THE "DOLLAR DOWN" PLAN.

One of the most interesting features of business today is the rapid growth in the past ten years of the installment plan of buying. The problem is one which enters into every phase of business endeavor from building a house to buying a mop.

There are arguments on both sides. The plan can be attacked and as ably defended. Formerly, when mother wanted a new sewing machine, or a piano for daughter's practice, she and father outlined a savings scheme, and bought when they had enough money accumulated.

But some enterprising merchant who realized that it is more difficult to save for a hope than it is for an actual debt, offered to sell goods on a small initial payment, and undertook to collect a certain sum each pay day. In order to do so he had either to raise the price of the goods or charge interest on the outstanding debt.

Both plans followed today. Although some firms prefer one, and some the other, both amount to the same thing. The customer pays interest on the money tied up in the goods unpaid for.

Installment buying has had one beneficial effect on business. The volume of sales is increased. But if sales are greater, so is the overhead expense. Extra bookkeepers, credit departments and collectors are necessary.

The system is beneficial to the consumer in that he is able to have the use of the goods while he is paying for them. On the other hand, he loses his ability to save on a definite salary, is perpetually in debt and continually living in hope.

As a whole, the system cannot be anything but pernicious. It has made a nation of debtors.—Portland Daily Abstract.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF HEALTH.

By Thomas Darlington, Former Health Commissioner of New York.

- 1. Keep your mouth closed when breathing, also when angry. 2. Drink cool water with your meals, also between them. 3. Bathe daily, a shower if possible. 4. Eat slowly which leads to eating sparingly. Make your meal a ceremonial pleasure. 5. Exercise daily, and breathe deeply while so doing, but avoid over-exertion, and never eat when fatigued. 6. Never read or transact business while eating. 7. Work ten hours, sleep eight, and use the balance for recreation and meals. Always rest on Sunday. 8. Ever keep a contented mind. Equanimity means longevity. 9. Neglect no portion of the body. Employ a physician to examine you at regular intervals, and so watch for the beginnings of disease and build up resistance. 10. Moderation in all things.

DISASTROUS MILL FIRE THOUGHT INCENDIARY

A disastrous fire occurred Wednesday night which destroyed the Ed. Douglas sawmill and planer at Eagle Creek, inflicting a damage said to be considerable although the estimate has not yet been obtainable. Firebugs are thought to be responsible for the fire as upon investigation, it was found that the water connections of the plant had been cut off from the supply source. Also the fact that the flames apparently started from several points simultaneously pointed to incendiary.

The mill was said to be well equipped with water supply and hose but, with these rendered useless, the efforts of the employees to check the flames were unavailing. The mill had a three months' run of timber on hand, but due to the fact that much lumber had recently been shipped, the loss there was not heavy.

Mill men throughout the district have been bothered with thieves in that direction recently and it is thought that some of these may have started the fire. Douglas and his time-keeper were sleeping in cabins near the mill, but by the time they were aroused, the fire was beyond their control.

STAGE ASSOCIATION FAVORS GASOLINE TAX

According to E. H. Lewis, manager of the Portland-Gresham stage line a member of the Oregon Motor Stage association, the organized stage operators of the state are not in sympathy with the attack on the gasoline tax made by W. R. Crawford in the United States courts in behalf of certain Oregon interests.

Mr. Crawford seeks to have the United States courts invalidate the law of Oregon providing for the present gasoline tax which is used for the construction and maintenance of the highways.

Mr. Lewis says that the stage operators of this state, through the Oregon Motor Stage association, representing 95 per cent of the stage interests of Oregon, have several times gone on record publicly and officially as being in favor of not only the present tax, but an increase in this tax if additional funds are needed for construction and maintenance of the highways, their position being that the gasoline tax, together with a license fee based on the weight of vehicles, is the fairest and most equitable measure of the use of and damage to highways so far devised or suggested.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PREPARES FOR ACTION

The Anti-Saloon League of Oregon is girding itself for action in connection with matters political that pertain to law enforcement and its influence promises to be a strong factor in the 1926 elections.

First the league is out with a declared purpose to defeat Senator Robert N. Stanfield in the May primaries and putting in his place a man who is a prohibitionist and in sympathy with prohibition enforcement.

The league claims that Stanfield has utterly failed in several of the most important appointments in Oregon which have to do with enforcement of the Volstead act and the cause has suffered as a result.

Another effort of the league will be directed toward preparing and initiating a bill curbing the road houses and dance halls in this state. It will be the strongest possible law which can be written and passed, it is said. These institutions are becoming a grave to the young people of our state, the league believes.

The bill is being prepared and will be circulated early next year. The campaign in its support promises to be an aggressive one.

Then the league is out to accept the challenge of the wets in the proposal of the latter to introduce beer and wine. There has been organized and incorporated the "Oregon Prohibition Referendum Corporation." A similar organization has been perfected in almost every state, it is said.

The Anti-Saloon league will fight with all its might any proposal to bring back beer and wine or any part of the liquor traffic.

The cooperation of all citizens in sympathy with the league is earnestly asked.
