

STAFFORD SCORES HIGHEST IN SHOOT

Our own J. L. (Jack) Stafford, of pickle fame, has stuck another bright feather in his cap of fame by winning the Rose City 100 shoot on the Portland Gun club grounds last Sunday. He tied with and then beat Frank Troeh, a world famous shot, requiring 100 extra targets to decide the tie. Stafford's record was 200 straight to Troeh's 199.

This is considered a phenomenal record and O. N. Ford, manager of the club, says from his records has never been beaten.

Stafford is a good shot and has been state champion. However, in this shoot before Sunday he was not showing his hand. On Saturday he made a run of 71 targets.

Frank Troeh is one of the world's greatest shots. He took part in the Olympic games in 1920 but did not win, and is one of the team to go to Europe for the shooting division of the Olympic games this year.

E. J. Jaeger, president of the Portland Gun club, won the 50-target handicap shoot by breaking all. He shot from the 19-yard line.

Frank Troeh led all in the three-day shoot with a score of 441 out of a possible 450 in the straight target events from the 16-yard line. Dr. C. F. Cathey of Portland was second with 439; W. G. Warren of Los Angeles and J. L. Miller of Coquille, Oregon, tied for third with 437; J. L. Stafford of Portland fourth with 436, and J. B. Troeh of Portland fifth with 435.

O. N. Ford says this was one of the greatest shoots ever held on the local grounds and he is well pleased with the results.

LAW ENFORCEMENT MASS MEETING AT BORING

The motion picture film "The Last Raid of Sheriff Kendall of Linn County" will be shown at a law enforcement mass meeting to be held in Odd Fellows Hall, Boring, on Sunday, April 27th, at 8 p. m.

The entire state was shocked and stirred by the dastardly and cowardly shooting of this faithful officer. Aside from the portrayal of the scene, the film contains many other interesting and thrilling scenes, especially the raiding of a moonshiner's still.

Rev. R. E. Close, assistant superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon, will deliver an address, taking for his subject "The Price of Victory."

The following statement has been issued by the superintendent:

"We have been holding Law Enforcement Mass meetings in the important cities of the state and expect to cover the entire state. The idea is to create a stronger public sentiment for the strict and vigorous enforcement of the prohibition laws. The Anti-Saloon League has inaugurated a campaign throughout the state and proposes to take an active part in the primaries this year, when we shall seek the nomination of officers who are in sympathy with and will enforce the prohibition laws. Prohibition will certainly fail in Oregon if the laws are not enforced.

These meetings are held in recognition of the tremendous propaganda which is being carried on to nullify prohibition and to discredit all law. It is a clarion call to all those who believe in prohibition but who with the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment and the enactment of the Volstead Law felt that the fight was over and lost active interest.

Realizing that this inactivity and apathy has resulted in an apparent growth of the liquor sentiment in the non-observance of the enforcement act not only by state officials and bootleggers but by men and women who are law abiding in every way is the reason for law enforcement work, with the idea of recovering the morale of the moral and Christian forces upon the prohibition issue.

Announcements of Undenominational Services.

Preaching is held each Sunday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock in the Odd Fellows building, by Rev. S. F. Pitts. Prayer meetings Tuesday evenings and Bible Study Friday evenings. Everyone is cordially invited.

LOCAL LOGANBERRY GROWER GIVES VIEWS

Gresham, Oregon, April 21, 1924.—Editor Outlook:—In an old-fashioned book that some of us used to read before we got to be too scientific, I have read something like this—"In a multitude of counsel there is wisdom." I would like to see this idea applied to the loganberry situation. That is to say, I would like for the growers to do some serious thinking and then tell us what they think. I venture to set down the result of some of the thinking I have done along this line in the hope that some other grower may do likewise.

One rather definite conclusion I have come to is that selling loganberries on the fresh fruit market, except to nearby points, is "a delusion and a snare" for the very good reason that the logan picked green enough to ship is a very poor and unsatisfactory berry and it is worse than useless to put it on the market in that stage while if allowed to ripen properly there is no better berry to be had.

It follows that we must prepare them for market in some way here at home either by canning, evaporating, making juice or some other process.

I do not think the loganberry industry will ever be on a satisfactory basis as long as we are dependent on the various fruit packing concerns to dispose of our product. They always demand and manage to get the lion's share of the profits. In my judgment we must get in touch with the general public and build up a market of our own. This, of course, would entail some expense, possibly a cold storage plant here in Gresham.

Now this is written from the standpoint of a loganberry grower. It probably applies more or less to all other berries grown here. I raise logans because, so far as I have been able to determine, my ground is more suitable for them than any other berry.

SCAPPOOSE WALLOPED BY GRESHAM HIGH

Wednesday, at Scappoose, in a return ball game with that school Gresham won a decisive victory in a walk away game, score 11 to 6.

Winters pitched superb ball and the whole team got into its battling stride and had Scappoose on the run throughout the nine innings.

Roscoe Southard, diminutive right fielder, in the first of the ninth hit a homer with one on. Scappoose made three runs in the first inning but from then on their runs became few and far between.

The team has now won two straight. The first game, which was with Scappoose, on the local grounds was lost by Gresham but the victory of Wednesday more than offsets the former defeat.

The players are looking forward with great eagerness to next week end when they will journey eastward to tangle with the strong teams of The Dalles and Dufur high schools. Wins over these teams would greatly advertise Gresham and place our team high among the best of the state.

COUNCIL PLANS TO HAVE GULLIES FILLED

A special meeting of the city council was held last Tuesday evening to consider the matter of getting certain gullies and depressions in the city streets filled with dirt from the pipe line ditch. A proposition had been made by E. H. Kelly of the Independent Land company to donate the right of way for a street beginning at Powell street and connecting Kelly avenue and Cedar street provided the arrangements for filling the gully could be made. The filling of Beech avenue along the Carl Dahl property was also considered and on Wednesday Mayor Miller and the street committee met with the pipe line foreman and went over the ground. The filling of Beech avenue was arranged for but the Cedar street fill was considered impracticable on account of the gradual incline of the banks, making it difficult to dump the dirt, especially if the ground should be wet and slippery.

Considerable difficulty was encountered by the committee in charge of the disposing of the refuse collected during the clean-up days, as the former dumping ground was not available and there was objection to the use of the gravel pits. Permission was finally granted by John Metzger and P. Lenard, whose lots extend into the gully between Main street and Roberts avenue and north of Powell street to use that place, as a fill is being made there with dirt from the pipe line ditch. The work is about completed, the loads of junk and dirt being dumped alternately from the alley. Floyd Mack made use of the opportunity to dispose of his worn out Oldsmobile by rolling it down the bank to the bottom of the gully.

MILLER JURY DISAGREES IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE

The jury in the case of Frederick L. Miller, indicted for involuntary manslaughter, failed to agree after 11 hours of deliberation and was discharged.

Mr. Miller, a jeweler of Portland, was indicted following the death of Mrs. Alma Hall of Fairview, who was struck by his car on January 23 when crossing the Sandy road near her home.

Testimony was introduced at the trial that Miller was driving at an excessive rate of speed, while Miller, in his brief testimony denied this and said that he was traveling not more than 25 or 30 miles an hour.

COUNTY BRIDGE PROBE CONTINUES

The Multnomah county bridge probe is believed to have reached a crucial stage with the quizzing during the last few days of certain witnesses believed to hold inside knowledge of the various deals. All is kept secret, however, to be put in the form of an information to be prevented later to a grand jury.

Attorney General Van Winkle is reported to have said yesterday that the investigation was progressing satisfactorily and that a large number of witnesses had been examined. He indicated that it probably would be a week or 10 days before this testimony is passed on to the grand jury.

In the meantime the county commissioners are placed in a peculiarly trying position. Recall petitions have been filed against all three. They have a chance to resign but say they will not do so. A ticket is being prepared to fill their places if the recall carries.

There are many candidates out for the four-year term of C. S. Rudeen. Mr. Rudeen himself is up for re-election. Others who have filed for the nomination are Amadee M. Smith, Ralph W. Hoyt, Rufus C. Holman, and others.

Some of these will also be on the recall election ticket. For Commissioner Walker's place Grant Phagley will be nominated and probably R. L. Sabin for Commissioner Rankin's place.

There are others who will undoubtedly be on the recall ticket though it is not certain whose name they will oppose.

Among those mentioned are W. F. McKenney, a man by his training, experience and standing is far better qualified for the position of county commissioner than any now on the board and of equal standing with Amadee M. Smith, Rufus C. Holman and R. L. Sabin.

Mr. McKenney is an engineer and all his life has been engaged in large affairs mostly of an engineer character. He believes the bridges can be built for $500,000 less than the amount voted and be in every respect up to standard. He believes the Ross Island bridge should be constructed first to relieve traffic when the Burnside bridge is under construction.

Mr. McKenney is past exalted ruler of the Portland Elks lodge, past president of the Oregon Motor association, a member of the state chamber of commerce, a Knight of Pythias, Royal Arcanum, and Electric Council.

The Outlook urges that readers size up the men whose names will be on the recall ballot and use careful judgment in selecting county commissioners, picking out men who are known for their high standing, absolute integrity, devotion to public interests, and experience in handling large affairs.
