Thirty-eight of the high school students surprised Adaline Evans by gathering at her home last Friday evening where the evening was spent in playing games.

Owen Emily returned from the Shriner's hospital last week.

The Parent-Teacher circle held its monthly meeting last Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance. Refreshments were served.

PLEASANT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carlson, the latter remembered as Miss Mabel Sloo, are the proud parents of a baby girl born April 18 at the residence of Mrs. A. Radford, of Sandy Bluff.

The Orient Parent-Teacher association has changed the date of its meeting from April 24 to April 23, the meeting to be held at the schoolhouse in Orient on the latter date. The change was made on account of the program to be rendered by the Willamette University Glee club at the high school on Friday evening. The P.-T. A. program, which will include several numbers from Gresham musicians and singers, promises to be an interesting one and will be followed by refreshments.

In a newly compiled report of the American Jersey Cattle club which shows the state champion Jersey cows for the state of Oregon, appears the name of "Empress Lass of Ingleside" the property of B. C. Altman, an extensive raiser of Jersey cattle. In 365 days she produced 911.52 pounds of butterfat and 15,389 pounds of milk.

FARMER MAKES PLEA FOR AGRICULTURE

Walter Ramser, writing to the Outlook from Union Home, makes a plea for the building up of the agricultural course in the high school, and sends in items of interest concerning that thriving community in the following letter:

The agricultural course in the Gresham High school seems to be destined to become a real storm center. Because interest in that course is said to be lacking, the whole thing may be ultimately discontinued. Now the question is: can students no longer be induced to take up agriculture because farming does not appeal to them, or are they being discouraged, directly or indirectly, by making other courses more attractive? The writer, for one, fully appreciates the value of athletics, especially during high school age. But I have been often wondering how the students can do justice to their studies when athletics seem to be the chief attraction, nursed and fostered at every opportunity. If agriculture, which is of a vastly greater importance nationally than athletics, were as much encouraged as the latter, there would not be any sufficient reason for complaint about interest in this course. Dr. C. W. Huett, in his recent defence of agriculture in our high school, rightly states that farming is the most utterly demoralized business of consequence. With practically all other forces, political, industrial, and even educational, fighting us, disorganizing and robbing us, prejudicing us, one against the other, and then schools and colleges luring the best of our young folks away from farming by making everything else, such as the professions, and office work, more attractive, more desirable, is it a wonder that the farmer's boys take up other courses of study than farming?

Rather than discontinue this course, include in it agricultural economy, explaining the principles of the Rochdale system, showing how cooperation benefited the Canada wheat farmers, the Jersey dairymen; the Jersey Island breeders, the California fruit growers, the Hood River apple growers. Get a man to teach this branch of the work who believes in cooperation like Rockefeller believes in oil and as Ford believes in his flivver, and the agricultural course will make our most distinguished high school

Guy Hayes has gone back to his old job of scaling lumber. He has been here about a year and a half, working the farm of J. S. Yeast, his father-in-law, for half the crop, he doing most of the labor and Mr. Yeast furnishing everything else. Now most of the stock is sold and Mr. Schwedler is doing the chores when Mr. Yeast is in town.

Al Peier, new road master, has been doing quite a bit of road work recently, which is much appreciated, especially that on the Taylor road.

Rudolf and Herbert Mullenhoff are keeping things humming up on their hill. Buying and delivering alfalfa hay in carload lots, doing trucking for the neighbors and caring for their ten acres of raspberries, besides some strawberries, is surely keeping them busy.

Mr. Lenke is cutting wood for Ramsers.

The Riverview milk truck is no longer making this route. A private truck is now running in the opposite direction for the same company.

We no longer get our Journal at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, nor does it come from Gresham. But a Mr. Benson from Jenne station, between Linemenn junction and Sycamore, gets the paper from the stage at Linemenn and arrives here about 5 o'clock, this being near the end of his route. From here he goes down the cut-off and straight home. Mr. Benson delivers nearly 200 dailies, and many more on Sunday.

Mr. Schubert had some 1000 of his own eggs incubated, of which about 700 hatched.

Schwedlers got 500 chicks from Mrs. Eckstrand of the Maple Leaf Poultry Farm, which is located on the lower end of the cut-off road on the Foster road.

S. A. Roberts seems to be one of the most successful berry growers. Last year he harvested nine and a half tons of raspberries from three acres of ground. He keeps in close touch with O. A. C. and strictly follows its advice, consequently his success.

Louis Hoffmeister, who had been seriously ill during the winter, is out of bed again, very much improved.

Wilson corners sees more Sunday traffic averaged every year. Recently the traffic averaged a car every five minutes from about 2 to 6 in the afternoon.

Mr. Kuch is doing carpenter work in Portland.

Donahue brothers set out several acres of strawberries.

E. P. Schedeen is on the board of directors for the berry growers. He is representing a mighty fine berry section.

A. Ash, successor to Mr. Westlund, has as nice a patch of strawberries as there is in the country.

Mr. Smith got some government powder and is now busy clearing land for cucumbers for Mr. Stafford of the Oregon pickle factory at Gresham.

George Rodlan is hauling cordwood to Gresham for Mr. Smith.

SANDY BLUFF
 May Chandler, four years old, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith of Portland, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Brook, passed away at Good Samaritan hospital after a brief illness. At first doctors were unable to diagnose the trouble but she at the last developed symptoms of spinal meningitis. She has been making her home with her grandparents for some time. She was laid to rest in Multnomah cemetery. The services were held at the grave. Besides her parents she leaves to mourn their loss a brother, the grandparents and several aunts and uncles.

Mrs. G. S. Wilkenson entertained Sunday, their sons Ray and wife O. Hillsdale, and Chas. and wife.

Mrs. G. W. Lusted of the Lusted district is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Watkins.

The Parent-Teacher association was unable to get the play "The Man From
