

LOCAL LODGES TOOK PART IN PARADE

Gresham Lodge No. 125 I. O. O. F. and Gresham Rebekahs were well represented in the big Odd Fellows parade in Portland on Wednesday. The marching contingent comprised about 20 members and the Rebekah float carried about 25 members. The float was nicely decorated on a truck of A. W. Metzger & Co.

Among those who participated were William Beers and George W. Kenney both old-time members. Mr. Kenney stood the long march on a hot afternoon nearly as well as some of the younger members, but Mr. Beers, on account of his weight and recent sickness, rode with the driver on the decorated truck.

The Gresham band, under the leadership of Dr. H. C. Johnson, was a feature of the parade. There were 30 bands, it is said, but even at that it is reported by those who heard them that the showing of the local band was excellent. The Estacada band also made a good showing.

The parade, which was a feature of the meeting of the Sovereign grand lodge which ended its session yesterday in Portland, was one of the largest and finest ever witnessed in the city.

Many Local Students Taking Advance Work

These are busy days for the college students who are leaving or getting ready to leave for their respective institutions of learning. The Oregon Agricultural College freshmen began to register Monday at Corvallis for another year's work and several from here, Stafford and Jeanette Dowsett, Willene Botkin and Georgie Stapleton, left on Sunday to be present for the first day's registration. Others who will attend O. A. C. the coming year are Alden Miller, who will take an electrical engineering course, Glen Mercer, a former Gresham boy now residing at Troutdale, Gordon Gibson who begins his studies of the senior year, Wilbur Altman, of Pleasant Home, Mabel Johanson, an Orient girl, Grant McMillan and Millard McGregor. Melvin Brugger has but one term in O. A. C. before graduating and he will enter the college at the beginning of the winter semester, graduating with the class of '26.

The University of Oregon students from Gresham will include Joe Peak, Victor Adix, Rinar Mattson and Louis Maulding. Mattson was presented with a scholarship to Whitman college at his graduation from the Gresham high school last year, but he has decided to go to the U. of O. instead. He intends to take a business administration course. Maulding is registering in the medical school of the University of Oregon to specialize for surgical work. He has spent three years at the university. Harold Lyman will also attend the University of Oregon medical school at Portland the coming year.

Those who are registering for Willamette University are William McAllister, Eva Tacheron and Anna Lennartz. McAllister has had a year in the College of Liberal Arts at Willamette and will now enter the law school of that university with the intention of taking the full course. Mr. and Mrs. George Tacheron accompanied their daughter, Eva, to Salem last Sunday to begin her year's work the following day. She will make her home there with her sister, Mrs. Emmett Welling. Miss Anna Nordblom, who attended Willamette last year on a scholarship awarded from Gresham Union high, has entered St. Vincents hospital for a course in nurses' training. Miss Helen Hisey, formerly a Gresham girl but now of Salem, has enrolled for a college course at Willamette University.

Man Buys Property, Fails to Return.

A rather unusual business proceeding was negotiated at Rockwood about a month ago when F. H. Dye, well known Rockwood merchant, disposed of his store at that place also the store building on the Base Line road east of the Twelve-mile corner to an eastern man, Northropp, from Cleveland, Ohio, the latter paying him $1,000 as the first payment on the transaction, then failing to return to make the balance of the payments or to claim his property. When making the initial deposit on the merchandise property, the man stated he was obliged to go to Eugene to obtain the rest of the money and would return soon to take possession, but although a month has elapsed, nothing has been seen or heard of him. He was said to be an intelligent, businesslike fellow and there is some talk that foul play may have entered in to disrupt his plans. He said he intended to remodel the building which was formerly the Terry school into a large refrigerating plant.

Gresham Community Church, Bible Standard.

Important Residence Property Transferred

Dr. Emily F. Bolcom's beautiful home on the Section Line road near the western city limit of Gresham has been sold to I. P. Smith of Chicago, who has taken possession. The property consists of five acres of land cornering on the Section Line road and Birdsdale avenue. About an acre is devoted to residence, outbuildings and grounds and the balance is planted to fruit and garden crops, all in a high state of cultivation. Dr. Bolcom is planning to take a 2-year post graduate course at the University of California preparatory to public health work. She is a skillful physician and surgeon with several years' experience in her chosen profession and will be particularly well fitted for her work.

Mr. Smith, the new owner of the attractive Gresham property, was formerly general merchandising manager for Montgomery, Ward & Company of Chicago, with his home at Wheaton, Illinois. His work took him all over the country and he frequently visited Portland in connection with his work. He was charmed with Portland and vicinity and particularly with the Gresham district, which he chose for his future home. The family consists of Mr. Smith, his wife and two sons, William, who is employed by the Marshall Field & Company branch in Portland, and Milton, who is a senior at Franklin high school.

The Beaver State Motor factory is increasing its force of workers and has much work on hand. The principal line of work at present is the building of commercial and household ice machines. The factory does the foundry work, machinery and entire construction complete. The work on these, says P. A. Combs, is many times more fine and accurate than that done on automobiles. Making of tools and high grade instruments is another line in which the factory is engaged. Mr. Combs is advertising for first-class moulders and may need more machine men. He says he does not need apprentices but if there are any local men who can do the work he wishes to interview them.

A meeting of guarantors of the Ellison-White lyceum course to be given in Gresham during the fall and winter months held a meeting at the library on Tuesday evening to discuss plans for publicity and handling the sales of tickets. R. E. Cannon was elected chairman and Miss E. M. Hales secretary of the group.

Miss Floella Jacobs has returned from her vacation trip and is again on duty at the Gresham postoffice. She joined her two brothers, who drove through the Imperial valley, California, and went with them to her home in Ten Sleeps, Wyoming. She returned by train and visited with friends in Missoula, Montana. Miss Jacobs and her brothers enjoyed a trip through Yellowstone National Park.

An attractive folder, printed on the Outlook press, is being issued by the Suhr Flower farm which is located on the Base Line road a mile east of the 12-Mile corner. ## MANY CLUB EXHIBITS GO TO STATE FAIR

The livestock of the boys' and girls' clubs will leave Gresham Saturday morning, September 26, for the state fair at Salem. There will be approximately 16 head of hogs and about 14 or 15 head of cows and calves. They will arrive at Salem Sunday morning and after being unloaded, will be entered in their regular classes the following day.

The sewing, cooking, garden, home-making and all other project work will be taken by auto and will be on display at the fair grounds from Monday until the end of the week. There will be around 60 exhibits from Multnomah county in the boys' and girls' club work, with about 27 of these coming from Gresham.

County Club Agent Kinder says big things are being anticipated this year from the boys and girls. The quality of the work has been exceptional and far superior to that of other years. The club leader says they are taking one of the best exhibits to the fair that Multnomah county has ever been able to get together. He is taking nothing but prize winners to Salem,—nothing but first class quality. The dozen girls comprising the cooking club, under the leadership of Mrs. B. W. Thorne, will send up samples of both their excellent prune and white bread to be entered. The quality of the work done in this class has also been of a high standard.

A new departure has been inaugurated this year in regard to the presence of the boys and girls at the fair, inasmuch as it has been thought best for them not to remain out of school to attend the fair. In previous years when this has been done it has worked hardship on both the pupil and the teacher. It is possible that exception may be made in a few cases as to this.

Mr. Kinder will leave Saturday for Salem to remain until the close of the fair. His wife will accompany him to assist in the entry work and in arranging the exhibits, but she expects to return in two or three days.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

Sunday will be Rally Day at the Methodist Episcopal church when every member of the school is urged to be present and bring their friends. A special program of songs and recitations has been provided and a very interesting time for all is assured. The Sunday school officers for the ensuing year will be installed. This service begins promptly at 10 o'clock.

At the morning service beginning at 11 o'clock the pastor, Dr. C. W. Huett, will give a report of the work done during the past year. This will include changes in membership of all kinds with the actual net membership at present on the roll, money received from all sources, present standing of the church as regards finances, outlook as to the future and other items of special interest. All who have the kingdom of God at heart will be intensely interested in this report. Let it be remembered that there will be no special appeal for funds other than the ordinary collection. Every legitimate need will be provided for without that. Following the report the pastor will speak briefly on the topic "A Threefold View of God." At the close of the service a very brief meeting of the official board will be held.

The Epworth League meets for its devotional at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the pastor will speak, taking as a topic for the lecture sermon "Rome and Her Influence, Ancient and Modern." Next to Jerusalem, Rome is one of the most interesting cities in the world and has profoundly interested the historical student for all time. This topic will prove of interest to everyone.

The Oregon Annual Conference will convene at Eugene on Wednesday, September 30, for its annual session. In the absence of the pastor, C. M. Harrison will have charge of the prayer meeting Thursday evening.
