

BUSINESS MEN WILL SUPPORT H. S. GAME

One of the biggest and most important football games of the season, a tussle between Gresham and Estacada, is to be played on Stapleton field in Gresham on Friday afternoon, October 30, and it is planned to make this one of the big events of the year in sport-dom. Estacada has always been the chief rival of the Gresham team and the title for championship at present rests with the Estacada boys. The local team is going to make a hard fight to wrest this title from them on the date mentioned if possible. They propose to give them a hard run for their money, so to speak, and they want all of Gresham there to watch them do it. An appeal is being made to the business houses, asking them to close their places of business from 3 to 4:45 on that day and the response to this appeal has been very gratifying. The following have signified their intention to cooperate in that way and an effort will be made to see others to ask them for a similar stand: A. W. Metzger, Ayisworth & Martin, L. A. Wack company, The Ocarette, the Roberts Confectionery, Gresham Outlook, Taber Pharmacy, Gresham Drug Co., Withrow's restaurant, Wellings' confectionery and restaurant, L. L. Kidder & Co., Walrad Mercantile Co. and the Cecil Metzger grocery. The game is to be called promptly at 3:10 and it is hoped there will be a good turnout to this, the first game of the year with Estacada.

County Club Agent Loses Car.

W. D. Kinder is lamenting the loss of his popular and ever ready high-powered Ford which some reckless and determined thief pilfered away some time during Tuesday night from the garage at the Kinder home about two blocks west of the high school. Mr. and Mrs. Kinder had returned home about 11 o'clock on that evening and he drove the car into the garage which is located near the house, locking a rear door on the inside with two heavy hooks and staples and fastening the front entrance after him by means of a padlock. When Mr. Kinder went to look for his trustworthy steed the following morning, nothing was to be found with the exception of a battered rear door and wheel tracks which were traced to the highway, thence indications that the machine had been turned toward the Base Line. It is thought that the car was towed out of the garage, considering the quietness with which it was spirited away. Evidently a crowbar had been inserted in the door and the hooks torn off. The Kinder home is rather isolated which perhaps accounts for the determination of the thief in securing this particular auto. There were other machines in the neighborhood standing in the open which were unmolested. To add insult to injury, the Kinder car was uninsured. The county club agent can still laugh, however, and he has secured a machine to tide him over for the present. No trace has been found up to this time of his car or the man who so unceremoniously separated it from its owner.

LAST RITES SAID OVER VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Several hundred persons were present Wednesday afternoon at the Undenominational temple when the last words were uttered over the remains of the late Mrs. Grace Wheeler who lost her life Saturday afternoon in an automobile accident near Tillamook. The Rev. S. F. Pitts conducted the service and spoke comforting words to the bereaved husband and daughters. Miss Floella Jacobs and Percy Shelley, the latter from Sandy, sang, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carrie Noble, of Portland. There were many beautiful floral contributions from friends. The Rev. Mr. Pitts in his sermon used as a text the words, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, if a man keep my sayings, he shall never see death." Throughout his discourse he stressed the certainty of death and the necessity of an early preparation. Among other things he said, "We are born to live, we live to die, we die to live." The 23d Psalm was read. The pallbearers were W. D. Kinder, Leslie Walrad, Lee Ball, John Williams, Oscar Stone and Alfred Stafford. Committal services were held at Douglas cemetery.

Mrs. Wheeler is survived by her husband, John Wheeler, and two daughters, Hazel and Louise. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, also survive her. She was born in Canada 35 years ago and had lived most of her life in the vicinity of Borling and Pleasant Home. A large concourse of autos followed the hearse to the last resting place in the cemetery. Leslie Walrad assisted in the singing at the grave.

New Building Well Under Way.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new building which is being erected by Walter Metzger on the corner of Fourth and Main streets for the Buick agency display and sales rooms. Claude Stockton drew the plans and is superintending the construction of the 50 x 50 building which is composed of hollow tile with an exterior finishing of stucco. The floor is to be of cement and the entire front will show up in plate glass. The appearance of the building is to be greatly improved by arched windows instead of the ordinary square lined windows. The front rooms of the structure will be used for display purpose and the service rooms will be located in the rear. It is thought that the building will be ready for occupancy by the latter part of November.

AREME CLUB BEGINS WINTER ACTIVITIES

The first social function this fall of the Areme club, in charge of the social and entertainment features for Gresham Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was held on Friday evening of last week in the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shultz on Wallula Heights, when a card party brought out a large number of members and friends of the order. Fourteen tables were played in the billiard room. Much admiration was expressed of the home and the floral decorations for the evening. The club holds regular meetings at the homes of members on the second Monday afternoon of each month during the winter.

A masquerade dance will be held at Masonic hall on the evening of October 30, under the auspices of the Areme club. This will be the first of a series of dances to be held from time to time during the winter, which are being looked forward to with keen anticipation by those who have enjoyed the club's dances in the past, and who appreciate the fine social occasions which they offer. The joint members of the committee arranging for the dances consists of Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Adix, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hessel, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. A bazaar and dinner will be given by the club at the Masonic hall on Friday evening, November 20.

CATTLE IN COUNTY GET TUBERCULIN TEST

The work of testing all dairy cattle in the county for tuberculosis is progressing rapidly according to S. B. Hall, county agent. Through the month of September Dr. G. D. Loder, who is conducting the work in the east end of the county, tested 697 animals, and of this number only one animal reacted to the tuberculosis test.

Beginning with the first of October there will be two veterinarians in the field. Dr. Silverwood is testing in an area which includes Portland and west of the Willamette river and Dr. Loder works in the east end of the county. Last week completed the area east of the Sandy river and the testing has begun again immediately west of there.

The cattle owners are anxious to have the animals tested and are cooperating with the veterinarians in charge in a nice way. The only delay in the progress of the work which has been experienced up to the present time is that in case where the owners are not at home at the time the reading is made which makes it necessary for a return trip to collect the testing fee of 25 cents per animal, which is compulsory according to the state law. This fee does not cover the entire cost of the testing. It is used for the paying of the transportation in the conducting of the work. The federal government is supplying the tester and the material, and the city of Portland is cooperating with the federal government by way of letting Dr. Silverwood handle the work in order to complete the county by the first of the year.

All assistance rendered by the people in the various communities by way of notifying neighbors of the arrival of the tester, seeing that the animals are in a convenient place so that the tester can do the work rapidly and the prompt payment of the testing fee is appreciated by the veterinarians in conducting the work, as this all helps to speed up the work and aid in an early completion.

BUSINESS HOUSES USE HALLOWEEN TRIMMINGS

"When the frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is in the shock." Gresham shop windows are beginning to remind one of the famous poem of James Whitcomb Riley as the autumn days draw apace and Halloween and Thanksgiving festivities are in order. Cecil Metzger is making a distinctive hit with the excellent display in his south show window. Decorative maple leaves, bunches of luscious grapes undisturbed on the vine and many varieties of seasonable vegetables make up an interesting exhibit. Perhaps the part of the window attracting the most attention is that where stands a mounted goose, true to life, which seems to survey the artistic scene with pleasant interest. This particular goose is a rare specimen of the Alaskan type and was shot by Frank Jones near Blalock, Washington. It is a specie that is now nearly extinct and Mr. Jones could easily have disposed of it to collectors of rare birds. Its red bill and red legs mark it as a specimen that is very scarce.

The Walrad Mercantile company also has a shop window that is worthy of more than ordinary notice. Here they have featured the idea of real corn stalks, tastefully arranged, to cover nearly the entire window. In the center is a mammoth jack o' lantern illumined by a colored electric light which produces a very pleasing effect. It is a beautifully realistic autumn scene, enhanced, of course, by good things to eat right and left.

The Ocarette usually has something bright and attractive about its windows and now the popular colors of Halloween are depicted in orange and black. The Hepp Racket store is not behind in charming window displays. Here may be found everything to delight the hearts of the small boy and girl as Halloween approaches.

Decorations of orange and black suggestive of Halloween make festive the windows of the Gresham city bakery.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

Services of unusual interest will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday both morning and evening. The hour for morning worship is at 11, and the address will be given by Mrs. William Brock, a national secretary of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Brock is known as a talented speaker who has a national viewpoint and her address will both be pleasing and profitable. The annual thank offering of the society will be received at this time. There will be special music in connection with the service.

The evening service at 7:30 will be especially devoted to music. Besides the usual opening service of worship the choir will render the following anthems: "Be Still," "My God and Father," "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me?" and "Shadows of Evening." Miss Gertrude Alexander and Guy D. Jones will sing "While the Earth Remains" and C. E. Rusher and Miss Myrtle Rusher will sing "Twilight."

The Bible school will meet in its various assemblies promptly at 10 o'clock and the Epworth League in the evening at 6:30.

Beginning Sunday morning, November 1, Evangelist D. Willa Caffray will conduct a series of meetings, continuing for three weeks. Miss Caffray won many friends when she conducted a series of meetings here two years ago, who will hail her coming with delight. She is an ordained minister of the Methodist Episcopal church and has had nearly a score of years of service in the evangelistic field. She will be assisted by Miss Christensen, a talented worker among young people and a very fine soloist, who will have charge of the music and do the solo work during the meeting. The two comprise one of the finest and most effective teams in the evangelistic field, it is said.

Everett Bartholomew and wife arrived last night from White Salmon, Washington, the former to be employed by the local plant as area salesman. They expect to make their home in Gresham when a suitable location can be found.

Mrs. Robert Lansdown and baby, Paul LeRoy, of Oregon City, have returned to their home after visiting for several days with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Rusher.

A reception will be given at the Methodist Episcopal church next Tuesday evening, October 27, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Huett's return to the work for the coming year. It is expected that the people will gather at 8 o'clock and at 9 a short program will be given, which will begin with devotional service and will include a talk by W. J. Big Spud Yield in Oregon.

Oregon's potato yield this year is reported 83 per cent of normal, with an increase of 1,188,000 bushels over last year, while in the nited States this year's production is estimated at over 100,000,000 bushels below 1924. The big decrease is in the far east and the middle west and may not have much effect on the coast.

Sewing Machines. Five sewing machines, ranging in price from $5 to $35.00. J. E. Metzger.

TEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL IN FRESHMAN CLASS

At an age when most little girls are planning what to name the latest annex to their doll family, Gresham has a little miss who is wrestling with such tame subjects as English, algebra, latin and world's history, the group of studies composing the curriculum of the freshman year in the college preparatory course of high school. The young lady under discussion is Miss Ruth Dinges, who until the 7th of the coming December, will be ten years old and who in September enrolled at Gresham Union high school, being probably the youngest freshman to register at that institution since its beginning. Last year saw a graduation of a senior, Miss Mary Kniefel, who had registered at the age of 11 years.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dinges who in May of this year leased and moved on to the E. R. Wright farm near Powell Valley station from Lexington, Oregon, where Ruth had made the usual eight years of the grades in four and a half years. She was one of three out of a class of eight to successfully pass the test admitting them into high school and she was the only pupil in Morrow county to receive 100 per cent in spelling. Besides making good passing grades, some marks being above the average, in her four Fresh subjects, Ruth is an enthusiastic student of the piano and is doing good work along that line.

Some might think she is a mischief with one eye on her books and the other on her teachers, but such is said not to be the case. She has a quiet air of womanliness and gravity not often found in a little girl of her years. Her school principal, R. E. Cannon says, "tell them she ranks 100 per cent in citizenship." She apparently takes her scholastic honors very modestly and does not seem to think she is doing anything unusual in pursuing high school branches at the age when most little girls are beginning the fifth, or possibly the sixth grade. Ruth already has her college in mind when she will have finished high school and is thinking and planning for the days to come when she may become enrolled at the Oregon Agricultural college.

POPULAR CARS AGAIN REDUCED IN PRICE

The M. C. Webster Motor company is heralding a substantial reduction in price on the popular Hudson and Essex cars which are represented here by the above company with sales and show rooms on Powell street.

Since opening the agency here about a month ago Mr. Webster has interested many in the Essex-Hudson line and is proving himself a very energetic salesman. He is showing how the family of moderate means can possess a car of exceptional value and beauty.

In advertising the reduction which has just gone into effect Mr. Webster not only resorts to the newspaper but has decorated the front of his place of business with attractive signs, inviting the public to come and see.

Farm Reminders.

The best type of fat lamb weighs about 80 lbs., says the O. A. C. Experiment station, and those much heavier will not bring so good a price on the market. The cut in price is usually pretty heavy on lambs that run up to 90 to 100 pounds, regardless of quality. By feeding the fattening lambs one pound of grain a day and all the alfalfa they will eat, they should gain one pound every three to four days.
