He Got the Job

A young man once applied for a position in an eastern bank. "I am not well acquainted in this city," said he, "but I have my savings deposit book with me."

The banker examined it and found that he had made regular deposits over a long period. Even though the amounts were small the principal was still there.

On the strength of that book he got the job. And he has a better one today.

Just another reason why you should have a savings account at the First State Bank.

Save $10 a month for 30 years and you will have $6,922.81.
