Published every Tuesday and Friday at Gresham, Oregon, by the Outlook Publishing Co., H. L. St. Clair, Editor and Manager.

One year, $1.50, six months, 85c, three months, 50c. Single copies, 10c. Combination rates with all the Portland Dailies.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

VALUE OF THE CHURCH.

The church has an important place in the community, in conserving its morals and in shaping its intellectual and social ideals.

Especially does the church conserve human life by holding up a high standard of health of mind and body and purity of thought and conduct.

There are other institutions of purely human origin that do this also but not with the same insistence and appeal to religious motives.

Virtue for virtue's sake is good but virtue for Christ's sake and humanity's sake is regarded as an ever higher ideal.

The part of the church in guiding the young and instilling a reverence and love for high and virtuous ideals cannot be too strongly emphasized.

But to be truly effective there must be cooperation between the church and the home. What can the church do to save the young from the snares and pitfalls of sin if, in the home, discarding is thrown upon its teachings and efforts or a corrupting example is constantly set before the child?

The benefit of the church in a community, in fact, the necessity for its work of uplift and upbuilding, is generally recognized and encouragement is generally given.

Dr. Herman N. Bundeson, health commissioner of the city of Chicago, in a circular on vice conditions, in which he lays bare the alarming increase of the social evil and the extreme dangers to the young, urges parents to safeguard their children, among other ways, by bringing them under the saving influence of religious teaching.

Whereas: It has pleased the great master of the universe in his infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our brother, John Palmquist, and Whereas, We realize that we have thus been deprived of a faithful friend and brother, his wife and children of a kind husband and father, and the community of a good citizen, therefore be it

A good colony of bees at the beginning of the main honey flow should consist of one selected queen and 75,000 to 100,000 workers.

Heavy pruning of winter injured fruit trees should be delayed until the extent of the damage has been determined, says the experiment station.

Promiscuous pruning or cutting back now may remove some of the best wood in the tree, which cannot be told from the damaged wood until later in the season.

"Mere laws cannot create morality. Force does not create righteousness. These qualities come from within, from the soul and from the enlightened mind."

One of the important building activities in Portland in which many men in and near Gresham are interested is the building of a new home for Multnomah Camp No. 77, Woodman of the World. This camp was organized in 1891.

Its present location and the location of the new home is at the corner of East Sixth and Alder streets. Of the camp's 6400 members there are several hundred living in the eastern part of the county outside of Portland.

The new home will cost about $125,000 and work on the new building will start at once and will be finished by fall. The plans were drawn by W. W. Lucius, a member of the Camp. The plans call for a two-story and basement concrete structure with exterior of brick, embellished with cast stone and wrought iron trimmings.

The interior will be finished with terrazzo floors and marble wainscoting. The building will be 110x138 feet in dimensions. The main auditorium and lodge hall, located on the first floor, will be 70x99 feet in area and is designed to seat 750 people.

Adjoining the lodge hall are ante rooms, check rooms and general offices. A ladies' parlor also is located on the first floor.

In the upper story will be a hall 40x50 feet in dimensions for use of ladies' organizations, a drill team hall 25x40 feet, ante room, candidates' room and doctor's room. Lockers also will be provided for members of drill teams.

The basement will house a banquet hall 50x60 feet in area, a kitchen, hand ball and volley ball courts, a gymnasium equipped for wrestling and boxing, reading and writing room, card room, billiard and pool tables, a refreshment bar and space for storage, heating and ventilating plants.

Clark, J. A. Beard, C. C. Hall, M. B. George, J. E. Dunne, Judge Richard Deich, A. J. Rose, G. A. Samuels and J. O. Wilson, all well known citizens of Portland.

Sandy Resident Dies Suddenly. Albert Schwartz, a resident near Sandy for several years past, died at his home Friday at the age of 25 years, from diabetes.

While the deceased had not been in the best of health for some time, his passing away was very sudden and a severe shock to his immediate relatives. He had worked Monday as usual, but was taken ill on Tuesday with an acute attack of the disease and regardless of the best of medical attention, passed away Friday morning at 1 o'clock.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lonmore Schwartz, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Schwartz, seven sisters and three brothers. The funeral services were held from the Lutheran church at Sandy on Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Rev. F. Dobberfuhl, and interment was in the Sandy cemetery.

There were 70 machines in the funeral procession, a number coming out from Portland.

Recluse Dies Near Cherryville. Charley Harris, a rather eccentric bachelor who had lived alone on a ranch near Cherryville for the past 30 years, died there Saturday at the age of 67 years.

He had been ill only a few days, but had been delirious part of the time. Through the kindness of neighbors he had received care and attention and all was done for him that apparently could be done.

Nothing is known or can be learned of his relatives, if he had any living. The funeral was held this afternoon from the Cherryville church.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank our friends for the sympathy and beautiful floral offerings at the death of our beloved mother.

Mrs. Hannah Wood, A. J. Staffenson, S. M. Staffenson, J. A. Staffenson, P. A. Staffenson, C. A. Staffenson, F. A. Staffenson and Families.

Miriam C. Hamilton, 16 years old, of Chicago has been elected a member of the board of a life insurance company which her father founded.

Mother of Local Man 100 Years Old. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dahlhammer and daughter Edith have returned from Abilene, Kansas, where they went early in February to be present at the hundredth birthday celebration of Mr. Dahlhammer's mother.

They found the aged woman in fairly good health but unable to see the hundreds of people who desired to see and shake hands with one who had lived for a century.

Many tokens of esteem were sent her, among them a resolution passed by the legislature, then in session, signed by the governor and other high officials and stamped with a seal of the state.

Only about 50 persons were admitted to her room on her birthday. In spite of her great age, Mary Dahlhammer has few descendants.

B. F. Dahlhammer is the youngest of four living children. There are four grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

George Dahlhammer of the Gresham high school is the only grandson of the aged woman.

Busted! Younger—"How did you like the basketball game?" Older—"Nothing to it. I left after about ten minutes. There was all them young huskies trying to get the ball in the basket—and blame me if any of them noticed there wasn't a bottom in either basket."
