

MAIL CARRIER IS HURT IN FALL

Frank Kinyon, who has purchased the former Wonacott residence on Main street and who was assisting Monday evening in some alterations which are under way on the property, fell through a trap door in the ceiling and hurt his side severely, probably fracturing several ribs. He is now confined to his room with his side in such a bruised condition that it has been impossible for his physician to make more than a cursory examination. He fell but partially through the space and landed on a two by four full weight and, while his injuries are not thought to be serious, they are extremely painful and it may be several weeks before he will be able to resume his work.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinyon are treating their new residence to a thorough overhauling and general remodeling. The 12-foot ceiling will be lowered to 9 feet, partitions and windows will be changed, and the entire interior will be fitted with plaster board. It will be re-wired and modernized in every respect. When the alterations shall have been completed, this piece of property will be a sightly one and one that is bound to increase in value.

BORING

The worship hour of the Boring Methodist community church is at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, at which time the pastor, the Rev. E. G. Ranton will occupy the pulpit and speak on the subject, "How to be serene in spirit, when the environment is noisy." The Sunday school convenes at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Godfrey Stucki attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Anna Green, which was held this afternoon at the conservatory chapel of the East Side Funeral directors in Portland. Mrs. Green died Wednesday, and besides Mrs. Stucki, is survived by two daughters and two sons who reside in Portland. The remains were interred in Rose City cemetery.

It is said that a failure is one who has quit trying.

Would Rule Chicago

Mrs. Johanna Gregg, member of Chicago School Board, thinks the second city needs a municipal housekeeper to "clean-up." She has the party support and is out for the Republican nomination as mayor. A rapid fire campaign is planned.

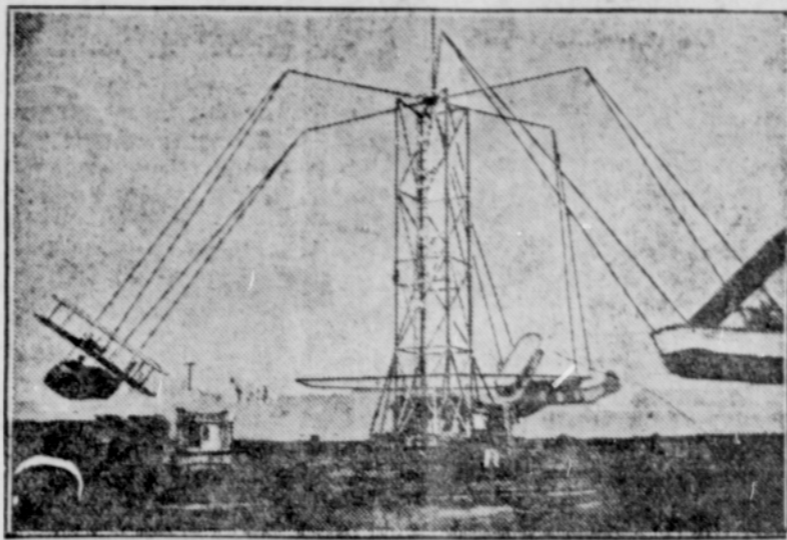

VICTIM OF DROWNING LAID TO FINAL REST

The Troutdale community church was filled with sympathetic friends and neighbors Thursday afternoon who gathered to pay their respects to the memory of Ralph Miller who was drowned in the Sandy river last Sunday afternoon. The Rev. E. R. D. Hollensted officiated and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved parents. The floral contributions were many and very beautiful. Interment was made in Douglas cemetery. The deceased was born in Goldendale, Washington, 14 years ago and had many friends among the Troutdale boys and girls. The pall bearers were chosen from among his former schoolmates and were Dale Parsons, Robert Harlow, Arnold Daum, Quincy and Paul Howell and Masaru Takao. Walter Miller, the father of the unfortunate lad, is a section foreman at Moody, Oregon, near The Dalles and will return to his work soon with his family. Besides the parents there are two brothers, Raymond and Carl and two sisters, Beulah and Thelma who survive.

INSURANCE FOR FARMERS.

The Farmers Mutual Fire Relief Assn., of Portland, is upon its 21st year, and is the largest Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Assn. west of the Rocky mountains. The fire losses for 1924 aggregated $55,000, all of which have been adjusted and promptly paid. No lower rate on farm insurance can be obtained from any other company in Oregon. "Captive Aeroplanes," one of the Levitt-Brown-Huggins Thrillers

LEVITT-BROWN-HUGGINS GARDEN OF RIDES

Merry-Go-Round.

When a merry-go-round costs five figures in the initial stage and then is so often improved upon that its final cost is something over twenty-five thousand dollars, it stands out distinctive among amusement riding devices. The merry-go-round with the Levitt-Brown-Huggins shows is one of this kind.

Five years ago Levitt-Brown and Huggins bought the latest style of ride then on the market. It was one that boasted of galloping horses, three abreast, and of brilliant paintings that were really works of art. However, it was not quite the thing wanted. The management desired a ride along its own ideas. An expert merry-go-round builder was engaged and given a free hand to make the ride with the Levitt-Brown-Huggins shows the finest and most beautiful machine in America. Expense to attain this end was not spared. Gold Leaf flew in profusion in decorating the new ride. Time and again different parts of the wonderful machine were improved or enlarged.

After the machine was brought up to the high standard desired, special packing cases were made to carry its many parts, and special wagons were built to haul sections to and from the show grounds. This merry-go-round is the most beautiful machine in America.

Caterpillar.

"The Caterpillar," the thrilling ride that has been the sensation both at Coney Island, N. Y., and on the Venice, (California) pier, this year, is on the road with the big Levitt-Brown-Huggins shows. It will be seen and much talked about during the visit here of the big amusement caravan. "The Caterpillar," like every other novelty that appeals to the American people, is something that all will want to see.

The Whip.

Everybody knows the riggedy jiggedy device that thrill and excites all who ride. By all means hang on to your hat on this one.

Big Eli Ferris Wheel.

Probably the HIGHEST form of outdoor ride amusement. Anyway it is about 60 feet high and that is usually considered high enough.

Captive Seaplanes.

Taking an aeroplane ride without undergoing the dangers of a free aeroplane is the acme of thrillers.

Special for the Kiddies

Special care is taken to furnish amusement for the youngsters. The very small ones. They enjoy riding, too, but cautious mammas and incidentally the show management are inclined to be careful, so miniature replicas of some of the big rides have been made to insure fun for the little ones and at the same time guarantee their safety. They are merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, whip and seaplanes.
