A WORTHY CAUSE.

The University of Oregon gift campaign, recently inaugurated, is a worthy movement, well deserving of the support of every man and woman who believes in the University of Oregon and who favors giving their generation of boys and girls their maximum chance in the world through the equipment of higher education.

The University of Oregon has in recent years been faced with a serious problem. Its attendance has been growing faster than have its facilities or its maintenance funds. In 1913-14 there were 732 students enrolled. Today there are 2,389. For this year the total will reach 2500. Within the 10-year period just past the enrollment in Oregon's high schools has almost trebled.

Through this gift campaign the university hopes to raise $5,000,000 in five years. The money will be expended for new buildings and increased facilities. The university alumni have undertaken to raise $1,000,000 for three principal buildings.

The Oregon Voter, in commenting on the ambition of Astoria to become the New York of the Pacific, closes with this appreciation and prediction: "Astoria's amazing achievements in coping with almost unparalleled obstacles entitle her to more than casual attention.

"Whether it is possible or impossible for Astoria ever to attain the traditional destiny she has fixed as her mark is aside from the point. Suffice it to say that the conviction of ultimate metropolitan supremacy on the Pacific Coast is so deeply rooted that it motivates pretty much every undertaking that has any angle of community need or community progress.

Prize Essay Scholarships. In these days many young men and women are adding themselves educationally by winning scholarships through ambition and ability displayed in essay writing.

Winners in the American Chemical Society's Prize Essay Contest, which is the result of a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Garvan of New York City, have just been announced at the national headquarters of the committee in charge and two hundred and ninety-four $20 gold pieces were forwarded to school authorities for distribution among successful competitors.

This prize essay contest has been recognized by national and state educational officials and has received the official endorsement of universities, colleges and schools all over the country. More than thirty-five scholarships have been donated by various universities and colleges, and will be awarded to winners in the contest at the discretion of the state committees in charge and of the college authorities.

The prize winners in Oregon are Carl H. Oestreich, Grants Pass; Miles Kimball, North Portland; Virgil Wallinger, Allice; Clifford Parr, Freewater; Eleanor Andrus, North Portland; Ruth Ray, Portland. The contest will be continued next year. Young people should be informed as to these opportunities and work for the benefits offered.

POWELL VALLEY

The Deborah Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. M. Nyström on Thursday afternoon, June 5, at 2 o'clock. All are welcome.

Andrew Ryberg has returned from the hospital after several weeks there, he being seriously injured by a retarded explosion of dynamite while working on the farm of Walford Staffenson.

Mrs. Bert Olson is serving this month on the June panel of jury cases in the circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Satterstrom accompanied the Rev. O. J. Wilner to Pioneer, Wash., where they held preaching services on Sunday.

A son was born Sunday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palmblad.

Miss Etta Anderson has taken a position in Portland for the summer and will probably accompany the family to Seaview for the midsummer vacation.

Mrs. James Hillyard and sons William and John spent the week-end at Waukeena Beach, Oregon.

Mrs. Larry Jensen has been suffering from an attack of tonsillitis.

The sewing club girls of Mrs. Russell Tilmann's class surprised her Monday evening and as a token of their esteem presented their teacher with a pair of candle holders.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lundquist and daughters, Agnes and Mrs. David Johnson drove to Deer Island on Thursday last week.

Who Can Answer?

The state of Kentucky put to death three men by electricity, two white, one colored, one white man being 70 years old. Only one spoke, as he was strapped into the chair. It was Frank Thomas, white man, who said, as the light was shut out from his eyes forever by the electrocution mask, "Good night, I'm going home."

Wouldn't it be interesting to know where, how, in what home those three men will awake—if at all, says Arthur Brisbane. Will the black man still be black, when he comes to and dimly remembers how he died? Will the gray-haired murdered still be 70 years old, or begin again as a new baby? Interesting questions.

Plowing for Gold. In Baltimore, a farmer named Meyer is said to be plowing up a good wheat field, with a sub-soil plow, having been told there is gold in his land. He won't find gold, says Arthur Brisbane, but if he plows his wheat under, he will improve his soil, and increase his farm's value.

In the second part of Faust, Goethe tells of the farmer plowing deep because under the Emperor's law he was allowed to keep all buried treasure, "turned over by the plow." That makes the farmer plow deeper, make his soil richer, and thus be able to pay heavier taxes.

BORING BOY AT O. A. C. IS PLEDGE OF KAPPA TAU

Emil Anderson of Boring is a pledge of Kappa Tau, local fraternity, which has been granted the Alpha Beta chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho, national social fraternity. The installation will take place early next fall.

Alpha Gamma Rho was founded at the state university of Ohio in 1909 by the representatives of two organizations. The Alpha chapter is located at Illinois and the Beta at Ohio. The local chapter will make the 26th and will be the fourth on the coast. Other chapters in western colleges are located at Washington State college, and the University of California at Berkeley and Davis.

Kappa Tau was organized as a club in 1922 and the local charter was granted in 1923. Anderson is a freshman in agriculture.

Protecting business

To protect the interests of traveling commercial men is to afford protection to the entire business world. Hence, this form of guardianship is quite as important as any service a bank offers its patrons.

This bank considers it one of its chief duties to safeguard the funds of business men on the road whether they are traveling in America or abroad. Such protection is accomplished through the simple expedient of transforming travelers' money into American Express Travelers Cheques.

So convenient to carry and to use, and so effective in preventing loss are these Travelers Cheques that many concerns, large and small, have adopted them for constant use by all their traveling salesmen.

Issued in pocket size leather wallets that are as durable as they are neat and convenient to carry, American Express Travelers Cheques are as simple to use as bills, and they furnish an effective insurance against loss.

The sale of these Cheques is only one of the many services this bank offers to business travelers.
