The Same Old Story

"Where is Jack Hardy," said a station agent to the conductor when the Oriental Limited pulled in.

"Poor fellow," answered the conductor. "Haven't you heard about him? He used to be one of the best brakemen on the Limited and was in line for promotion, but he lost heart and has been transferred to a freight division."

"You don't say," exclaimed the agent. "What happened?"

"Well, Jack got interested in oil and took a chance. He invested his life's earnings, mortgaged his home and even got his mother to put in the $10,000 her husband left her. Same old story. The bubble burst. Jack was ruined. And it sort of broke his heart to see his mother taking in sewing to make both ends meet."
