

Bodies of Buried Workmen Not Recovered.

The bodies of the engineer, I. L. Schnavelly and N. E. Penyon, fireman, of the J. F. Shea excavating company, who were killed in a landslide Thursday evening near the Bull Run intake at the headworks, have not as yet been recovered. It is a question whether the men were buried under the tons of dirt comprising the slide or whether they were swept away by the swift current which prevails at this point. Two other men, pitmen near the shovel at the time, narrowly escaped with their lives. Powerful lights shot onto the water revealed the shovel to be entirely submerged by the water. About 3500 cubic yards of dirt came down in the slide and the force of the avalanche carried the heavy shovel with it. It is reported that both men were married and have families in Portland.

WOOD, WOOD!

If you haven't your wood see Cecil Metzger, Gresham, phone 1151.

Entertainment Date Changed.

The motion picture show which was announced for Friday evening at the Gresham grade school under the auspices of the Multnomah County Health association will be given on Wednesday evening instead. The change in date was made advisable on account of other entertainments on the same night. Two films will be shown, "Working for Dear Life," and "Preventing Diphtheria." No admission will be charged.

County Council P.-T. A. to Meet.

The Multnomah County Council of Parent-Teacher associations will meet at Gilbert school on Saturday, November 15, at 11 o'clock. Those going by electric car should take the Gresham or Bull Run car and get off at Gilbert station. The school is two blocks distant. A round table will be conducted, reports will be heard from the state convention, and the revision of the constitution and by-laws will be discussed.

GRESHAM LOCALS

The Rev. John LaDue, of Greenville, Illinois, and his sister, Mrs. Charles Kaddery, of Portland, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Cathey Monday, and in the evening Professor LaDue preached in the Free Methodist church. He will be remembered by old timers in Gresham as having lived here about 30 years ago. His wife was a sister of Mr. Cathey and Mrs. S. C. Jones and died in Illinois about six years ago. His father and mother, the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas S. LaDue, are buried in the Gresham cemetery. The Rev. Mr. LaDue is professor of Hebrew and theology, also is a chaplain in the Greenville college. He speaks, reads and writes in 11 languages. He returned from a trip to the Holy Land some time ago and is now on the way to Los Angeles to lecture on this trip. He was one of the principal speakers at a Sunday school convention which closed in Portland Sunday evening, which a number of Gresham people attended listening to his address with interest.

Miss Frieda Ramser has assumed the duties of bookkeeper and stenographer in the office of the Oregon Pickle & Canning company, to fill the place of Mrs. Melvin Johnston who has gone to Portland to reside. Miss Ramser, a graduate of Gresham Union high school, is a resident of Damascus.

J. T. and J. R. Horr are making improvements in the electrical shop which they recently purchased from A. E. Hamilton. Among other things they have on display a number of beautiful lighting fixtures. They also have taken the agency for the Kent-Atwater radio. The very latest is shown by them in an electric washing machine which dries as well as washes the clothes.

Word has been received of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bee who were residents of Gresham from 1915 to 1917, but who now reside in Howes Cave, New York. The boy who is the fourth one has been christened David Elwin. Mr. Bee was an instructor in the high school when living here.

A. R. Goger, of Pleasant Home, who is the father of Mrs. Robert Hardy of this place, recently shot a most unusual specimen of owl which was chicken-stealing on his premises. It is a very large bird, gray and white in color, and is being mounted by a taxidermist. An ornithologist who saw the bird pronounced it very rare. Gresham people will soon have the privilege of seeing this owl, as it will be on exhibit in the Hardy studio in about a week from this time.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Mrs. Ida Hengstler to Arthur C. Willis of Paonia, Colorado. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. B. Mead, of Montrose, Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Willis will reside in Paonia and the latter will dispose of her residence property in Gresham.

A sale of fancy work including pillows and lunch sets, also aprons, house dresses and handkerchiefs will be held at the grange hall Wednesday afternoon, November 12, beginning at 2:30, by the ladies of the Zion Evangelical church. A chicken dinner will be served from 5:30 until 8 o'clock. The large room in the hall will be utilized in seating the people as heretofore there has not been sufficient room. At 8 o'clock there will be a fish pond, candy sale and free entertainment. A program of musical selections and readings will be given.

The adjourned regular meeting of the city council was held Saturday evening, with but five present. The mayor being absent on account of sickness, the meeting was presided over by C. I. Raker. The ordinary routine of business was dispatched. All bills presented were allowed. A number of citizens have been asking for an extension of time in installing septic tanks which were ordered at a recent session of the council. Unless affairs of more than ordinary importance develop, there will be no further session of the council until Tuesday evening, December 2.

C. A. Norquist and family moved to Bull Run Tuesday where Mr. Norquist is employed as electrician by the Portland Electric Power company.

The COVERED WAGON
A JAMES CRUZE PRODUCTION PRESENTED BY JESSE L. LASK

Mr. and Mrs. Chase St. Clair entertained at Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lambert, of Jennings Lodge.

James Naylor is in Good Samaritan hospital in Portland where he underwent an operation on his knee last Friday. He is said to be getting along well.

Frank Jones has returned from Blalock, Oregon, where he has been for three weeks doing some carpenter work for Wash. McKinney of that place. On his return he brought back nine wild geese and a number of jack rabbits which he generously distributed among his friends. Jones says that the real goose hunting is not yet on and that he will return later to engage in the sport.
