NEWSPAPER SUCCESS.

Newspaper reporting, editing and publishing is not easy work. It is as hard as any other particular, complicated, laborious task. It requires intense mental application and the mechanical operations require unbounded skill and physical exertion.

Yet it is as pleasant as any pleasant work, and that's saying a good deal. There are few occupations, or professions, that one can take more interest in and feel a greater satisfaction when the task is completed.

Speaking of the writing end, Arthur Brisbane, said to be one of the highest paid writers in the country, says: "To believe something and say what you believe, to see things clearly and describe them simply, to know what the people think and write about their thinking, to remember that your constant loyalty belongs to the poorest man that reads your newspaper—that is all there is to newspaper success."

The mechanical work of producing a newspaper is equally important. In this respect the Outlook is more fortunate than the average, having adequate modern machinery and one of the best mechanical forces it is possible to obtain.

Few persons who read a newspaper, whether the big city daily or the "home town" weekly, or twice-a-week, have any conception of the intricate and almost infinite number of operations, little and large, necessary to produce the completed paper.

Yet with the best of plans and most painstaking efforts and high ambitions occasional failures will occur. Plans don't always work out. Unforeseen hindrances arise. A production that is dependant on so many persons and so many machines may meet with unavoidable delays.

We sometimes wish every subscriber and every reader could witness the production of one issue of the paper. If the said subscriber or reader was human there would result a greater appreciation of the efforts required.

Zero is about 25 degrees colder than it ought to be for comfort in this part of Oregon, but it isn't as bad as 35 degrees below reported at points in eastern Oregon.

Samuel Gompers, who died last week in Mexico, was buried yesterday in Sleepy Hollow cemetery near Tarrytown, N. Y. The body of the great labor leader has been viewed by hundreds of thousands of friends enroute to New York and in that city at the Elks club. The funeral service, led by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, consisted of the simple Jewish ritual for the dead. His dying message to American labor was to keep faith and cherish American ideals.

LONGEVITY AND SCIENCE.

Figures giving the death rate in the United States for 1923 just made public show a mortality of 12.3 per thousand as against 11.8 for 1922. Seven states, however, show lower mortality rates than obtained the preceding year. In years to come, statistics such as these probably will be regarded more with curiosity than with interest. What changes in longevity the human race is destined to experience in the next 500 years cannot even be surmised, but that some radical change will be brought about seems certain.

C. M. Child, under professor of the department of zoology, University of Chicago, has been experimenting with the lower animals and with plant life for the last 20 years. Finally he has proved it possible artificially to alter the general pattern of an organism. Using chemical agents, temperature and electric currents, animals have been developed with small and incomplete heads. Others have been developed without any heads, and some with abnormally large heads.

One of these days the human species may be reproduced with all its imperfections, only to be perfected by the application of natural forces that await the harnessing by science.

RAILROADS AND SOMEDAY. SEMI-FLYING MACHINE. HEARING THE ATOM. HER AFRICAN BLOOD.

President Coolidge will ask lower railroad freight rates and suggest that the roads can make up the difference by practicing economy.

That is not the railroad idea, however. President Coolidge will find that railroad management and railroad wishes are a department of our Government, although not listed as such in the Constitution.

The voters, when less prosperous times make thinking necessary, will decide to have a government running the railroads, instead of railroads running the government.

This is not said unkindly, or by an agent of bolshevism. The writer has a few thousand shares of railroad stocks, a few hundred thousands in railroad bonds. But it is desirable for railroad men to realize that it is not going to be mid-Summer for ever.

Admirers of the late Theodore Roosevelt will be interested in the statement, made by the authority of the family, that a newcomer from the mysterious realms of the infinite is expected in the Longworth family.

Mrs. Longworth was Miss Alice Roosevelt.

Those who have read Galton's Heredity know that the greatness of the father is handed down through the daughter, not through the son. The new little Roosevelt-Longworth may prove to be the reincarnation of Theodore. It will be interesting to see how his little teeth develop.

air, slung from poles far apart. Each car carries 100 passengers and the speed is fifty miles an hour.

Most interesting of all, the car, hanging below the steel cable, is driven along as a flying machine is driven. A powerful propeller, nine feet in diameter, worked by electric current taken from the cable overhead, pushes the car.

With power enough, and a big propeller, the car might as easily go 100 miles an hour as 50 miles. Then "New York to Chicago above the railroad, in 9 hours, for $9."

Dr. Mary Walker cared little about fashion, but the latest news from Paris would interest her.

The new "dress" is to be more like trousers than dress, a sort of slit skirt. Politics, athletics and common sense will finally do away with the cumbersome skirt. That impediment was all right in the harem, where it was worn. It's all wrong on the public street, collecting germs, preventing free movement.

A lawsuit raising interesting questions is coming. A young man named Rhinelander, whose people for several generations have not worked for a living and are, therefore, called "aristocrats," married a young woman with negro blood. Her people have always worked hard; therefore she is no aristocrat. The young man, annoyed by publicity and by the Ku Klux throwing stones through his window, now sues for annulment of his marriage, saying he was deceived as to his bride's race. She told him nothing about the negro blood.

If the young woman in the case fights, the question of her constitutional rights might be taken to the United States Supreme Court. New York State legalizes marriages between Africans and whites. The young woman in this case is nearly white. A man in New York could not get a divorce on the ground that his wife had deceived him about a British or Celtic strain of blood. What will the Supreme Court say about a few drops of colored blood?

Atoms of iron, so small that you wouldn't notice ten thousand of them in the corner of your eye, make a roaring noise as they rush to a magnet held near them.

Scientists of the General Electric Company have perfected a device that makes the roaring sound audible. If that's possible, may we not some day hear voices of our distant relations on neighboring planets? It isn't impossible. Nothing is impossible that men can imagine.
