

GRESHAM LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fancher went to Hoodport on Thursday to spend the week-end with the latter's sister, Mrs. R. A. Starbuck and family.
R. W. Gibbs is finishing the outside of his house in Regner addition.

The interior of the J. E. Metzger furniture store is being newly papered and the woodwork painted. C. E. Jackson doing the work.

J. C. Yandell will give a lecture at the grange hall Monday evening on the subject, "Evolution and the Date of Creation," to which the public is invited.

Mrs. H. M. Shaw left for Spokane Wednesday with her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Donley, for a stay of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cogswell have gone for an extensive trip east. At Toledo, Ohio, they are expecting to take possession of a new Willys-Knight sedan, with 4-wheel brakes, which was purchased through the Gresham agency of W. A. Hessel. From Ohio they will motor to Atlanta, Georgia, New Orleans and San Antonio, Texas, and from there home by way of Los Angeles. During their stay, their house will be occupied by their son, C. M. Cogswell, and family of Portland.

W. A. Hessel made a trip Saturday to the Yakima valley district in an Overland two-door sedan and on the way encountered the worst dust storm he was ever in. For a distance of 50 miles the air was filled with dust and it was reported that seeded wheat was actually blown out of the ground. Mr. Hessel says that the value of driving a closed car was never more fully demonstrated than during this trip.

Mrs. Nell Spence is moving from her rooms in Gresham at the Ed. Smith house to Portland, where she has work in connection with her profession as a nurse. Mrs. Spence has recently been ill with an infection of the tonsils.

A stereopticon lecture will be given in Carlson's hall next Saturday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, by the Rev. Frank Armitage, a returned missionary from Africa, who will show a large number of slides depicting the life and habits of the people among whom he and his wife have worked for 30 years.

The Rev. J. Stanford Moore, former pastor of the Rockwood community church, has been ill at the parsonage since conference a month ago. He is now recovering and expects to move at once to his new charge at Yamhill, Oregon.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Calder and their foster son, little Robert Black, of Shedd, Oregon, spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. Calder's sister, Miss Elva Dolan. They have gone to their place near Boring where they expect to spend a ten-days' vacation.

Mrs. O. A. Eastman will be employed during the coming week at the International Livestock exposition as a clerk in the horticultural and agricultural departments.

Arrangements have been made with J. C. Allmon, manager of the local theater, whereby the proceeds of the production, "Tongues of Flame" will be divided with the Gresham Rebekah lodge on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 4 and 5. This is a play produced by Thomas Meighan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wm. Smith left today for their new location near Salem, a large ranch which they recently purchased. They had been somewhat delayed on account of legal matters pertaining to the possession of their property.

Robinson Crusoe

When Robinson Crusoe found himself on an uninhabited island what did he do? He made a raft at once and for days transferred from the stranded ship to the shore, goods of all descriptions. He wasted neither time nor opportunity. He did not put it off but made hay while the sun shone.

Every day presents some opportunity to prepare for the coming storm. What are you doing?

Get busy with that raft.

"Some people put nothing away for a rainy day--but an umbrella."
