CHICKEN CROQUETTES
½ tablespoon onion juice few grains pepper
½ tablespoon chopped parsley 2½ cups chopped chicken
1 teaspoon lemon juice 1 cup thick white sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Mix seasonings with chicken; add thick white sauce until mixture will hold together. Form into small croquettes and set aside to cool. Beat one egg with 2 tablespoons milk. Roll croquettes in dry bread crumbs, then in egg mixture and then in the dry bread crumbs, covering well. Fry in deep Amaizo hot enough to brown a piece of bread in 40 seconds (385° F.). Drain well on unglazed paper and serve garnished with parsley on hot platter.
Makes 14 croquettes.

Thick White Sauce
2 tablespoons Amaizo few grains pepper
½ cup flour or ¼ cup corn starch 1 cup scalded milk
½ teaspoon salt
Put Amaizo into top of double boiler. Add flour and seasonings and stir until thoroughly blended. Cook over flame adding milk gradually, stirring constantly until smooth and thick. Put over hot water, cooking until ready to use.

AMAIZO OIL

Amaizo is ideal for deep frying. It fries beautifully, thoroughly, quickly. It heats quickly. It does not smoke at cooking temperature. It does not carry the flavor of one food to another, so it can be used over and over. It may even be used for shortening, after having been used for frying.

FRENCH FRIED POTATOES
Select small potatoes. Pare and cut lengthwise in long narrow strips. Allow to stand a few minutes in cold water. Drain and dry well. Fry a few at a time in deep Amaizo hot enough to brown a piece of bread in 20 seconds (395° F.). Fry until light golden brown and cooked through (about 7 minutes). Drain on unglazed paper and salt just before serving. Sweet potatoes can be fried in the same way.
