"MONEY TALKS."

That is an old saying, how old we do not know, but it sounds as if it might have been coined by a Yankee. Perhaps it was a banker of the power of money, or it may have been a newly rich man who thought money gave him the right to talk.

In any case, like many Laconic expressions, it is capable of many applications and is true under various conditions.

Much as we decry the mad rush for wealth none of us would refuse it if it came properly our way. The harm is in the inordinate desire and "rush" for it.

Another mistake in these days is in thinking we must possess so much before we can enjoy the influence that wealth is supposed to give. Many of us in just fairly moderate circumstances would have been counted wealthy a century or two ago.

If we let riches rule they will rule both the individual and the country. There are a lot of poor folks who have ability and rights and to them belongs the power to promote good and curb evil and they are not likely to be half as selfish as the man who thinks his money gives him the right to talk.

After all it isn't the amount of money that talks. The power who is saving, has a little honestly earned cash bills, supports his family, enjoys the natural pleasures of life, has the best right to hold his head up, feel independent, make his influence to be felt, whether he is rated at five thousand dollars or five million.

BRYAN HONORED IN DEATH.

The dramatic death no less than the eventful life of William Jennings Bryan, seen now in a little clearer perspective, will provide an inspiration to many an American boy and girl, possibly leading them to greater heights of achievement. In the passing of the great commoner one outstanding fact is indelibly stamped on the public conscience, namely, universal appreciation of the two characteristics that go to make men great—Sincerity and Courage.

Those who were unalterably opposed to the causes and theories advocated by Mr. Bryan, joined equally with those who believed in him in paying tribute to his honesty of purpose and his bravery under fire. Defeated time and again in possibly a dozen political and economic crusades, the man from Nebraska, arose time and again, Phoenix like, from the ashes of discomfiture. One can almost hear in clarion tones, again expressed the thought of Bryan, put so pointedly by the great Richelieu: "In the bright lexicon of youth there is no such word as fail."

Since Knighthood was in flower the world has paid homage to courage in mankind. It always will, and so long as it does there need be no fear for states or nations that produce leadership of such sterling quality. It was courage that made Napoleon of unperishable fame. It was courage that caused the grand Old Man of Britain, Gladstone, publicly to state his pride in having become convinced his first optical advocacy was wrong. It was courage that gave us the traits of Roosevelt's useful life. Indeed to courage and sincerity we owe our happiness in an independent nation.

Courage presupposes conviction, indomitable will, tenacity of purpose, sincerity of purpose, and above all the open mind, shining ever unafraid.

The new schedule of sailings for the next three months, issued by the traffic department of the Port of Portland, shows 13 lines to Europe, 10 to the Orient, two to Australia, five to the west coast of South America and one to the east coast of the southern continent, three to the West Indies, one to Hawaii, ten to intercoastal ports and seven to coastwise ports. With Portland's splendid terminal and dock facilities and large shipping territory to draw from, and these many lines to practically all countries of the world, Portland gains an enviable procedure as a shipping port.

Under the circumstances you can't be 100 per cent American and deal in anything stronger than one-half of one per cent.

Hannemann Dairy Loses Cash Register.

The sheriff has been looking for a culprit the past few days who would probably steal a house and lot if he thought he could get away with it. He is the fellow who appropriated to his needs a large-sized cash register of the Hannemann dairy, near Corbett on the Columbia river highway where it had been left on an outdoor counter throughout the season. There had been no money in the register at any time and the proprietor had thought it perfectly safe outside. The theft is thought to be the work of a passing motorist.

RALPH MILLER WEDS PORTLAND BRIDE

The marriage of Ralph Miller, son of Mrs. Inez Miller of Gresham, and Miss Cecile Winnifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Daniel of 249 Eugene street, Portland, was solemnized on Saturday evening, August 1, at the Daniel home. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. J. C. Spencer, pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church of Portland, who used the beautiful ring ceremony. Miss Grace Harding of Corvallis was bridesmaid and S. S. Pugh of Port Hardy, B. C., was best man. Betty Benn was flower girl and Jane Daniel, sister of the bride, ring bearer. Roger's bridal march was played by Nancy Johnson. Preceding the ceremony Edith Snyder sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The wedding was attended by only relatives and a few intimate friends of the two families. Those from Gresham were Mrs. Elizabeth McLain, Mrs. Inez Miller and Mrs. Ethel Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are enjoying a trip to the beaches after which they will make their home in Portland.

Gresham Woman Honored at Encampment.

Signal honor was shown to Mrs. L. P. Manning of Gresham at the recent encampment of the Spanish War Veterans held in Port Orford. Not only was Mrs. Manning elected department chaplain for the Women's Auxiliary, but she was made "department mother." Following her installation as chaplain Mrs. Manning was taken to the platform by her son, Lafe Manning, department senior vice commander, where he introduced her as the "best mother in the world." She was given an ovation by the veterans and women of the auxiliary.

Champ Life Saver

"Buck" McNeil, dockmaster at New York, is the champion life saver. He has been decorated by many nations for his courage in saving human life—with now nearly fifty to his credit.

THINK! Little editorials suggested by Arthur Brisbane and gathered from other sources, to help you think on live issues of the day.

Proof that the complete costume of a modern woman, including dress, stockings, shoes and underwear, may weigh as little as 24 ounces causes the virtuous to grieve. But, even as woman in her changing moods cuts off her dress at top and bottom, there may be comfort. The low-necked dress is partially justified by this fact, to which your doctor will testify: Cancer attacks women more often than men, and cancer of the breast, dreadfully frequent in civilized countries is quite unknown among female savages that wear no clothing above the waist.

Amundsen is back from "almost to the Pole," and if he lives and can raise the money he will start again. His ambition is to be the only man that ever stood "on both tops of the earth."

In English coal mines, mechanical cutters and carriers of coal are driving out men by the thousands.

"The truth shall set you free," says the Bible. Science is the truth, and you realize what science has done to set humans free when you look at the pictures of women that used to work in English coal mines, crawling on their hands and knees through the narrow passages, an iron chain around their necks, passing under their bodies and fastened to a small coal car.

Turn from that picture of a woman pulling coal on her hands and knees to a modern mechanical coal carrier, moved by electricity.

Patriotic citizens of Indiana contribute $12,500 to preserve James Whitcomb Riley's "Ole Swimm'g Hole." That's worth while; sentiment is beautiful.

The government ought to spend a few thousand times $12,500 to fill up a lot of mosquitoes' old swimming holes, swamps and other breeding places of malaria.

Some of the money that President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon are going to save might well be spent wiping out disease, deserts and swamps on Uncle Sam's great farm.

GRESHAM PEOPLE VISIT STATE ENCAMPMENT

The following is clipped from the July 21st issue of the Marshfield Oregon News, relating to the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Manning and their son to the state encampment at Port Orford:

"A unique lodge membership record is held by L. P. Manning, 72 years old, of Gresham, Oregon, who was in Marshfield today enroute with his son, Lafe Manning, to Port Orford to attend the state encampment of Spanish war veterans.

"Mr. Manning has been a member of the Odd Fellows lodge for 47 years, which is a distinction in itself. Moreover, he was initiated into Myrtle lodge, Knights of Pythias, 29 years ago in Marshfield and has retained his membership here throughout that period.

"Mr. Manning spent the day visiting with old friends, among them F. P. Norton."
