

FREE COOKING SCHOOL WILL AID HOUSEKEEPERS

Mrs. Rose Bartlett Will Give Four Lectures and Interesting Demonstrations Beginning Thursday in M. E. Church

MAYOR CLEVELAND WILL WELCOME LADIES

All is set for the opening on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the social room of the Methodist church of the Outlook's free cooking school. This will be the first of four free lectures and demonstrations given by Mrs. Rose Bartlett under auspices of the Gresham Outlook and the Home Service department of the Portland Gas company. The other dates will be as follows: Monday, June 1; Thursday, June 4; Monday, June 8.

The hour will be from 2:30 to 4 each afternoon. These lectures and demonstrations have been a great success in such cities as Oregon City, Hillsboro, Forest Grove, Portland and Vancouver, Washington. It is really offering Gresham a special privilege to arrange for a "school" here and the Outlook has undertaken to help make the occasion a success. It is for all women of the city and country who want to see demonstrations of the best cooking done by modern methods.

Special facilities have been installed which will provide accommodations for at least 150 women. The seating arrangement will permit full view of the demonstration platform from all parts of the hall but, of course, those who come early and secure front seats will enjoy some advantage over those who are farthest removed from the platform. However, Mrs. Bartlett has an excellent voice for lecturing and can be easily heard from all parts of the auditorium.

The first class menu and program for Thursday afternoon will be as follows: Biscuits, orange biscuits, coffee cake, apple cake, pigs in a blanket, nut bread, corn bread or Johnny cake. Recipe sheets, covering the full details of each item on the program, will be handed out to all attending the class lectures. In like manner, the recipe sheets will be furnished later classes and should be preserved for future use in the home. It is also planned to furnish the ladies attending with other interesting information pertaining to modern cookery. Also some interesting things for the children, with designs for coloring and nursery rhymes will be given at one of the classes.

Of special interest are the free door prizes, which will be given at the closing class for those who have attended the course. These door prizes will consist of a Marvel vacuum sweeper, large size cake griddle and a waffle iron.

Mrs. Bartlett will prepare practically all of the recipes used for demonstration during the class period. The ladies present will have the pleasure of seeing the food prepared, placed on the modern gas range or in the oven with automatic control and removed on schedule time perfectly.

Man Kicked by Mule.

Fred Chamberlain, who resides at East 78th street North but who has been staying with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer near Palmbad station, while currying a mule early Monday morning preparatory to beginning the day's work, was kicked in the face by the animal and sustained a badly lacerated wound and fracture of the frontal bone. The mule is not noted for having the kindest disposition in the world and on numerous occasions had shown the vicious side of his nature. Mr. Chamberlain was taken entirely unawares and was unable to get out of the way. Dr. A. W. Botkin was summoned from Gresham and took the injured man to the Portland sanitarium where the depressed fragment of bone was removed, and unless complications of infection should set in, the physician believes the patient is in no danger from the results of the unfortunate occurrence.

AGED COUPLE WEDDED SIXTY-TWO YEARS

Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Botkin, who for the past 13 years have resided about a half mile east of Cherryville, celebrated their 62d wedding anniversary at their home Sunday, surrounded by about 30 relatives and friends. Their three children, Dr. A. W. Botkin of Gresham, Mrs. Ida Graham of Mt. Tabor district, Portland, and James Botkin of Estacada were present with their families. A long table was spread under the cedar trees near the house and the dinner served picnic style. Mrs. Botkin, who is past 90 years of age, received many congratulations upon her complete recovery from her accident of last November when she broke her thigh at the hip joint. She can walk very well now without the assistance of a cane.

Dr. and Mrs. Botkin were married in 1863, just the time the war of the Rebellion was at its height. At the beginning of the war young Botkin had enlisted in the infantry, where he served about two years. He was then discharged and returned to Keosauqua, Iowa, and was united in marriage to the lady of his choice. He then re-enlisted in the cavalry department and was sent south with the western division of the army where he remained until the close of the war. Dr. Botkin, the well known Gresham physician, was 15 months old before his father saw him for the first time. As soon as the war ended the young soldier took up the study of medicine and practiced in Illinois for several years, coming to Oregon in 1883 and settling near Mt. Tabor where he was employed as a practicing physician for over 30 years.

Maxwell Schneider Passes away.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Portland crematorium for Maxwell Schneider, for about 15 years a resident of Gresham, who passed away on last Saturday at Salem, Oregon. The services were under the direction of the Gresham Masonic lodge and were conducted by Wm. Congdon, who came from Vernonia for that purpose. Dr. A. Thompson offered prayer. About 25 Masons from the Gresham lodge were present, also a number of former neighbors and friends. Mr. Schneider, who was a native of Germany, was 70 years of age. He was a resident of the Damascus community before moving to Gresham. He is survived by his widow.

POPPIES ARE WORN IN HONOR OF DEAD

Many people in Gresham will wear crimson poppies on next Saturday, Decoration Day, in memory of the brave American soldiers who gave their lives on Flanders Field for the cause of liberty. Many will perhaps wear them without thinking of the reason. All should know the origin of the custom and the source of supply of the flowers which will be worn by many patriotic citizens.

Those sold in Gresham were made by patients in the Veterans' hospital, Portland, who have no government compensation. They get a small return for making them, and that is often all the spending money they have. They are very thankful for the opportunity of making them. A part of the returns from the sale go to a fund for the relief of sick soldiers and the widows and orphans of those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

The story of the poppy is beautifully told by a member of the Eugene, Oregon school. The story, which won a prize, is as follows:

"In France and Belgium, the countries you heard so much about during the world war, the people lived happily enjoying the freedom of their beautiful country, when one day came vast numbers of German soldiers who laid waste their land. The huge guns of the Germans did not spare anything, homes were wiped out, families were separated and millions gave their lives at this time. The United States entered into this conflict sending our boys across to help turn the enemy back that liberty might prevail in the world. As we all know, many of our men were killed or died in service over there and now lie buried in the soil they helped to save.

"In the spring of 1919 after the war on Flanders Field, where the firing had been terrific and tens of thousands of our boys had fallen in battle, in the midst of complete devastation, the bright red poppies came up in abundance. The French people tell you today that the poppy is significant of the sacrificial blood of the boys. Those who have traveled through France during the war, tell us it is peculiarly true, that where the battle was the fiercest and the bloodshed the greatest, the poppies to this day grow more profuse."

PREMIUM LISTS ARE NOW READY

The Outlook is now completing the printing and binding of this year's list of premium awards and copies are being delivered to the secretary who already has many requests on hand. Copies may be had at the Outlook office if more convenient to call.

The book this year is the same in size and general arrangement as last year but many changes have been made in the items and awards. The committee, of which S. B. Hall was chairman, has tried to eliminate as far as possible the out of date items and simplify the list under the various departments.

Just two months remain until the opening date of the fair, or nine weeks to be exact, and this short time will go all too quickly to allow for the necessary preparation for the big event.

FIRST AID WORK PLEASES.

The fall vacation Bible school which is now in its second week of progress at the grade school is proving interesting to the 60 or more students enrolled. New features are being added each day of this the closing week and on Tuesday a first-aid class in charge of Dr. A. W. Botkin was begun, which will be addressed by other physicians from day to day. On Wednesday the subject of landscape gardening will be discussed by G. K. Jenner who will transfer the pupils to the high school where an objective lesson will be given them on ground beautification. Dr. H. V. Adix will speak to the school on Thursday and on Friday Dr. W. J. Ott will be in charge of the first aid work. The school session will close Friday with a picnic in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, near Hogan station, to which parents and friends of the pupils are invited. Ice cream and cake will be served.

"Baby Farm" Head

Helen Geisen-Volk is under arrest and N. Y. City authorities are investigating the deaths of 23 babies in 17 months at her "baby farm." It is charged babies left there were starved and brutally treated.

Gresham Growers May Have "Kiddie Kamps"

The Gresham Berry Growers are considering a plan for cooperating with the Council of Women for Home Missions in establishing a day nursery for several weeks during the summer while there is the greatest demand for workers. The details of arrangement will be presented in the meeting of the association, Thursday night, May 28, by Miss Louise F. Shields of Portland who organized the Hood River "Kiddie Kamp" last fall and is executive for this work in Oregon and Washington under the Council of Women.

It is obvious that the berry grower who hires competent help at the beginning of his season and keeps the same workers until the last berry is picked saves much grief. His neighbor who changes crews every few days loses much of his own time in sizing up new applicants and showing them how to do the work, and often loses a part of his crop.

A day nursery tried out at Hood River last fall during the apple harvest proved of value in attracting families who "picked clean" and who wanted their children under good care while they worked, and helped to hold them on the same ranches until the end of apple picking. It also made possible for women living in the valley to work without anxiety about their children, and so reduced the need for employing "floaters."

The Hood River Apple Growers' association appointed a committee of its members to cooperate with the Council of Women for Home Missions, a national organization of 20 denominations, in arranging for the day nursery, or as the neighborhood called it, "The Kiddie Kamp." The officers of the Hood River association have suggested two centers instead of one for the apple harvest of 1925.

Nutrition Classes Announce Dates.

Remaining nutrition classes for the month of May are as follows: Fairview, Wednesday, May 27; Lents, Thursday, May 28; Victory, Friday, May 29.

The program for the classes on these dates are:

Morning demonstration on milk and trays for the sink; afternoon talks on home special diets; how to eat and grow fat, how to eat and grow thin, diets for colds, etc. In addition to this program at Lents and Victory, County Agent S. B. Hall will talk on garden problems.

GRESHAM STORES WILL BE CLOSED SATURDAY

The Gresham stores will observe Decoration Day next Saturday by remaining closed all day. This is in accordance with their former agreement to observe unitedly certain holidays and their specific agreement to observe the custom the coming Memorial day.

For the accommodation of their customers the stores and markets will generally be open on Friday night this week as if it were Saturday night.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES MANY

The class of 1925 of Gresham Union High school has passed into history. An attentive audience of local people supplemented by numerous visitors from neighboring towns, packed the gymnasium and listened with interest to the varied numbers of the program. The class, which numbered 23 girls and 20 boys marched down the aisles to the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's "March from Athalia," played by the high school orchestra. The boys' and girls' glee clubs each rendered selections during the evening which were well received.

Rinar Mattson, president of the student body and prominent in class affairs throughout the year, won much applause by his splendid oration on "Americanism." The commencement address delivered by Edwin T. Reed, college editor at Oregon Agricultural college was much enjoyed and Mr. Reed held the attention of his audience to the last word. He chose for his subject, "Speed, Power and Control" and based his remarks on present day inventions and the wonders of modern science. He closed with a remarkable word picture of the sinking of the "Titanic."

Principal Cannon announced the names of ten of the honor students for the past year as follows: Florence Arnot, Wilma Chase, Stafford Dowsett, Louise Emerson, Agnes Lundquist, Rinar Mattson, Gertrude Sharkey, Geneva Simonson, Hortense Soward and Frances Welling. A scholarship to Whitman college at Walla Walla was awarded to Rinar Mattson and Miss Louise Emerson was given a scholarship which entitles her to a choice of several colleges. Mary Kniefel has the distinction of being the youngest student in the class. She will be 15 years old the coming July.

WEEK END BRINGS MANY AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

The past week end was well filled with the past of untoward automobile accidents in this locality, in only one of which, however, was there a loss of life. Peter Weigant Jr., of Portland, aged 19, was the unfortunate victim of an accident which occurred Sunday afternoon on the Base Line extension which skirts the bluff of the Sandy river, on the northeast edge of the Mountain View Floral company. He and his twin brother, Edward, were riding on a motorcycle, Edward manipulating the machine and Peter riding in the sidecar. They attempted to pass a machine in front of them, but failing in this, turned over and were struck by a motorcycle coming behind them. An automobile driven by P. Barger from Hood River crashed into the two overturned motorcycles, but it is thought the boy was dead before being hit by the Hood River car. He was placed in a passing machine and taken to Portland. Head injuries were apparently the cause of death. He was the son of a section foreman of the Oregon Electric and was the first of 12 children to die.

Another Hood River machine, driven by Roy Carter, figured in a thrilling accident Sunday evening about 9:30 at the 12-Mile corner when Ace Ferguson, employed at the Botkin & Johnston garage, collided squarely with the Hood River man and sustained a badly-damaged rear wheel on his Ford touring car. The other machine, an Essex coach, was damaged to the extent of about $200. Also two occupants of the machine were injured, not seriously however. Ferguson was coming in from Fairview, according to bystanders, and was making only about five miles an hour as he neared the intersection. Carter in company with three passengers was said to be traveling at an excessive speed and crashed into the lighter machine about the middle of the highway. The Essex car was turned over at least twice by the force of the impact and one young lady in the machine was seriously enough injured to warrant her removal to a Portland hospital. Clifford Gibbs and Bernard Robertson were in the machine with Ferguson, but all three of the boys escaped injury. It is understood that the question of damages resulting from the accident will be threshed out in court.
