

FAIR BOARD SEEKS EARLY MEETING

The fair board has authorized the calling of a meeting of stockholders of the Multnomah County Fair to vote on a proposed amendment to the constitution placing the annual meeting for election of directors on the first Monday in October instead of December as now provided.

Secretary Pulfer has prepared notices which are being mailed to stockholders. He is making a call for the annual meeting and election to be held at the same time on October 6, next, provided the constitution is amended as proposed.

For many years the annual meeting has been held on the first Monday in December and the first regular board meeting on the first Monday in January following. This is found to be a disadvantage as it puts off too long the organization of the board for the following fair. It is believed that soon after a fair is held is the time to re-organize and start plans for the next fair.

It is also suggested that it would be an advantage if the by-laws were amended to provide for the election of about six new members each year, the others to hold over from one year to the next. This, however, is not to be voted on at this time.

Secretary Pulfer has his books up to date and will soon make a financial report and the same will be presented at the stockholders' meeting on October 6.

At a board meeting held last night a letter was read from an attorney of Portland referring to the accident which happened to a boy on the race track the morning following the military demonstration whereby the boy suffered a severe injury to his hand by the explosion of a blank cartridge and asked what the board would do about it. The letter was referred to Attorney C. G. Schneider and a committee consisting of Lewis, Hammar and Eastman, was appointed to investigate the matter.

As the boy was meddling, it is said, and was where he had no business to be, and the accident was the result of his own curiosity, and he was given immediate medical attention, it is believed the fair board cannot be held responsible for any negligence.

AYLSWORTH & MARTIN HAVE OPENING DISPLAY

A fine opening display showing new styles in clothes for men and boys has been placed in the show windows of the Aylsworth & Martin store, which is attracting much attention. Men's furnishing goods and shoes are also included in the display. Handsome garments arranged against an attractive background of autumn colors fill the windows. The prevailing style for men is shown to have a tendency toward fuller, looser cuts in coats and trousers, which give added ease and comfort and insure longer wear. Fabrics are decidedly improved in the way of heavier, more substantial materials, from pure virgin wool.

Besides the well-known line of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing, an added line of well-made, fully guaranteed suits of all wool material is shown at an attractive price well below the better-known line.

The velvet hats are favorites in the better, dressy sorts, and in felts, greys, browns and blacks predominate.

In men's shoes both black and brown calf skin will be in evidence and Oxfords will be worn throughout the winter. Specially made, substantial soles have been used in the manufacture of shoes for winter wear.

Indiana Society to Meet.

A general invitation of persons residing over the state to attend a picnic to be sponsored by the Indiana society, Sunday, September 7, at Peninsula park, Portland, has been issued. Members and friends of the federated state societies are invited to take basket lunches. The committee will serve hot coffee. A program is being arranged by Miss Lillian Sherland, Main 4178, to be held in the gymnasium following luncheon.

W. J. Todd and Chas. Wheeler have returned from a week end fishing trip to the vicinity of Bend, Oregon. They reported fine fishing there but were unable to do much themselves because they could not get boats, on account of the large crowd there.

PLEASANT VALLEY FOLK HAVE GOLDEN WEDDING

One of the most delightful events that has happened in Pleasant Valley recently was the celebration by Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Butler on Friday, August 29, of their golden wedding anniversary. Not only was the gathering of relatives and friends on the occasion a most delightful affair, but the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Butler have reached the 50th mile stone in their life journey together makes it an event of unusual importance. Comparatively few couples are privileged to celebrate this event.

The celebration took place at the family home on Pleasant View avenue. All of the children and most of the grandchildren and a few other relatives and friends were present to take part in the festivities. Long tables were placed under the walnut trees in the yard where the wedding dinner was served. In the afternoon and evening many of the neighbors and friends called to offer congratulations and to wish them many more happy years together. Mr. and Mrs. Butler were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. Butler was born in Ohio 68 years ago and Mrs. Butler (nee Higgins) is a native of Illinois and is one year younger. They were married in Seneca, Kansas, August 29, 1874, driving 20 miles in a spring wagon to the courthouse where the ceremony was performed, and returning the same day reaching home at midnight to eat their wedding supper.

They came to Oregon in 1888 and settled in Pleasant Valley on what was then unimproved timber land. They have made their home there ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Butler have been industrious and hard working, but have always taken an active interest in the community life and in its moral uplift and improvement. During their 36 years' residence here they have made many intimate and lasting friendships.

Nine children were born into their home, six of whom are living. Two children died in infancy. Those living are, Mrs. G. H. Kesterson, of Pleasant Valley, Ernest Butler and Mrs. J. B. Bartlow of Portland, Mrs. B. N. Galbraith of Oak Harbor, Washington, Elbert Butler and Edythe Butler living at home. Mrs. G. W. Rosebrook died several years ago. There are 11 grand children and four great grand children. Mr. Butler has two sisters and Mrs. Butler one brother and one sister, all living in Kansas. There are many other relatives, some of whom were present at the golden wedding celebration.

Among those present was Mrs. S. A. Burr, of Gresham, an old time friend of the family and the only one present who knew Mr. and Mrs. Butler when they were married. Mrs. Burr and husband came with Mr. and Mrs. Butler from Kansas to Oregon and settled in Pleasant Valley. A life long friend and an old school mate of Mrs. Butler sent to her the following original lines entitled "Fifty Years Ago" which were read on the occasion:

Just fifty years ago today!
A drop of that eternity
That was, and is, and evermore
Will be for you and me.

Just fifty years! and in my heart
A song of gratitude so true,
For all the days of happiness
And moments spent with you.

Yes, fifty years—and one small star
Has guided us upon our way—
The star of love, and in our hearts
One blissful perfect day.

For us this star has ever shone
Dispelling darkest clouds of night,
While over all the future glows
The radiance of that light.

Child Dies From Smothering.

Laurel Swift, the 9-month-old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Swift, died at the family home today from smothering due to weakness which has attended her life since birth. When found she had turned her face over into a pillow and was unable to turn back again. Besides her parents she is survived by three older sisters, the oldest being but seven years of age. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Squire have returned from an extended trip to southern California and into Mexico. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell of Portland.

U. S. Army Heroes and Planes in First Round the World Flight

"On, ever on, was the spirit that burned in the breast of Lieut Lowell H. Smith, in command of the round-the-world flight, who took command following the disability of Major Fred L. Martin in Alaska. Four planes started from Los Angeles on March 17. One fell out on the way to Seattle. This left two which have now reached American soil after their long flight, the first to cross the Pacific and encircle the globe.

AUTO RACE FANS ARE GIVEN THRILLS

The principal thrill given the 3500 racing fans at the automobile meet on the Multnomah county fair grounds on Labor Day was the collision of Phil Lennan in his Dodge racing car with a tree. Lennan took a header out of the car but was not seriously injured, though the accident put him out of the running.

The fastest time was 3 minutes and 9 seconds in the third race of three miles. Following are the summaries of the races:

FIRES THREATEN MUCH WOOD AND GREEN TIMBER

Several threatening fires loomed in the vicinity of Gresham yesterday and during the afternoon two alarms were turned in. A shack on the H. W. Strong farm which is part of the time occupied by Japanese farm workers, was burned to the ground with some articles of furniture. The family which usually occupies the place now resides in Gresham. This fire was said to have been started by a match which was carelessly thrown out of a car window near Cotton station, and the flames spread rapidly in the dry grass.

A fire which has been confined mostly to the brush and green timber on what is known the Anicker butte was raging yesterday fanned by a strong northeast wind. About 3,000 cords of wood in standing timber have been destroyed by Fred J. Anicker, covering an area of 75 acres, also at least 50 cords of ranked wood is in great danger, being almost in direct line of the flames. A wood chopper's cabin was completely destroyed on Monday afternoon, at a loss of about $150. The sawmill of Rodlun & Johnson has been reported to be in danger at different times from this fire, which started near the home of Attorney F. S. Senn.

Good intentions never put out fires.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Mrs. D. M. Roberts and Miss Alice Roberts are spending two weeks at Ocean Park.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ogden, who live near Hermiston, Oregon, but who resided in and around Gresham about six years ago, were renewing old acquaintanceship here last week. They were driving through to Seattle with a young lady, Miss Ruby Beebe, who will enter Seattle Pacific college this month.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lance and two children left on Monday for Seattle, where they will probably make their future home. They were former residents of the Milton-Freewater locality, but have been here visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Frank Hamlin. Mrs. Lance has two sisters in Seattle, Mrs. Fred Newton and Mrs. Bill Blizard, with whom they will visit for a time for locating permanently.

While engaged in carpenter work on the interior of the Masonic temple at Estacada Monday two local men, Roy W. Gibbs and Joe Douglas, also a man from Estacada were injured when a scaffolding gave way for a distance of eight feet. Gibbs was under the structure and is suffering from injuries to his hips and back, while Mr. Douglas who was on the scaffold has several fractured ribs. It will probably be a week or ten days before the men are able to resume their work. They were brought at once to Gresham, Mr. Gibbs to his home, and Douglas to the home of his sister, Mrs. Claude Stockton.

An 8½-pound girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Cowing, who live on the Base Line road east of Page's store, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Louise Kibbey of Cottage Grove, mother of Mrs. Cowing, has been with her daughter for several months.

R. M. Welch and a fellow workman, Wesley Bacon of Bull Run, are away for the week on a vacation trip to eastern Oregon. Miss Grace Welch is spending a few days with relatives in Vancouver, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory D. Roberts and son, Emory Jr., of Huntington, Oregon, were here last week bidding farewell to friends and relatives. They left on Saturday for Milwaukee, Wisconsin, their future home. Mr. Roberts has been selected as professor of engineering in the Marquette University at the above place and will assume his new duties about the middle of this month. He is a graduate of the engineering department of O.A.C., teaching in the school three years after his graduation. For some time he has been the chief engineer of the Sun Portland Cement company at Huntington.

Roy E. Cannon and Ray Strong are enjoying a week's hunting trip in and around Waldport, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Chalker and sons, Fred and Clinton, and Miss Beatrice Jackson joined a party of Portland people on an enjoyable trip to Manzanita over the week-end.

The Outlook is in receipt of a note from Miss Lucy Adams, who went several months ago to live near Waynesburg, Pennsylvania. She is now living in Waynesburg in a fine location overlooking college, school and city park. Miss Adams says, however, "I still think of Gresham as 'home' and believe it the finest country ever."

The Rev. and Mrs. M. Whetzel and son Earl spent the week-end at Pacific City, Oceanside and Netarts on a pleasant vacation trip.

Next Saturday will mark the completion of the second year of service to Gresham and vicinity by Hepp's Rackett store, and the occasion will be celebrated by a one-day special anniversary sale.

LOCAL BRICK WORKS DOES BIG BUSINESS

Local people do not always realize the importance of the resources close at hand until reminded from outside. This is true of the Columbia Brick Works located at Hogan. Many only think of this plant as a place where brick and tile are made. When they visit the new city of Longview or look upon many of the finest buildings in Portland they do not think how their construction connects up with the local brick making plant.

This is one of the most important industries in the clay-working field of Oregon, as described in an article recently in the Portland Telegram in which much inside information is given concerning this very complete but rather unpretentious factory in which many persons in Gresham and vicinity find employment.

The factory was started 17 years ago by A. Klose and F. Olbrich as a small, common brickyard. Since that time it has grown steadily in size until today it is one of the largest brick and hollow ware producing plants in the Pacific Northwest.

The plant is electrically operated and is equipped with tunnel dryers and a continuance fire kiln which makes it possible for continuous operation throughout the year regardless of weather conditions.

The kiln was invented by A. Klose, president of the company, and is designed particularly to afford economy in fuel consumption and at the same time guarantee uniformity of burn and quality of ware produced.

The plant is now engaged principally in the manufacture of hollow building tile, partition tile and fireproofing, Columbia rug face brick and common brick at the rate of 700 carloads a year. These products are distributed throughout the states of Oregon, Idaho and Washington. The city of Longview was largely built of brick and hollow tile from the plant.

Among Portland buildings in which large quantities of material from this factory were used are the Elks temple, Shrine hospital, county hospital, Mt. Tabor convent and port commission warehouse. The Ambassador apartments and Sovereign hotel buildings used not only hollow tile for construction of floors and partitions, but used Columbia rug face brick for facing, and an excellent example of this face brick can be seen in the Rose City Park Methodist church now being built at East Fifty-eighth and Alameda.

The Columbia Brick works reports a marked increase in the use of hollow tile and brick in the construction of private residence, home owners being interested in this form of construction because of its moderate cost and low upkeep and expense.

LEGION BALL TEAM WINS FROM BARTON

A winning game was played by the American Legion team of Gresham on Monday against the Barton farmers at Estacada in connection with the Labor Day celebration, the score ending 10 to 8.

It was a redhot game from start to finish witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd. The game at first appeared to be against the Legion boys until the last inning when Gresham scored six runs and thus turned the tide in their favor. Stockton pitched a good game with Quisenberry behind the batter.

The Legion lost to Arleta club on Sunday in an entirely one-sided game, 12 to 0. The weakness of Gresham was due to nearly half the regular players absent.

The game yesterday closed a very successful season for the Legion ball team.
