

APPEAL IS MADE TO BUSINESS MEN

It now appears that the occasion for the proposal to impose a drastic auto parking requirement on the people of Gresham and the trading public by the city council has grown chiefly out of the thoughtlessness of the business men themselves who allow their pleasure cars to stand hours and in many cases days at a time parked along the streets in front of the stores.

There was some plain talk last night at the meeting of the Commercial club, composed mostly of business men, who met to urge the council not to pass the proposed ordinance. The congested situation is acknowledged by all but after much discussion it was concluded that the chief offenders were the storekeepers themselves. They could relieve the situation so that much danger and inconvenience could be eliminated.

The sentiment of the meeting was crystallized into the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that it is the consensus of opinion of members of the Commercial club assembled in called meeting that a further parking ordinance should not be enacted at this time, but that business men be encouraged to release space now occupied by their pleasure cars and thus encourage out-of-town cars that usually park but a short time in the business section. Especially, should any ordinance be passed, it should cover only Powell and Main streets."

Mayor Chas. Cleveland, who was present, stated that as soon as the newly paved portions of Second street and Roberts avenue were opened, which would be on October 17, the stage terminal would be located on Roberts avenue opposite the city hall. The council will meet in regular session tomorrow night.

On everybody's tongue—Have you heard Billy Sunday yet? Sunday is getting on a lot of people's nerves. But that's what he wants to do—and on their consciences also.

Among things that will rise again when crushed to earth are truth and a swatted fly.

GRESHAM PASTOR IS RETURNED TO CHARGE

Members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal church at Gresham are pleased to learn that their pastor, Dr. C. W. Huett, has been returned to them for another year by the annual conference which came to a close at Eugene Sunday evening. The Rev. A. S. Hisey, who a year ago was appointed to the superintendency of the Eastern district, was again placed in charge of this work and will continue his residence in Salem. There were a number of important changes which took place in the ranks of the clergy of the Powell Valley circuit, among which is noted the transference of the Rev. E. G. Ranton from the Pleasant Home and Boring charges to Nehalem and Wheeler on the Salem district. The Rev. E. W. Withnell, of Banks, Oregon, will be the new pastor for the Pleasant Home and Boring work. The Rev. J. Stanford Moore who has been in charge of the work of the Fairview, Rockwood and Pleasant Valley churches, has been sent to Yamhill, Oregon, the work of the three named Powell Valley circuits to be supplied later.

Garden Home, Oregon, will be supplied by the Rev. Oliver Gill, who also is pursuing his studies at the Kimball School of Theology at Salem. The Rev. Ira Rankin has been returned to his charge and the Rev. Earl B. Cotton, well known to many in Gresham and vicinity, has been returned to Amity, Oregon, for the next year. Dr. S. A. Danford, late superintendent of the Southern district, will now fill the office of area evangelist, Dr. S. J. Chaney being named as his successor as superintendent. The Rev. Nathan Haroun, Epworth League district president, was named as pastor of the church at Errol Heights. He has been to Gresham frequently with his gospel team and is a general favorite among the young people.

Clara Herald, of Oak Grove, Grace Welch returned with her from Seattle and will spend the winter at home.

W. C. Wilson left Friday for Seattle after spending two weeks or more in Gresham and vicinity in the interests of a religious publishing company. He has been rooming at the B. W. Emery home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Howitt, their son, Frederick, and Elwood Duncan visited the state fair at Salem Wednesday. Mr. Howitt has won the grand champion prize for the best bred stallion at the fair. He made the trip there each day to overlook the care of his thoroughbred.

Bertram Wheeler and family of Lauder, Wyoming, are staying at the Larsen auto camp. Mr. Wheeler is assisting Charles Wheeler, a distant relative, in his barber shop. Mr. Larsen is building two cabins, each 12x12 feet in size to add to his group of cabins at the camp. These will be equipped with stoves and made otherwise comfortable for winter occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Yager and daughter, Jean, returned last Tuesday evening from a month's trip to eastern points, including places in Ohio, New York and Michigan where visits were made with friends and relatives. They made a side trip to Niagara Falls, which they pronounce to be a spot of scenic grandeur. This was their first visit to the falls, although they had resided near there two years since their marriage. They also greatly enjoyed the return trip, especially the ride from Spokane through the Columbia river gorge on the North Bank line.

Mrs. Vera Tucker returned from the state fair at Salem with the grand prize in dahlia display, in addition to several other fine awards. She took first on cactus dahlias, second on the peony and decorative types, and first for the best general display. On display of types it was necessary to show 50 blooms and 10 varieties of each. For the sweepstakes, perfection of bloom and artistic arrangement were conditions.

The Outlook is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Violet Thornton of Detroit, Michigan, telling of the visit of her mother, Mrs. P. A. Gould of Gresham. Besides the visit in Detroit Mrs. Gould has gone in company with her daughter's family to Niagara Falls and into Canada, where they left her to visit with friends and relatives in the scenes where her youth was lived. She visited the little church where she was converted more than 50 years ago. Mrs. Gould has now returned to Detroit and expects to come home the latter part of this month.

Jig's Favorite Dish Ahead.
At a recent convention of the United Restaurant Owner's association a vote was taken to determine the favorite dish of the New York public. Corned beef and cabbage won a notable victory. A poor finish was made by the good old stand-by, ham and eggs.

PORTLAND MAN SUICIDES NEAR SANDY RIVER

Ellsworth Fryermuth, aged about 56, of No. 422 1/2 Morrison street, Portland, was discovered a suicide shortly before noon yesterday by Otto Griessel, proprietor of the Mountain View Floral company about four miles east of Gresham, on the Base Line road, not far from the clubhouse of the Oregon State Motor association. The man, a salesman for the Frank McGuire real estate company, was found by Mr. Griessel, his back against a tree and in an upright position. A .32 caliber revolver lay by his side, indicating the manner in which he came to his death. His machine was noted early Saturday morning on the east side of the rose farm near the road and was remarked upon, also again on Sunday attention was called to the car, then when the owner did not show up on Monday to claim his machine, Mr. Griessel instituted a search. He stated that he had a premonition that something was wrong and, with that idea in mind, began a careful scrutiny of the premises, with the result the corpse was located about 100 feet from the highway in a seclusion of trees. Death must have been instantaneous, as there seemed to have been but one shot and that through the temple. The man was ordinarily well dressed and there were $10 in his pockets. Land contracts and other papers in the machine established the fact that he was a really salesman. Fryermuth was prominent in the Moose lodge, Mystic Shrine and other Masonic bodies. Deputy Sheriff Squire was notified immediately and turned the body over to the county coroner who had been summoned from Portland. The dead man was an intimate friend of Deputy County Guibranson, who took charge of the body. No cause for the rash act has as yet been assigned, but friends believe that he was despondent over financial troubles. Fryermuth was unmarried and is survived by relatives in Reading, Pennsylvania.

PURCHASER OF STORE GIVES BOGUS CHECK

As a sequel to the story which appeared in the Outlook a short time ago in which it was stated that an eastern man had deposited $1,000 with F. H. Dye, of Rockwood, as the initial payment on his merchandise business, it has now been determined that the check which was accepted in payment on the two stores was a fraudulent one, and apparently the reason the man never showed up to claim his property, was through fear of detection. A story which comes from Eugene and which seemingly connects up with the Dye episode is that of a man, answering the same general description as the would-be purchaser at Rockwood, who made a deal with a realtor of Eugene for some real estate, proffering him a $2,000 check drawn on an eastern bank. The agent accepted it in good faith and gave the stranger his personal check for $1,000 in payment of the difference between the check and made his getaway before the sad but wiser real estate man at Eugene had a chance to get returns from the eastern draw check which was declared fraudulent. The man who was negotiating for the Rockwood property said he had relatives at Eugene and left Rockwood supposedly for that place.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Gresham Union high boys didn't do a thing but wallop Benson Tech Friday afternoon in the first football game of the season, the score resulting 13 to 0. The whitewash occurred on the Benson gridiron and, although it was Benson's second team, the local boys were considerably outweighed by their opponents. Clinton Chalker made the first touchdown and the other touchdown was made in the last quarter by Frank Smith who scored on the try-for point. The boys are rightfully elated over their victory and have a better fighting spirit this year than has been exhibited for a long time. Principal Cannon considers this year's team has the best material than any for at least the past three years. Coach Kruger is a man who understands the game, his boys have confidence in him as well as in themselves and local fans will be surprised if the team does not continue to do honor to the school by future triumphs. Benson comes next Thursday afternoon to Gresham for the return game. The town is now being canvassed for purchasers of patron tickets and these will entitle the holders to admittance to all athletic contests at Gresham Union high school during the coming year.

Friday evening was the occasion of the annual sophomore-fresh reception at the high school and this party was no exception to the usual good time enjoyed by these classes. Nearly all of the faculty was present, including the two class advisers, Miss Portia Kidwell of the freshman class and Miss Augusta Hahn, adviser of the sophomore class. Most of the evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments of cocoa, ice cream and cake were served. The wonder is that the freshmen had any appetite left after being frightened out of nearly a year's growth by a sophomore ghost. Principal Cannon has expressed himself that this year's man class is above the average. The eighth grade examinations last year were difficult which served the purpose of eliminating all but the hard workers, hence an entering class in high school that is prepared for business.

Prize Essay Contest to Be Held.

A varied program of speakers at the all-Oregon 1925 exposition has been arranged to assist students entered in the prize contest, a feature of the exposition which will be held in the auditorium October 5-10 for the benefit of the proposed state Fine Arts building at the University of Oregon. The essay contest closes October 15. Two hundred dollars will be offered for the best written essays by high school and grade school students. Contestants may write on one phase of two general subjects: (1) Oregon-made products, or (2) the educational and cultural values of art. The exposition is given to exploit Oregon products and manufactured goods and promote the cause of art and beauty in Oregon. Proceeds from the affair will start a building fund for the Fine Arts building.

GOLD WATCH AWARDED FOR EXCELLENT WORK

One of the greatest honors that can come to a boy or a girl in their club work was bestowed upon John Fleming, Gresham Union high school student, who, on Saturday night, at the conclusion of a banquet which was tendered him and three other club members at the state fair, was presented with a gold watch. Sam A. Kozier, secretary of state, making the presentation speech in the private car of Mr. King, president of the Southern Pacific railway system. In addition John is to be one of the guests at Mr. King's summer home at Otter Lake Lodge next year. The watch and the promised trip were awarded to John and each of the three other boys and girls for being the highest scoring individuals in club work in the state of Oregon. They have each been hard conscientious workers in club work for years and were well worthy of the honors thrust upon them. The watches were contributed by the Electric Utility association.

Mr. Kinder, in a resume of club conditions as existing at the recent state fair, states that the county has reason to be proud of its boys and girls for the excellent work done during the year and the showing made at the fair. The competition is growing keener and keener each year and the boy or girl who brings home a blue ribbon must have a fine qualified piece of work. J. Fleming, of the Victory district, and his assistant, Alvin Tillman, deserve a great deal of credit for the way the live stock was cared for at the fair.

Additional winnings at the fair by the boys and girls included a second prize which was given Melbourne Whiteside, of Russellville, for his camp cookery. The exhibit consisted of four biscuits made under camp conditions. Anna Brunner won fourth place for her exhibit of a loaf of prune bread and Bonnie Maxwell won third place with her canning. Carl Ekstrom came in fourth with his potato exhibit and Lee Copeland won second place on his young pen of Barred Rock chickens, while Paul Buckner won first and second.

Anna and Paul Boeckl won first and second places respectively in the Brown Swiss calf club work. Magdalena and Paul Boeckl, and Alfred and Howard Grossen were winners with their junior and senior yearlings in the Brown Swiss class and George, Howard and Alfred Grossen and Magdalena Boeckl were lucky in division I with junior and senior calves. Alice Ingram, Maplewood, won first place in sewing which entitles her to a summer school scholarship. In the Holstein classes, of the five head that were taken from Multnomah county, four firsts and a second were awarded.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED FOR BUICK AGENCY

On good authority it is stated that Walter Metzger, of Boring, distributing agent for the Buick and Chevrolet automobiles for Clackamas county, is planning to open a Buick sales and service agency in Gresham, tentative arrangements for which are under way. He has leased an area 50 x 115 feet in size on the northwest corner of his father's place here opposite the library and a new building, a stucco-finished Spanish style structure will be erected, it is understood, in the near future. Mr. Metzger will have charge personally of the new agency, but will continue to reside in Boring. He will be given the sales agency for all the district comprising Multnomah county, east of 82d street and Gresham will be the central distributing station for the Buick business.
