B. Hemmers who have been ill with scarlet fever have entirely recovered, the quarantine has been lifted from the home and the children have returned to school.

Miss Inez Bell, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graves of Portland on a trip to Nampa, Idaho, where she will visit with an aunt.

The budget committee for Orient school district, consisting of the members of the board and three freeholders, met on Monday evening of this week and prepared the budget. It will be voted on at a meeting to be held at the schoolhouse on Saturday evening, November 22, at 8 o'clock. This is the third week of occupancy of the new schoolhouse by the school, which met during the opening weeks of the school year at the Orient grange hall. The building is nearly completed.

POWELL VALLEY

Mrs. John Hulander gave a delightful Halloween party Tuesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday, also for her aunt and three cousins, Mrs. Augusta Duffy and Violet, Marjorie and Frank Duffy, who came from Chicago last month to make their home in Portland. The house was decorated in Halloween colors and this idea was also carried out in the lunch which was served.

Russell Tillman began moving stock to the International Livestock exposition Friday morning. There were seven head of registered animals belonging to J. L. Bowman, on whose place Mr. Tillman is manager. Alvin Tillman will also have a calf on exhibit in connection with the calf club work.

The Deborah Ladies Aid will be entertained at the home of Mrs. A. Alm on Thursday afternoon, November 6, at which time all ladies of the community will be welcome.

John Peterson, of St. Paul, Minnesota, a traveling salesman for a fur company in that city, was a caller at the home of A. C. Arvidson Sunday. They were former acquaintances in South Dakota.

Miss Myrtle Soderquist gave a delightful Halloween party to a number of friends Friday evening. The refreshments and decorations were in keeping with the Halloween spirit.

Miss Frances Arvidson has accepted a position in the office of the Oregon Life Insurance company in Portland.

Miss Esther B. Cooley, assistant in the clothing department of the extension course of O. A. C., has written Mrs. Frank Gustafson, local club leader, urging the ladies to fill out and return the report cards sent out recently by the service, as soon as possible, otherwise the sessions of the sewing class are liable to be discontinued.

BORING

The Boring Rebekah lodge will hold its annual bazaar Saturday evening, November 29.

Lynch Parent-Teachers Will Meet.

The Lynch Parent-Teacher association will hold its regular meeting Friday, November 7, at the schoolhouse. After the business session there will be a program and light refreshments will be served.

FAIRVIEW

The regular meeting of the Fairview grange will be held Saturday, November 8, and will be called to order at 11 o'clock. During the lecture hour at 2:30 p. m., a discussion will take place of the bills that interest the farmers, those that will be presented at the next legislature.

The Woman's Society of Smith Memorial church will have an all-day meeting for work at the residence of Mrs. D. W. McKay Thursday. At noon a pot luck lunch will be served and the monthly business meeting held. It is requested that at this meeting the ladies bring material, also ideas, for the construction of articles for the parcel booth, part of an entertainment to be given early in December.

A congregational meeting will be held at the Smith Memorial church at the close of the Sunday morning service at which time matters of importance are to be considered, and the pastor wishes to especially urge that all members of the church be present at this time.

FORMER FAIRVIEW GIRL DIES AT WASCO

Word has been received by Mrs. H. M. Shaw of the death Sunday of her granddaughter, Mrs. John Appell, of Wasco, Oregon. She is survived by her husband, a 9-months-old daughter, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Shaw, two brothers, Albert and Donald R. Shaw, and three sisters, Mrs. Louise Royce, Mabel and Lois Shaw, all of Wasco. The body will be taken to Fairview Thursday for interment in the Masonic cemetery. Funeral services will be at the Fairview Presbyterian church, of which she was a member, at 1:30 p. m. Thursday.

Health Reminders

By Frederick D. Stricker, M. D.

Infantile Paralysis.

Poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, is not duly prevalent in Oregon at the present time. Reports indicate that it is unusually prevalent in other states. During the past two months there have been 27 cases and four deaths in this state. The Oregon state board of health has no desire to create unnecessary alarm concerning the disease but since it is epidemic and because flare-ups of poliomyelitis generally occur at this time of the year, the board issues the following statement:

General Precautions.

Keep your children away from crowded and congested public places. Do not let them play with any child or adult who is not entirely well. Keep your children off the street. Do not allow sick persons who do not belong to your family to enter your home.

Make sure the hands are washed before eating.

Rules and Regulations for Preventing the Spread of Infantile Paralysis.

Isolation is a useful measure for limiting the spread of this disease. It is often, however, without demonstrable effect because of the general prevalence of unrecognized cases and carriers.

An isolation period for the patient of not less than two weeks or more than three weeks from onset of the disease unless the temperature has not returned to normal in the meantime.

Children of the same household in contact with the patient must be restricted from places of public assembly for a period of 14 days from last date of contact, as determined by the health officer.

Adults of the household may continue their vocations provided they are not brought into contact with children at any time.

The discharge from the nose, throat and bowels of the patient must be disinfected promptly.

The caretaker shall wash the hands with soap and hot water promptly after handling such discharge.

The caretaker shall wash the hands similarly before leaving the room occupied by the patient.

Isolation shall be terminated by a thorough washing of the entire body and the hair of the patient. The room should be thoroughly cleaned with soap and hot water and should be aired and sunned.

Sick-room precautions should include the usual attention to cleaning and disinfection of eating utensils, personal and bed clothing, rugs, door-knobs and other things handled by the patient or caretaker.

Unless special covering and gloves be worn the physician and nurse shall so handle the patient that discharges shall not soil their clothing, special care being taken to prevent droplet infection. Physician and nurse should thoroughly wash their hands before leaving the premises.

The removal to hospitals of persons affected with poliomyelitis when proper care of patient cannot be obtained at home is advised, but during the earlier stages of the disease patient needs rest in the bed and transportation to a hospital might be detrimental to his welfare.
