

MILITARY DISPLAY ON OPENING NIGHT WILL BE NOISEFUL

The military demonstration to be staged at the Multnomah County Fair upon the opening night, July 29, by the Oregon National Guard troops promises to be the most elaborate and noisy affair ever held in Gresham. The committee who waited upon Adjutant General Geo. A. White requested that the affair be noisy. The adjutant general took them at their word and upon his orders Lieutenant Colonel Eugene C. Libby is said to have gathered together all the noise making machinery in the possession of the guard and will have it in use at the big sham battle.

Plans have been completed whereby Battery "A", the oldest military unit west of the Mississippi and whose age is 58 years, will bring their field artillery pieces to the fair grounds. They will be used in support of an infantry battalion with the machine guns and howitzers. Several one pounders will also be in action. Two of the battery's big guns saw action all through the world war in France.

The plan of the demonstration is known as a battalion in the attack. Several machine gun nests, known as the enemy, will open fire on the troops and their aim is to eliminate these machine gun nests. To do this the infantry will advance in skirmish formation, supported by machine guns, field artillery and howitzers.

The enemy troops will be located near the south end of the race track enclosure while the repulsing troops will enter the enclosure from a point north of the race track. The entire action will commence about 8:30 and will take about an hour's time to complete. Immediately following the sham battle a competitive drill and parade of all participating troops will be held in front of the bleachers and grandstand, led by the 162d Infantry band.

Previous to the starting of the battle several events of the Wild West show will be staged, starting at 7:30.

As a matter of caution no one will be allowed in the enclosure of the race track on Tuesday evening.

Eight officers of the National Guard were visitors to the fair grounds on Thursday evening getting the lay of the land. Those who will command the troops are Lieutenant Colonel Eugene C. Libby, Captains Dierking, Baker and Jackson as well as Lieutenants Neer, Schneider, Burroughs, and Glos.

Evangelical Church Services.

Next Sunday morning at the Zion Evangelical church the pastor, the Rev. H. R. Gebhardt, will preach at 11 o'clock in the English language and at 11:55 in the German language, the sermon topic being "A Call to Fishermen." The choir will sing an anthem, "Lead Me All the Way." Sunday school will convene at 10 o'clock and young people's meeting at 8 in the evening. C. L. Hemrich will lead the evening service.

The Victory circle of the Evangelical Ladies' Aid will hold a bake sale somewhere in Gresham on Saturday, August 2, the last Saturday of the fair.

Faint heart ne'er won fair lady.—Phineas Fletcher.

PEOPLE MAY BURN TRASH IF CAREFUL

Fire Chief Mike Allshouse has granted permission to residents to burn up piles of rubbish, lawn clippings, grass and weeds that have accumulated in front of their places, provided the burning is done with great care and preferably in the morning when the air is moist.

Marshal Cox is notifying people of the need of cleaning up along the street in front of their respective places. There will be need of clean streets for the accommodation of visitors during the fair and the clean appearance of streets will be to the city's credit.

Let the good work be done. Do it now.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS

A berry grower named Bryan from near Troutdale, and a berry picker named Reid, were arrested in Gresham Wednesday evening by Deputy Sheriff Squire and Tichenor charged with drunkenness. They had driven into Gresham and at the time of their arrest were trying to crank their auto.

The two men were given a chance to sober up during the night as guests of the city and yesterday morning paid their compliments to Recorder C. G. Schneider. They also paid more than their compliments. Bryan was fined $45 and costs, which he paid. Reid was not able to pay in cash his fine of $25 so was turned over to the marshal to help in the work of improving the city.

MARSHAL COX SOWS POISON FOR EARWIGS

Marshal Greg Cox, whose duty it is to arrest marauders, has been sowing poisoned meal on the fair grounds in an attempt to arrest the depredations of the voracious earwigs. Their presence had become quite noticeable on the fair grounds near some of the buildings. The marshal says they are scarcely ever seen in the day time but come out at night to feast on certain things that their peculiar appetites seem to crave, for instance, clothing.

The poison will soon fix the pests, says the marshal, and it is not expected that at fair time there will be enough left to do any damage.

There are said to be earwigs in several other locations in and near Gresham.

TWO FAMILIES FROM N. D. LOCATE HERE

August Norquist and family and Ed. Ellingson and family, recently from Whetstone, North Dakota, arrived here by auto on Tuesday and are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whetstone. Mr. Norquist is an electrician and will work for the Portland Electric Power company at the power house at Bull Run. Mr. Ellingson is a carpenter and has secured work in Portland. They have visited other locations but like this the best of any they have seen and expect to make their home in Gresham.

Farmers' Field Day Tomorrow

Final arrangements for the annual Farmers' Field Day, Saturday, July 19, have been completed. An interesting program has been planned which will start at 10:45. Admission to the grounds and program will be free but a small charge will be made for the races which will follow the sports in the afternoon.

PLANS IN THE MAKING FOR BIG GRESHAM DAY, JULY 31; TICKET SALE BEING BOOSTED

FAIR BOOSTER HATS FOR THE LADIES

A move has been started to adopt a distinguishing hat by and for the ladies of Gresham and of the county which will be as appropriate and conspicuous as are the cowboy hats of the men.

Whether it will be a cowgirl hat, a neat white straw, a fedora, derby, toque, turban, or just a tissue paper head gear, is to be determined by a committee of ladies, headed by Mrs. C. M. Zimmerman, according to arrangements made with her by a Gresham-day program committee consisting of members from the fair board, commercial club and other citizens.

Great preparations are being made to adequately observe Gresham day, which will be Thursday of the fair week. It will be a half holiday in Gresham.

The men will wear some distinguishing badge and it is desired the ladies do the same. Not only is this appropriate for Gresham day but also throughout the fair.

A committee, consisting of J. V. Cogswell, Roy E. Cannon and H. O. Bone, has been appointed to work out some special features for Gresham day. Just what these will be is not determined yet but the committee promises to put some pep into Gresham people on Gresham day. A unanimous response is expected from Gresham people. "It's everybody for it and the de'l take the hindmost." So it will be well to get in the lead.

The ladies are asked to report to the fair board at its meeting at the city hall next Monday night what style of hat they prefer. The fair board will adopt the one chosen as official for ladies. It is expected the ladies will have samples of hats at the board meeting.

The board hopes a large delegation of ladies will appear at the meeting next Monday evening and show their interest in the plans for the fair. All Portland is astir and agog with interest. The fair board thinks there should be a hearty response locally.

The queen contest in charge of Mr. Dyer of the Allton Best Carnival company, which has the carnival concession at the fair, is not intended to conflict in any way with the queen of the fair already chosen. This queen contest, which will be by popular vote, will select a queen for the carnival. Several popular Gresham girls will enter.

"IT AIN'T GOIN' TO RAIN NO MO'."

The calf club said to their leader, "Bill,"
We don't need to train no more.
We'll go to the fair with a right good will,
With the calves we all adore.
It ain't goin' to rain no mo'.
Can you beat this one?

The above verse for the fair song was sent the Outlook in the contest announced last issue. It was written by a club member. It is one of a dozen or more received since last Tuesday. There's room for more—send them in.

Look up the conditions, or call the Outlook.

Remember there are nine prizes from $1.50 to 25 cents. Contest closes Friday, July 25.

You rite 'em, we'll print 'em.

GRESHAM WILL HELP BENEFIT TICKET SALE

Several auto loads of ladies from Gresham and several board members are attending the great booster meeting for the Children's Farm Home benefit sale of tickets held in Portland today. Practically all organizations of the city are getting back of this campaign. This includes departments of the city, the labor organizations, men's and women's clubs, etc. Mayor Baker and Governor Pierce are backing it.

Miss Portland has been chosen queen of the fair and with her suite of attendants dressed in costly costumes will make a colorful showing. She will be crowned early in the fair. In the meantime the young ladies are assisting in the great farm home benefit drive.

Next Monday night at the Portland labor temple a great gathering of union labor organizations will be held in the interest of the campaign. The public generally is invited.

The campaign is on. It will be a whirlwind affair and it is hoped by the opening of the fair a hundred thousand tickets will have been sold.

Several booths will be opened in Gresham where Gresham ladies will sell tickets to the fair, both day admissions and season tickets, fifty per cent of which will go toward the boys building fund of the W. C. T. U. children's farm home at Corvallis.

The Outlook will continue as announced to sell the benefit tickets or take orders for them by phone or mail. Attention is again called to the coupon in this issue.

P. E. P. CO. GIVES FAIR GENEROUS BOOST

Not all big business and public service corporations are soulless. Among the few that are responsive to a community appeal is the Portland Electric Power company.

When President A. W. Metzger, of the fair board, and several Gresham citizens appeared before officials of the company on Wednesday to ask for certain needed service on the fair grounds and told of the effort being made to free the fair of its heavy debt the said officials practically said, "We are at your service, ask what you will."

At any rate the company ordered installation of new lines and transformers sufficient to adequately light the grounds, race track and grandstand and the services of an expert to help in arranging the lights to give the best results free of charge. The fair and concessions will, of course, pay for the juice.

The fair board which is trying to keep down expenses and pay off debts appreciates this generous assistance.

MICHIGAN PEOPLE GO HOME "SOLD" ON OREGON

A group of friends from Wyandotte, Michigan, have been visiting here for several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John Bliss, Mrs. Anna Engels and others and have returned to their home thoroughly "sold" to Oregon. They were given every opportunity by the Gresham friends to see the country. They were taken over the Columbia river highway where they enjoyed all the natural wonders and on the trip visited the Columbia Gorge hotel near Hood River. The beautiful drives in and around Portland claimed their admiration, as well as the many parks of the city, and the beauties of the Rose Festival were seen. They took a trip up the Willamette valley as far as Monmouth, visiting the principal cities on both sides of the river including Salem, where they went through several of the state institutions. At Monmouth they went through buildings of the Oregon Normal, through the kindness of Dean Todd and Mrs. Helen Camp.

The Oregon fruit was of special interest to the Michigan people, and on their return they took some of the fine cherries from the orchards of Mrs. Frances Stone and Mrs. Gladys Turner. They were greatly impressed by the spirit of the west and the effort made to show the country to strangers. They also commented on the neatness of the stores and restaurants. They are already making plans for another visit here within the next few years.

Those who have enjoyed the hospitality of the Bliss family and their relatives are Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bigler, Mrs. Kate Gabreal and son Henry and Miss Anna Cramer of Wyandotte.

20 CENT WANT AD FINDS $15.00 TIRE

S. Stenberg, a resident of Boring, placed a 20 cent want ad in the July 8 issue of the Outlook with little expectation of recovering a tire and rim that was lost between Gresham and Haley.

He was delighted after a day or so to have the tire returned to him, and he is now a fair believer that it pays to advertise.

SHAM BATTLE DECRIED BY WELL KNOWN WRITER

Portland, Oregon, July 15, 1924.—Editor Outlook:—I notice that one of the attractions scheduled for our next county fair is a sham battle staged by some unit of the state national guard. I have no doubt but that it will be attractive and will swell the gate receipts. But I am convinced that it is a bad exhibition to spread before the eyes of our young people. Battles are for the purpose of killing people, and all the shooting in the sham battle will represent to kill people—possibly just as good people as we.

If people the world over will only quit playing battle, there will never be another war. We cannot afford to have another war; and the only way to avoid another war is to refrain from making it attractive to boys to go to war. The uniforms, the noise, the regular mass movement of men on the field, the flags and the music all appeal to boys. They want to be in it and of it. But it is all for the killing of people, and war never kills the men who ought to be killed.

Neither the United States nor any part of it needs to practice war in order to defend itself. Secretary Hughes recently said: "So far as we can see into the future we are safe from the slightest danger from aggression. There is no reason to demonstrate our ability to take care of ourselves for no one doubts it."

Pomp and circumstances of war used to be very colorful and intoxicating to eye and mind. War now has come to be a competitive groveling in the mud; with mud-colored clothing, burrowing, dodging, hiding, camouflaging, killing from long distance. Bands, regimental colors, plumes and bright stripes are banished from the fight, and everything is of the color and nature of mud, mud, mud. Why try to make this sort of sordid business attractive to boys? Rather we should teach everybody young and old to think, peace, peace, peace. Thinking peace brings peace.

Postoffice Department Seeks New Lease.

Arrangements looking toward a lease to provide housing for the Gresham postoffice after January 2, 1925, are in the hands of J. R. Fullenwider, postoffice inspector, who was in Gresham one day this week looking into the matter. He has arranged to receive proposals up to and including August 10th, 1924, for furnishing suitable quarters for postoffice purposes at Gresham, Oregon, at a stated price per annum, including heat, light, water and good safe provided with burglar-proof chest, and all necessary furniture and equipment, under a lease for 5 or 10 years from January 2, 1925. Floor space of about 1200 square feet is desired.

Specifications and blank proposals may be obtained from the postmaster and a sample form of lease may be examined in the postoffice.

20th Century Stores to Picnic.

The 20th Century stores in and near Portland, including the Gresham store, will all close Thursday, July 24, that being the day for their annual picnic. After meeting at the warehouse at East Third and Pine, all the employees and their families will go to Crystal Lake park where sports, a ball game and eats will be in evidence. About 250 are expected to participate.

Growing Whiskers

What are thought to be the longest whiskers in the world are worn by an American in the middle west. They are 17 feet long.

—And it took 77 years to grow them.

Recently an eastern professor died, leaving an estate of $300,000. His annual salary never exceeded $1800 a year.

Steady, persistent, slow accumulations will grow a fortune as well as a beard.

Too many men take no thought of tomorrow and spend their time growing whiskers.

WHAT ARE YOU GROWING?

$10.00 a week deposited in this bank for 75 years will amount to approximately a quarter of a million dollars
