PERMANENCY AND GROWTH.

The most important factor in the growth and progress of a city or locality is the character of the people who live there and who stay there.

Not only do people who are continually shifting around not benefit themselves but they don't benefit any locality where they may make a short stay.

It is not always natural advantage of location or resources that makes a community prosper. We sometimes wonder why a better location was not picked for a city.

Gresham is exceedingly fortunate in this respect. People locate here and stay. Rarely does anyone move away. If he does it is a safe bet he will be back.

Gresham's growth is slow but steady and very permanent. It is a good place to tie to. The one great difficulty is to find employment for the many who want to locate here.

Gresham is not perhaps the fastest growing city in the west—Longview beats us in that—but it is a city of a thriving and contented people with every prospect of continuing such with a healthy growth.

CONSIDER THE FARMER.

"Do you know of any individual who exhibits more faith than the farmer?" The people of the city do not realize the uncertainty and the difficulties of farming.

In considering the farmer bear in mind that he spends approximately six months if the weather is favorable. In other words, in early spring, the summer. Then I will prepare my crop for market and offer it for sale.

The farmer's labor of growing a crop for which he probably does not have a single order until he has harvested it and then he does not know what the price will be at which he must sell it.

"I'll have a good crop by the end of farmer says; 'I'll plow and fertilize this field; I'll plant and cultivate it and the whole season may be dissipated by a few days of unfavorable weather just previous to or during harvest."

Yet there are millions of farmers in this country following the plow year after year, exercising faith in the future and hoping for the best in spite of odds against them.

Krueger's Golden West Anconas

The Anconas possess extremely good points as layers. They stand in the front rank. They lay large white eggs. They are small eaters, splendid foragers, early maturity, fine qualities of meat. Some of the best of the Anconas are adapted to a cold climate that makes them winter layers.

Eggs and more eggs is what every one is looking for. We are now breeding three of the greatest egg-strains in America into our King Golden West strain. Backed by 307 and 311 eggs: Chicago Boy, his grand dam, 293; King Post, his backing, 303 eggs; and Sheppard's strain. The Anconas are adapted to a cold climate that makes them winter layers.

Our Great Egg Laying Strain. Its breeding is of the standard type and makes good show birds. Every ribbon and special at three county fairs, Gresham, Carby, Albany, including State Fair and Pacific International Live Stock show. 64 ribbons in all, 1923. Our 124 breeders, the Best in the West, Chicago Coliseum and Madison Square Garden show birds and egg strain combined.

Now there must be some very good reason for the great success and remarkable growth of my business. Truthfully, I believe it's the result of straightforward, honest treatment I have given to my every customer. Your reputation depends upon your honesty. Member American Poultry Association.
