

TEMPLE WILL HOLD FIRST ANNIVERSARY

The first anniversary of the founding of the undenominational temple, of which the Rev. S. F. Pitts is pastor, will be fittingly observed the coming Sunday, October 26, by the usual services and also by the addition of special musical numbers. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, evangelist singers of Newberg, are expected to be present, also other special music will be added. These services started a year ago with 11 members and they have now a large following. Practically every Sunday people are present from Oregon City, Wichita, Bridal Veil and Portland. For the first eight months the Odd Fellow's hall was rented as a meeting place, but in July of this year the present commodious temple was dedicated. In addition to the regular preaching service, which is at 2 p. m., there is a flourishing Sunday school, of which Mrs. E. Davidson is the superintendent, which convenes at 10 o'clock. Among other interesting features of this school there is a class of 11 Japanese children taught by Mrs. Hans Larsen. Four auto loads from the temple went to Wichita Wednesday evening to assist in evangelistic meetings which are in progress there. The temple has also branched out along foreign missionary lines, having recently contributed to work in the foreign field.

If you go to the polls early on November 4 you will have the pleasure of knowing that you have done your duty to your country. Let's show the world how many voters we really have.

Political difference isn't as bad as political ignorance.

KOZER BASES CANDIDACY SOLELY ON HIS RECORD

Sam A. Kozar, secretary of state, is appealing to the people for re-election to a second term of office on the record of accomplishments he has made. He has put his best efforts into the conduct of his important office and promises to work faithfully and conscientiously as heretofore if given the office at the general election.

Secretary Kozar is not making a personal canvas of the state, but is attending strictly to the duties of his office, which he has conducted in a businesslike manner. It is certain that he will have a heavy vote in this part of Multnomah county and throughout the state.

Child Near Victim of Careless Hunters

William, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stone, of Fairview, was shot in the neck by a stray bullet at the hands of a careless hunter Wednesday, but fortunately he was not seriously injured. With a younger brother he was playing in the yard of his home, when one of two hunters in a nearby field evidently miscalculated the distance to the house and shot in that direction, hitting the boy. It proved to be merely a flesh wound, but was directly over the jugular vein. The mother informed the men that they had hit her boy, but one of them only turned to say, "I'm sorry lady," when they both fled and so far have made no inquiries. The authorities at Gresham were immediately notified but it was impossible to locate the men.

Grape Vines.

Wordens, Concord Vines, Niagaras, one year old. Splendidly rooted, sure fall planting. Harold Oberg, Craig road, fourth house north off Barr road, Taber 6014, Portland, R. 7, Bx. 966.

OREGON GOVERNOR GETS WRITE-UP IN MAGAZINE

Of special interest to Oregonians is the story appearing in the November issue of Woman's Home Companion of Governor Walter M. Pierce of Oregon, written by Frederick L. Collins for that publication. The author has made the rounds of 16 state capitols and has written up the governors in a most interesting manner. He shows a keen understanding of human nature and brings out the varied characteristics of his subjects in stories that are delightful.

Governor Pierce delights to be addressed by his first name, says Mr. Collins, and he is accustomed to answer his telephone with "Yes, this is Walter." As one of the biggest farmers of Oregon and the owner of "the finest herd of white faces you ever saw," the rural population of the state. He came to the state 40 years ago as a driver of mules and later of oxen. He has kept books, taught school and has practiced law. Of some of his methods as a governor Mr. Collins writes:

"Walter Pierce is also clever in the way he runs his office. Like most governors, he sees everybody who sends in his card; but he sees three individuals without any such formality. He calls these three men his deputy governors. They are neither elected to this office nor officially appointed. They are the 'State House men' of the three big Portland papers. None of these journals is editorially enthusiastic in support of the governor. Pierce is not a Portland man. He is the first governor from eastern Oregon. And he belongs to the party that is in the minority in the state. For all these reasons, the great Portland papers are exceedingly skeptical. But their three representatives, who cover the Capitol, walk in on Governor Pierce at all hours and under all circumstances. He does nothing in his office that they can't and don't know; and they know very little of what's going on outside his office that they don't tell him. He has established with these three newspaper men a fact-swapping basis which is more like the old Roosevelt regime than anything I have seen in any other state Capitol.

"While I was with him, one of the deputy governors stuck his head into the room.

"What's new?" he said.

"Nothing much," answered the governor, after he had called in the reporter and introduced him to everybody under his title of deputy; 'I've appointed a couple of medical examiners: one regular—and one of the small-pill fellows.'

"In return, the deputy told the governor of a mistake of seven hundred votes that had just been discovered in a primary recount. And then the group in the governor's office went back to its business; which happened to be whether or not a human being should die on the gallows!"

The story tells of Governor Pierce's interest in the various state institutions and his efforts to conduct them in an economical manner. There are 1800 patients in the insane hospital. "God knows how many there'd be if we had them all," commented the governor. "Even now, it takes a sack of flour every day just to make their gravy."

"The governor conducted his campaign on the issue of tax reduction," says the story, "so he has these matters of institutional expense very much on his mind. One of his proudest achievements is the record of the penitentiary furnaces, which burned up $60 a day before he came into office, and now, thanks to the refusal of the flax mill, cost absolutely nothing. He likes to walk around these state institutions and see the results of his own labors, and between you and me, though Walter would be the last to admit it, he likes the chance to say a cheering word to the poor unfortunates whom he always refers to as 'his laddies' and 'his boys.'"

Community Church, Bible Standard.

The Gresham Community church, Bible Standard, will hold its Sunday school at 10 a. m., followed by preaching at 11 by the Rev. F. E. Crook. There will be preaching in the evening at 7:30 by the Rev. Mr. Beazan. The young people's crusader meeting and prayer meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Let's not forget, election day is November 4.

I sell the Tackle that gets 'em!
RODS REPAIRED AND WOUND
TODD for TACKLE
Powell Street Gresham

DR. J. PARSONS WRITES FINE HISTORICAL BOOK

"Beside the Beautiful Willamette" is the title of a book just off the press, written by the veteran Methodist circuit rider, the Rev. John Parsons, who lives at Ventura Park, on the Base Line road. Dr. Parsons, the oldest pastor in point of service in the Oregon conference, of the Methodist Episcopal church, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. D. M. Roberts and is a frequent visitor in Gresham at the Roberts home, also occasionally fills the pulpit of the Methodist church here in the absence of the regular pastor.

The Rev. William Wallace Youngson, pastor of the Rose City Park Methodist Episcopal church and president of the historical society of the Oregon conference, has in a recent periodical given a splendid review of this book. Among other things he states that the title was suggested by the fact that "the first house in Oregon dedicated to religion and American patriotism was situated on the east bank of the Willamette river a few miles north of Salem, and from that house religion and patriotism radiated in all directions."

Some of the subdivisions are "The Oregon Sunrise," "Idyle of Old Oregon," "On the Old Oregon Trail," "In the Oregon Country," "Circuit Rider Days in Oregon," "Under a Sacred Tree" and "Taylor Street Pulpit," the last named being a chapter devoted to the history of Portland's oldest religious congregation. Dr. Youngson considers the Rev. Mr. Parsons as the "one man" eminently fitted for the authorship of this timely book, which is a portrayal of the debt due to the faithful ministers of the gospel in frontier days. The book will be placed in the public libraries of the state through the generosity of Mrs. Jacob Kaman.

Special Services at the Free Methodist Church.

Next Sunday, October 26, will be observed as Laymen's Day, at which time the laymen will have charge of the morning service. The subject under discussion will be "The Mission of the Church in the Community", and there will be four-minute discussions on the following topics: "Bringing the Gospel," J. J. Robertson; "The Church's Example," J. A. Bushong; "What may a Community expect of the Church?" D. M. Cathey; "Are We Fulfilling Our Mission?" P. F. Black. There will be Sunday school at the usual hour, and November 2 has been designated as revival day in the Sunday school. The young people's meeting will begin at 6:30, led by Willie Anderson, followed by preaching at 7:30.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Sunday school convenes at Linnememorial Methodist Episcopal church at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The school is graded with classes for all ages with a fine complement of efficient teachers and there will be a hearty welcome for strangers and those who have no regular church home.

The pastor, Dr. C. W. Huett, will speak both morning and evening. The subject for the morning will be "God in Human Life" or "Is the Lord Among Us" and at night "The Out and Out and the In-Between." There will be special music at all church services. A welcome awaits everybody.

Prayer meeting is on Thursday evening at 7:30 and the pastor invites all who love God and are trying to serve him to come.

Arcene Club Dance Will Open Season.

The first dance of the season to be given by the Arcene club will be given on Halloween, October 31, in the Masonic hall in Gresham. This will be a fancy dress ball and prizes will be given for the best sustained characters, as well as other prizes. Gig-gray's orchestra will furnish the music and the management will be of the highest order. The proceeds will go to the building fund for the Masonic temple.

Gresham Ministers Form Association

A ministerial association was organized this week at a meeting held in the study of the Rev. C. W. Huett, of which the Rev. E. N. Long is chairman, E. G. Judd vice-chairman and H. R. Gebhardt secretary-treasurer. These meetings will be held for the mutual benefit of the clergy and discussion of any questions that may arise relative to ministerial work. Any or all ministers of the community are invited to be present at the sessions. In this connection it may be said that plans are being formulated for a union Thanksgiving service to be held at the Free Methodist church on the morning of November 27, detailed account of which will be announced later.

Pianos, Radios, Phonographs.
$25 puts a new piano in your home. Radios and phonographs on easy terms. Paul Paimblad, Gresham, phone 467 or 289.—Adv.

Make your telephone earn you more by connecting it with a want ad.

SPECIAL MEETINGS IN THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Beginning on November the 9th, the Rev. M. G. Bentley, state evangelist for the Baptist churches of Oregon, will begin a series of special meetings in the local Baptist church. Mr. Bentley will be assisted by the Rev. J. L. Wherry, who is also engaged by the Baptist state convention and whose home is in McMinnville, Oregon. The Rev. Mr. Bentley is known throughout this and other states as a sane and successful evangelist and it is believed by those who know these men that their coming to Gresham at this time will not only result in much good being done among the Baptist constituency but that they will prove a valuable factor in helping to build up the best things in the community.

The subject for consideration in the morning service at the Baptist church next Sunday will be "Scriptural Discipline in the Local Church." There will be special music under the direction of Mrs. Clow in the morning and evening services. The subject for the evening service will be "Moses at the Burning Bush."

The Bible school will begin promptly at 10 a. m. Mrs. A. Gray acting as superintendent. The Baptist Young People's Union under the leadership of Miss Helen Ankoorn as president is doing splendid work. The subject for the B. Y. P. U. next Sunday evening is "Race Relations in a World Setting." The leader is Mrs. E. G. Judd. The regular covenant and business meeting of the church will be held next Wednesday evening, October 29, beginning at 7:30. Choir rehearsal is on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Schools Observe Frances Willard Day.

Frances Willard Day was observed with fitting exercises in the schools of the vicinity today in honor of the great organizer and temperance reformer. At the Gresham grade school Mrs. Mary Mallett, president of the state W. C. T. U., spoke on the poisonous effect on the system of alcohol and nicotine. Dr. C. W. Huett also spoke and a number of recitations and exercises were given by the pupils.

At the high school Mrs. Mallett gave an address on "Keeping Fit." Mrs. S. T. Clow gave a recitation. Short talks were given, on invitation of Principal Cannon by Mrs. C. O. Horning, Mrs. B. L. Walrad, Mrs. J. A. Bushong and Mrs. H. C. Larsen.

High School Band is Formed.

A high school band has been organized under the efficient leadership of Miss Dorothy Dickey, instructor of music at the high school, which will include about 20 boys as a beginning. They are enthusiastic and several of them already have purchased instruments and actual practice has begun. The classes of the mellophone, cornet, bass tuba and snare drum instruments are grouped together for a start, but after a few weeks individual instruction will be given. Dorothy Cooper and Melcher Duncan will play the cellos in the orchestra which was organized when school began. Miss Dickey will instruct the players for a few weeks to get them well started, after which another teacher will take up the work, as Miss Dickey has her time well filled with the regular school curriculum of music. This band is to be a strictly high school affair.

Zion Evangelical Church.

The special meeting last Sunday was well attended and everybody present enjoyed the messages of the Rev. H. L. Streich of St. Louis, Missouri, very much. He brought encouraging reports on the work of the various organizations within the Evangelical denomination.

Next Sunday there will be neither Sunday school nor church services. All members and friends are invited to attend the missionary services of the St. Paul's congregation at Eighth and Falling streets, Portland. Services will be held at 11 a. m., 2 and 7 p. m.

CAUCUS NOMINATES FAIRVIEW CITY OFFICERS

At the caucus held in the city hall at Fairview, Monday evening, the following nominations were made: E. E. Heslin, mayor; Roy Stone, W. D. Brooks, John Peterson and Ira Brooks, councilmen, three to serve four years each; R. R. Morrill, councilman to serve two years; James Burlingame, marshal; John Mollar, treasurer; G. O. Dolph, recorder; R. R. Morrill was chairman of the meeting and George Shaw acted as secretary.

Subscribe Now at Bargain Rates.

Outlook and Daily Oregonian, one year, $6. Outlook with daily and Sunday Oregonian, one year, $7.75. Mail only. Offer closes October 31. Subscribe through the Outlook.

REPUBLICANISM IS GIVEN BIG BOOST

A clear and forceful exposition of republican principles and a boost for M. E. Crumpacker, the republican nominee for congress from this district, and Tom Kay, candidate for state treasurer, was the result of a rally held last night in Metzger's hall.

The crowd was small and the old time campaign enthusiasm was lacking, though intelligent interest was shown in the subjects presented and appeals made.

Hon. George Caldwell opened the meeting with a portrayal of the benefits that had come to the country from the businesslike, tax-saving administration of Calvin Coolidge. He told of the task that confronted the republicans at the beginning of the Harding administration, following the abnormal conditions brought about by the war and the period of liquidation. He boo-hoed the charge of a do-nothing administration and presented an array of facts and figures to prove undependable achievements.

Mr. Caldwell defended President Coolidge and the republican administration against the various charges of graft, monopoly, mismanagement and exploitation. His talk was informative and convincing.

Maurice E. Crumpacker spoke in his own behalf and plead for the election of a congressman who would work in harmony with the state delegation and the president.

Mr. Crumpacker made a good impression. He spoke respectfully of the present democratic incumbent, who is a candidate to succeed himself, but took occasion to show his weakness and lack of harmony with existing conditions at home and at Washington. Mr. Crumpacker plead for adherence to party principles rather than to men as such. He is a born orator and a thoughtful speaker.

Tom Kay paid his compliments to Pierce especially in connection with the effort to elect Jefferson Byers as state treasurer. Mr. Myers is a success appointee and has stirred up a fuss over the administration of the state school fund, trying to show that the state has lost heavily through bad loans to farmers of the state from the fund.

Mr. Kay, who was state treasurer for eight years, and was succeeded by the late O. P. Hoff, as a member of the state land board was responsible in part for the loans. He explained the conditions very satisfactorily and showed that the people had no cause for alarm. He is a man of strict integrity and experienced.

AGRICULTURAL LEADERS MEET IN CONFERENCE

S. B. Hall, county agricultural agent and W. D. Kinder, county club agent, left Sunday afternoon for Corvallis to attend the annual state conference of agricultural men. This conference is held for the purpose of working out the various problems and agricultural conditions throughout the state and this one is pronounced the best the local men have ever attended. Here there is a general interchange of ideas of the agents which is mutually beneficial. About 34 county agents and seven club agents were in attendance. The first two days were spent in general conference and the third day the county agricultural agents and the club agents met in separate sessions to work out their respective problems for the year 1925, assisted by specialists from O. A. C. The United States department of agriculture was represented by Mr. Merritt, of Washington, D. C., who spoke at different times throughout the conference.

School Report Cards Now Ready.

New report cards for the grade schools of the county have been arranged by Supt. W. C. Alderson and are now available for the principals of the schools, on application to the county superintendent.

A BARGAIN Take it Quick!

The Daily Journal, by mail, four months, from now to February, 1925, for $1.65. Daily and Sunday, same, for $2.35.

This special short-term subscription carries you through the three big events of the winter.

1. The Presidential campaign and election.
2. The state legislative session in Oregon.
3. The short term of congress, which convenes after election and may be called upon to elect the next president.

SEE THE OUTLOOK ABOUT IT.
Phone 1561.

This is Republican Year

Support the Entire Party Ticket

IT'S COOLIDGE Make it Unanimous

Every indication shows overwhelming sentiment for Coolidge. The Literary Digest straw vote, both in this state and the nation, shows him at this writing leading his nearest opponent by more than two to one.

In urging votes for Coolidge, we ask Oregon citizens to elect to the congress men who will aid the President in carrying out his policies, men who acknowledge party responsibility, men who will keep faith with the people in carrying out the platform pledges.

YOU WILL FIND THOSE MEN ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Senator McNary deserves re-election. He has accomplished much for Oregon. Congressmen Hawley and Sinnott should be returned because of service to their state. Maurice E. Crumpacker, candidate for the seat of the democratic incumbent in the third district, should receive the votes of all republicans.

RESTORE THIS STATE TO CONTROL OF THE DOMINANT PARTY

It is important that all good citizens vote for Sam A. Kozar, candidate for re-election as secretary of state, and Thomas B. Kay, candidate for state treasurer, because their election will restore the affairs of Oregon, a strongly republican state, to republican control.

Through the accident of death, the governor has named his own state treasurer. This is an elective office and the people had elected a republican treasurer. By the appointment, the governor Pierce seized power not his by right and thereby dominates the state board of control. The balance will be restored by election of Kozar and Kay.

OTHER CANDIDATES, TOO, ARE WORTHY OF VOTERS' SUPPORT

Judge Harry H. Belt, of Polk county, and Judge Percy R. Kelly, of Linn county, are both able jurists and candidates of the party for justices of the supreme court. Judge Kelly being a candidate to succeed the late John McCourt. Both are eminently qualified.

I. H. VanWinkle, candidate for re-election as attorney-general; H. H. Corey, candidate for re-election as public service commissioner; Edward Ostrander, candidate for public service commissioner; and J. D. Mickie, candidate for re-election as state dairy and food commissioner, as well as the complete legislative and full county tickets, vouched for by the republican party, are worthy of support and deserve your votes.

Make Sure You Vote November 4

Republican State Central Committee:
I. L. Patterson, Chairman John W. Cochran, Secretary
(Paid Adv.)