Most of our destructive germs have been imported.

As danger increases auto accidents increase. Slippery pavements are dangerous. More care is necessary.

A glance at the headlines of the dailies would lead one to think there is still a lot of devilry in this old world.

This is Homecoming week at Corvallis and tomorrow, the 31st, is the great day when the Aggies meet the University of Montana on Bell field at 1:30. Jim Preble says there are accommodations for 20,000 people in the big stadium. The campus is specially decorated for this big event. This will be the first meeting on the gridiron of these two great universities.

The Vancouver Columbian's issue of last Monday was a Progress edition in recognition of Progress week, which is now on at Vancouver, featured by many entertaining events. The paper is printed on news made in Vancouver which is a growing city of many enterprises. A former Greshamite, Lewis Shattuck is a moving spirit in the city.

Greece and Bulgaria have crossed swords over a boundary dispute and are practically in a state of war. The council of the league of nations has stepped in to exercise its function and for the first time since its organization its authority to prevent war is being put to the supreme test. The mandate of the league seems to prevail. If it does that will inspire confidence in the plan.

The reports of the land settlement department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce show that many settlers of the substantial class are coming into the Willamette valley. They come from Minnesota, Texas, California and other states. Florida is the fastest growing state in the union just now, many thousands being swept thither on the floodtide of emigration. We predict that there will be a backwash toward Oregon in a few years.

A professional man of Gresham who came here about two years ago from North Dakota, says he never saw such variety and splendor of fall coloring of foliage as is to be seen this year in this part of Oregon. Mr. Cooper is unlike many office men, especially those who deal with the hard and mercenary situation in life, he has a fine appreciation of the beautiful in character as well as in nature. Jack Frost trailed his white garments earlier than usual over this section of the state and every green thing has become gaudy with color.

High School Notes by Principal Cannon

We are to recognize the boys who go out constantly for practice it is necessary to arrange games for the second team. When the second team plays, the first team is inactive. The second team becomes the first team later. By playing second team at home while first team plays away it gives us one game each week on Stapleton field.

A. W. Metzger & Company recently gave several hundred megaphones to the high school. This is characteristic of the past support that they have given the high school. The boys and girls and all concerned will ever remember them.

H. W. Strong, another enthusiastic supporter, advises us his truck is ready for the use of the high school in advertising their football games and for any other use that the high school sees fit.

C. I. Raker, of the Raker & Son garage, loaned us a tractor to work our athletic field. When we were stalled one evening Mr. Raker loaned an enclosed car so that members of our football team did not need to walk home, and they have ever been kind to the high school, even long before Mr. Raker became a board member.

Concerning Night Classes. As many as 20 people have mentioned the fact that they would like to have night classes in the high school. We want to serve the public beyond the four walls of the school room and if night classes are desired, all that is necessary is for someone to circulate a petition, secure the signatures of those wanting same together with subjects they desire, so that we can determine what is possible for us. It is difficult for us to know, from the inquiries thus far, just what plans might be carried out. We feel sure of a successful night school once it is started. We have talked this over in teachers' meetings and teachers are willing to instruct in most any subject, but it will be necessary to have enough in the class to justify the instruction.

The film "Abraham Lincoln" given in the high school gymnasium last Tuesday evening was a wonderful film but the projection was poor and the pictures dim. The operator of the lanterns advised the throw was too far to get the best results. We regret this circumstance because some were anxious to see the picture. So many have contributed to the cafeteria we fail to remember all. Pumpkins, squash, cabbage, tomatoes, potatoes, apples, pears and other good things have been contributed.

STREETS ARE IMPROVED IN WALLULA HEIGHTS

An important civic improvement has just been completed in connection with the streets of Gresham which, while not taking the place of paving, is such a decided betterment of conditions that all concerned are much pleased over the outcome. That is the re-grading and graveling of approximately 1500 feet, beginning at Ava street and extending west to Wilson avenue in Wallula Heights. This is entirely a private enterprise, carried forward at the expense of property owners in the district. The city grveled the two intersections, one at either end, but aside from this, the expense of the work, totaling about $200, was borne by the residents or property holders.

B. W. Thorne has been in charge of collecting and disbursing the funds and has been ably supported by 25 or more property owners in the locality. Donors of cash were as follows: Geo. Sleret, B. L. Walrad, Jr., S. S. Thompson, C. G. Schneider, A. Ruegg, R. K. Akin, C. M. Johnson, Roy E. Cannon, James Jennings, G. F. Honey, C. M. Harrison, Roy Burton, C. E. Peck, James Elkington, Dr. A. W. Botkin, B. W. Thorne, A. M. Hoss, E. D. Raker, Fred Hoss, F. A. Hamlin, J. R. Martin, K. A. Miller, W. J. Todd and C. I. Raker.

In addition to the foregoing Mr. Sleret donated three of the fourteen loads of gravel and probably two full weeks of labor. Raker & Son were paid nearly $100 for the grading of the area, which was very conservative. The balance of the money raised was paid out for gravel.

The road is now in splendid shape and reflects great credit upon the promoters and those who donated so gratuitously to the improvement. Traffic has increased several times since the completion of the job and the congestion on Powell Valley road for local residents has been greatly relieved.

MUSICAL EVENTS

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion is planning a bake sale which will be conducted at the A. W. Metzger store on Saturday, October 31.

Jetty Andrew, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Andrew, is ill at the home of her parents with an attack of mumps, which keeps the other school children of the family at home. Marjorie Jones, whose home is with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew, is staying temporarily with Mrs. A. Hughes and continuing her work in the high school.

Miss Florence Schenk is visiting friends and relatives in Portland this week.

Albert Brannan is employed as salesman for the Webster Motor company in Gresham.

Excavation is practically finished for the basement of Mr. and Mrs. Chase E. St. Clair's house on their property on Wallula avenue. Construction will go forward as fast as weather conditions will permit.

Miss Sara Dotson spent two days this week visiting with relatives at Astoria. On her return she was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Robert Helner, who will spend several days here.

Mrs. P. A. Gould returned Thursday evening from an extensive trip which she enjoyed among relatives and friends in the east, where she went early in June. The greater part of the time was spent in Detroit, Michigan, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thornton. Interesting trips were taken from there, including visits to Niagara Falls and Canada. Mrs. Gould was delighted to find her garden green and flowers blooming, as she was in snow and storm for the entire return trip until the Rocky mountains were passed. The temperature in Montana went as low as three below, and much damage was done there to unharvested sugar beets. Mrs. Gould, who is nearly 74 years of age, made the round trip alone. Her travels during the summer have covered between eight and nine thousand miles.

Mrs. R. C. Shipley, of Bull Run, a sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Shipley, spent the day in Gresham Thursday with her relatives.

A representation of the W. C. T. U. was present at the high school this morning when Frances Willard day was fittingly observed. Principal Cannon addressed the student body, briefly reviewing the life of Frances Willard and emphasizing the importance of moral reform. Further remarks were made by Mrs. H. S. Clow and Mrs. W. T. Klotzbach.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Wilkes, of Corvallis, the latter a niece of C. W. Guile, came from Corvallis Thursday for a few days' stay. Mr. Wilkes, an instructor at Oregon Agricultural college, is putting on a display at the Pacific International in connection with the farm management department.
