

Residents on Butte Petition for Road.
A petition is being circulated by R. F. Walters and Burt Northrup for the establishing of a road up Gresham butte. Mr. Walters reports that he has lived on the butte for the past 14 years and during that time there has been no roadway excepting such as might be a relic of pioneer days. The settlers on the butte believe they are entitled to a thoroughfare wide enough to accommodate two vehicles, and of something more substantial than dirt formation. The county commissioners are being petitioned to use their influence in securing a suitable road. Mr. Northrup and Mr. Walters have expressed their appreciation of the manner in which the Gresham populace have responded to this petition. Since the bridge over Johnson creek near the cemetery became impassable early last spring, the residents on Gresham butte have had no access to a county road excepting through a neighbor's field, for which privilege they are paying, and it is expected that even this access will be closed to them when the winter rains soften up the ground.

Petty Thieving Charged to Boys.
Two gangs of boys were engaged in petty thieving Saturday afternoon in the north part of Gresham. The first party consisting of three boys was raiding the cantaloupe patch of the Japanese who rents the Charles Cleveland place and they also visited the grape arbor of A. E. Malo uninvited. When detected, they made a rapid getaway toward Cleveland avenue. Later in the afternoon two boys appropriated corn from the patch of the Japanese mentioned above and disposed of it to a nearby housewife, dividing the proceeds. The names of these boys are being withheld, but they are being closely watched and further depredations will no doubt meet with proper punishment.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Mrs. Elizabeth Ball, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. D. R. Macaw this summer, left last Thursday for Los Angeles and Upland California where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. B. L. Walrad and Mrs. J. A. Bushong, delegates of the local W. C. T. U., drove to Corvallis Tuesday where they attended the state convention of the union, returning on Friday. Mrs. C. O. Horning, who lives near Gresham on the Section Line road, attended the convention also, being a member of a Portland union. The ladies report a most enjoyable session. There were about 155 delegates from the entire state, and among many interesting things the Chamber of Commerce of Corvallis tendered them a banquet at one of the O. A. C. buildings. They also visited the Children's Farm Home which is located near Corvallis, which in itself was said to be well worth the trip.

The juniors will give their annual reception to the seniors on Friday evening at Gresham union high school.

Mrs. James Sterling is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. J. C. Conkle, who came recently from Lyle, Washington, to visit here and with Portland relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Tuerck and children of Astoria, the former the newly-appointed special agent for the Standard Oil company who will fill the vacancy occasioned by the removal of H. O. Bone to Vancouver, Washington, arrived Monday morning to assume his new duties. They will reside in Gresham as soon as suitable living quarters can be obtained. E. C. Barnes, regional mechanic for the oil company, whose headquarters are at Willbridge, Oregon, has been here for the past week inspecting the machinery and the mechanical operations in general of the local plant.

Miss Loletta Hinshaw, whose home is in Caldwell, Idaho, and who is attending Pacific College at Newberg, visited her cousin, Miss Willa Bushong over Sunday.

P. F. Black and family attended the district quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist church at Hillsboro on Sunday.

William Fritz, Mrs. E. B. Kirkwood and Miss Alice Roberts have enrolled as students of the University of Oregon night school which holds its sessions in the Lincoln high school. They have taken up the study of advanced English in the regular college extension course, which when completed, will be credited toward a college degree.

Mrs. W. F. Tilgner, of Dallas, Oregon, visited Friday and Saturday with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tilgner. Friday evening they took supper with Mrs. Tilgner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson in Powell Valley.

Miss Augusta Hahn has been ill for several days at the home of Mrs. Albert Camp. Miss Hahn is the domestic science teacher at the high school and during her absence from her classroom, Mrs. Walter Ramser, formerly Miss Minnie Schrepel, domestic science teacher two years ago, is taking her place.

Mrs. R. M. Welch and children drove to Oregon City Sunday afternoon to visit an aged Minnesota friend of Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Mary Woodward, who is suffering in the advanced stages from a cancer.

Mrs. Ada Jane Walker of Pendleton, Oregon, arrived Monday for a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dahl.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Kellogg of Wattertown, South Dakota, the latter a niece of Mrs. B. W. Emery, with their five children and a niece, Miss Ruby Mattson of Spearfish, South Dakota, arrived Sunday at the Emery home. They left Monday for Springfield, Oregon, where Mr. Kellogg's father resides. They are South Dakota farmers and have rented their place for a year with the intention of remaining in the west for that length of time. Mrs. Emery and her guests went to Portland Monday to visit with the former's daughter, Mrs. Ruby Buckle, for a few hours.

GRESHAM

Dr. J. G. Sture has returned to his office in Gresham after an enforced absence for a week on account of an accident which laid him up temporarily at his home at Sandy. He was standing on a porch roof doing some work on the outside of an upstairs window when he stepped back, slipped on the wet shingles and rolled off the roof, falling 12 feet to a concrete walk. Fortunately he struck on his side, distributing the blow, and though badly shaken up and cut on the face, he is rapidly recovering from the effects of the fall.

Miss Ina Smith returned yesterday to her studies in the high school after having been in quarantine for small pox. Miss Smith was not herself af-licted with the disease but her sister, Mrs. Elsie Grimshaw, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arza Smith all had the disease. Mrs. Grimshaw will be released from quarantine within a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are rapidly recovering and are now able to care for themselves.

Two rooms on the west side of the Gresham grade school building are being fitted up as rapidly as possible as classrooms, which will be occupied by a part of the sixth and part of the seventh grades. Classes are now convening in the assembly on account of the crowded condition of the school and it is hoped the new rooms will be ready for the classes by the coming Monday.

O. I. Neal returned last week from a seven-weeks' trip by train to the east, visiting in all in 32 states during his absence, beside Canada and Mexico. He visited at his father's old home at North Berwick, Maine, where he found but one relative still living. He also spent considerable time in the state of Iowa, his own birthplace. He visited practically all the principal cities of the United States. He greatly enjoyed a view of Niagara Falls, a tour of the White House and surroundings, Mt. Vernon and Arlington cemetery.

A reception is being planned in honor of the high school and grade teachers, to be held at the public library Monday evening, October 20, to which patrons of the schools are invited. This reception will be under the direction of the local W. C. T. U., assisted by the Parent-Teacher association and the church societies. Committees will be appointed by these organizations to work out a suitable program for the evening's entertainment. Children will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents, owing to the inadequate seating capacity of the library.

W. R. Gaylor of Medford, deputy district attorney of Jackson county, and Mrs. Gaylor were callers Thursday on Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair, old friends and schoolmates in Minnesota.

Mrs. E. H. Kaser and twin daughters, the Misses Esther and Elizabeth, of Alaska were callers one day last week on the former's brother-in-law, K. Kaser and family. E. H. Kaser, who is a brother to K. Kaser, is an extensive fox breeder, having the largest fox farm in Alaska, which is situated on an island near Juneau. He specializes on Blue Blood Blues and Royal Silvers. Pelts are shipped from his farm direct to London and breeding stock is in increasing demand. K. Kaser is preparing to represent his brother in this vicinity and is building shelters and yards preparatory to receiving stock.

In the Outlook window may be seen a beautiful bunch of Muscat grapes which was brought in by Mrs. Thomas Wiles. These grapes are from two-year-old plants which were brought from California. It was thought the plants would not mature in this climate, but they have prospered, as may be seen from the sample, which weighs an even pound.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parsons, who live east of Gresham in the Beaver Bend locality, were the guests at Sunday dinner of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Auger, of Portland, the occasion being the 47th wedding anniversary of the Parsons. The gentlemen were graduates of the same New England high school, Mr. Parsons graduating in 1868 and Mr. Auger 20 years later. They were not acquainted at that time, but a friendship was formed in recent years since both families moved to the west which has resulted in many pleasant associations.

Miss Ruth Zurcher, of Portland, and her guest Miss Hilda Layton of Minneapolis, Minnesota, were visiting on Friday with Miss Florence Schenk.

Miss Elva Dolan went to Seaside Saturday where she may remain for a week or ten days. She has beach property there and will look after these interests while away.

The Rebekahs will hold a bake sale at the Cecil Metzger store Saturday afternoon, October 18.
