

Inexperienced.
A stingy man got a hot shot from his wife when he reproved her for taking a counterfeit bill.
"I don't see how you were dumb enough to let a man pass counterfeit money on you," he roared.
"Well, you don't let me see real money often enough to know the difference," she hurled back at him.—Columbus Dispatch.

WILLYS ANNOUNCES MATERIAL REDUCTIONS

No better indication of the increased demand for Willys-Knight and Overland closed cars during the past winter can be given than the announcement from Willys-Overland headquarters that prices on two of its most popular enclosed types have been slashed as a result of a factory output in excess of all original anticipations.

According to the announcement the price reduction affects the Overland champion model, which has been reduced to $655 from $695, a cut of $40, while the Willys-Knight standard sedan has been reduced $100 to $1695. All these are Toledo factory prices.

Accompanying the announcement is a brief statement from John N. Willys, president of Willys-Overland, setting forth the reasons for this remarkable action:

"January and February production has exceeded all expectations. During the first month of the new year we manufactured 22,048 cars, more than double the output of a year ago. In February we maintained an average shipping record of more than a thousand cars daily, closing the month with total shipments of 22,136.

"This remarkable increase in demand has stepped up production to a point where our production costs per car have been lessened. In the case of the Overland champion, for example, we find that we are able to maintain its position as the lowest-priced enclosed car on the market, with doors front and rear, because of the tremendous demand that has ensued since the original announcement of this model last fall. We have stepped up our schedule on this model and even now are unable to cope satisfactorily with the dealers' demands."

Parallel conditions are accountable for the cut in price of the Willys-Knight sedan.

"During the current winter, demand for closed cars outstripped all anticipation," continues the statement. "In no single year of the industry has the sale of all-weather models advanced so rapidly as it has during the past six months. Our plants have been fairly swamped with orders for this type. The result has been increase in closed car production, with a proportionate decrease in production costs, in which we are desirous of allowing the public to participate."

PORTLAND POETESS WINS "CIRCUIT RIDER" PRIZE

The prize of $100 in "The Circuit Rider" contest has been awarded to Mary Carolyn Davies of Portland. This beautiful poem will be used in connection with the unveiling of the equestrian statue of "The Circuit Rider" on the state house grounds in Salem on April 19. An additional prize of $100 has been offered for the setting, suitable for singing out of doors. These prizes are given by the Hon. R. A. Booth, donor of the statue, in honor of his father, a pioneer circuit rider. Following is the poem:

God tramps on through the scourging rains.
God vaults into the saddle,
Rides alone past the dusty plains.
God's back bends to the paddle—
Cedar branches and sunlight through,
And on, still on, speeds the lone canoe!

God rides out on his ancient quest;
Healing, saving, commanding.
Here in the savage unknown west,
Settlement, cabin, landing.
Well they know the steady beat
In the stillness of God's horses feet.

God leads to grace the pioneers
Who walk each hour with danger.
Knows these grim men for his peers;
Gives his bread to the stranger.
Doing all that a neighbor can
God rides still, a weary man.

God rides out: And founds three states:
Their scourger, their defender;
Guides their loves and tones their hates.
Leads them into splendor.
God—in the Circuit Rider's breast—
Once more, God built a world—Our West.
