock has died away and peace and quiet settle down upon the tiny brown cottage by the roadside.
Near the window sits a little gray-haired woman, with bowed head. Her eyes are moist. Now the melodious sound of music comes floating from the other room. A tear runs down her wrinkled cheek, and then another. She brings her handkerchief to her eyes and takes it away wet. How much longer must she wait for him to come?
Turning slowly toward the open doorway, with a clear sweet voice she calls out: "Jimmy, shut off that phonograph this instant and come help me peel these onions!"
