OBITUARY OF MRS. K. HAGQUIST

Mrs. Katherina Hagquist was born in Trolleborg, Skone, Sweden, January 11, 1834. She was converted in her young days, almost 50 years ago. She was a school teacher in Sweden for a number of years. She was united in holy matrimony to the Rev. L. N. Hagquist in June, 1878. Mr. Hagquist came to this country a few years before Mrs. Hagquist, but in 1880 she arrived in company with her niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagquist settled at Mears, Michigan, where they lived from 1880 to the year 1915, when Mr. Hagquist was called to rest in the spring. In the fall Mrs. Hagquist moved to Powell Valley, Oregon, to the home of her niece, Mrs. Eric Anderson, where she has lived until her death. She died Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock the 19th of July, 1924, at the age of 90 years, 6 months and 8 days. She has lived and worked for her Lord Jesus Christ about half of a century. She has been taking part in the Sunday school work, testimony and prayer meetings, as long as she was strong enough to do so.

She will be missed when her place is vacant.

Her niece's husband, Eric Anderson, and the children who have taken care of her during these later years, will miss her and also a host of friends will have her in sweet memory.

The funeral was held from the Swedish Mission church at Powell Valley. The pastor, the Rev. O. J. Wilner, officiating. The quartet sang two songs and Mrs. Karl J. Hagberg a solo. Very splendid floral offerings were given. Interment was in Douglas cemetery.

Next in importance to intelligence comes power. Everything we have comes from power intelligently directed. The World Power Conference in London, discussing the possibility of harnessing wind, waves, tides, sunlight, natural steam and hot wells and unused possibilities of alcohol production, is a most important gathering. Prince Conti says the United States of America could get more power from its hot springs in California, the Yellowstone, "Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes" in Alaska, etc., than from all our waterfalls. And think of unused heat, deep under ground.

Fire Out of Control Sweeps Large Section

A disastrous fire has been raging for the past three days in the territory between Boring, Pleasant Home and Kelso, and is entirely out of control. It is known to have burned over several hundred acres of farm land, brush and green timber and has threatened seriously a number of homes, though these were reported this morning to have all been saved by heroic work on the part of all who were able to fight fire. Last night the zone of danger was in the Kelso neighborhood and the E. V. Erickson home was saved, after it was considered as good as lost. A good many houses have been on fire and roofs will need to be reshingled or patched to repair damages. The Jonsrud & Gunderson mill is in danger and every effort is being made to combat the flames. Families in the fire zone have made every preparation to move out and to save as much as possible of their property, and in several cases household goods were moved in anticipation that the homes would be burned.

The main conflagration started between Pleasant Home and Boring, crossed the Mt. Hood loop highway at its intersection with the Boring road, went across the cross road between the Boring and Oregon City road and about half way down to Boring. It jumped to the south side of the Oregon City road and burned down toward Deep Creek. A change of wind last night whipped it back toward Kelso. Several small fields of grain have been burned and 200 cords of wood belonging to Ed. Herz, Lauderback's 80-acre pasture on the Decker place was burned over. About 25 or 30 head of stock were in the pasture. Some of the animals were removed to safety but a number were trapped and it is known that at least seven were burned. Five or six others are missing. The stock belonged to many different owners but the White Rose Dairy had the largest number.

Among the homes which have been in great danger but which were saved were those of N. H. Bickford, Max Kligel and Ned Nelson. The grain fields of O. Lindholm and Mr. Herz were burned over.

The origin of the fire is believed to have been in the Beers pasture, where a fire had been smouldering for two or three weeks, set perhaps by campers or berry pickers. It was not considered serious until Wednesday morning then a strong east wind fanned it. It happened that most of the men of the neighborhood were absent and enough help could not be obtained to control it until it was entirely out of bounds.

Several fires have sprung up along the Columbia river highway within the past few days, which are supposed to have been started by sparks from passing trains. The forestry service is keeping busy a chemical engine and a number of men in the effort to put out the fires while they can be handled.

Warning to Parents.

All fathers and mothers should be put on their guard by the death of the president's son. The boy wore shoes, or sandals, with no stockings, as thousands of boys and girls do, every day in summer. That is most dangerous.

The earth, everywhere, is impregnated with dangerous germs, including the germ of lockjaw, and innumerable other germs that may cause blood poisoning if a slight wound be neglected.

The feet and especially the toes, are more easily infected than any other external part of the body.

Cramped for generations in shoes, deprived of their natural blood supply, very often the toes lose their power of resistance to germ attack. Constantly you read of blood poisoning that starts in the foot.

Wearing shoes without stockings, neglecting a cut or blister, as children often do, any germs accumulated are persistently and continuously rubbed into the tissues and into the blood circulation, with no protecting stocking between the foot and leather.

The pluckier the child the more probability of a neglected wound. And boyish courage, unfortunately, is no protection against germ attack.

Lack of Maintenance Increases Paying

Albany, Oregon, has boasted of being one of the best, if not the best paved little city on the Pacific coast. Little argument would have to be presented to a traveler over its streets to convince him that the claim is not exaggerated.

In pursuance of its paying policy, it has recently awarded a $32,000 contract for 5-inch asphaltic concrete on additional streets.

While there is nothing unusual about this contract, the uniform policy which the city has carried out is worth noting as practically all of its streets have been paved with this form of material and the maintenance cost for the same has been nothing over a period of 12 years.

It is stated that it is this lack of maintenance cost that induced the city to go on with its program even though it could have laid other types of pavement for slightly less money.

Farm Reminders.

Most pigs marketed in Oregon are light weight, and are therefore growing as well as putting on fat during the finishing period. To get the best results, careful attention is given to balancing the rations so that enough protein and mineral matter will be provided to develop muscle and bone, the experiment station has found. The finishing period need not exceed 60 days unless a rising market warrants longer feeding.
