been attending Kimball School of Theology and Willamette Unive sity. Rev. E. G. Ranton was toastmaster. He addressed a message of welcome to the guests of honor who very graciously responded and, characteristic of them, assured the other members of the League that they were back home for service. Then followed a short program consisting of a vocal solo by Wm. Elliott, a duet by Rev. and Mrs. Ranton and an address on the subject, "How to Make Our League Better" by the president, Lester Boring. Following the program, the young people gathered in the church room where a very interesting devotional meeting was led by Harold Carlson. The subject was "Shall I Try Anything Once?" The conclusion reached by the young people was that anything requiring real manhood or womanhood might be tried once, but anything which might rob one of virtue is not worthy of one trial.
