ROSES IN WINTER.

This is practically the beginning of winter—such as this locality experiences—and there have been several light frosts but no severe cold. Up to the present it has been possible to have flowers in the home gathered from the sheltered gardens and lawns. Many roses are still seen clinging to the bushes and rose bouquets are not uncommon.

The possibility of having even roses, home grown, this late in the season is being emphasized in Portland where a winter rose show has just been held under the auspices of the Progressive Business Men's club. Many and beautiful were the blooms on display.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR CRIMINALS.

Great Britain is considering the abolition of the noose and substituting the use of coal gas as a means of officially killing criminals.

In America, Lewis E. Lawes, warden of the far-famed Sing Sing prison, asks for a general revision of the penal statutes and the sentencing of all classes of convicted criminals to penal institutions without minimum or maximum period of punishment being fixed. He would substitute the indeterminate sentence, the period of punishment to be decided by a pardon board, non-political and of high-minded and intelligent character.

The great cry of those who hold to capital punishment is that it acts as a deterrent. Those who would abolish the death penalty, however, contend that capital crime is lower where the death penalty does not obtain. Some contend that while mankind may have the right to inflict punishment for crime, the taking of life affronts the divinity. Those of sterner thought point to the biblical warning that he who lives by the sword must die by the sword.

Whatever may be the eventual outcome of these two lines of reasoning it is hoped that out of them will come a general revision of the statutes in the several states that will bring the administration of justice more into harmony.

MISFORTUNE LESS BURDENSOME.

And now we have the Talkless Telephone, invented for the convenience of deaf mutes. The new instrument conveys messages by means of an alphabet printed on electric light bulbs. The operator presses the keys of a special typewriter, electrically wired, and the corresponding letters are lighted, spelling out the message. Thus day by day we learn to adjust ourselves and render misfortune less burdensome.

The Talkless Telephone will put joy into many a heart, as it will increase the usefulness of thousands heavily handicapped by nature. One of these days, when humanity learns more to appreciate its kinship, the blind, the deaf, and the lame will find little handicap in their affliction. Possibly no man since time began has done more along this line than Henry Ford, who in his genius for organized efficiency has rendered the earning capacity of the man with one arm equal to that of the man with two, bringing the weak and strong on a parity.

To date our thoughtlessness and our party patronage system has forced into the background such important service. The spillover theory is entrenched that even the government scrub woman's job is dependent on her ability to swing or cast the vote. Slowly, however, the government must come to see that the world is suffering a tremendous economic waste in the vast power rendered useless by our failure to adjust it. This fact stimulated by at least a semblance of the human touch holds bright and clear the lamp of hope for thousands of our fellow creatures who have suffered so long a time.

Be moderate; don't make a pig of yourself.

The great American day, the great American bird, the great American appetite—what a combination!

With bandits robbing the mails and barbers bobbing the females, many are wondering which way we are moving.

Thanksgiving day, 1924, will mean more to you if those less fortunate are remembered in some substantial way.

Very few in this country will not have enough to eat this Thanksgiving day. In some countries very few will have enough.

MRS. J. N. CLANAHAN IS STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

While walking on the Base Line road this afternoon, Mrs. J. N. Clanahan was struck by a car and severely bruised, but no serious consequences are expected to follow the accident.

Mrs. Clanahan was accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Cooley and the two women were walking east on the Base Line road near the extension of Cleveland avenue, facing the traffic, Mrs. Clanahan walking on the edge of the pavement and Mrs. Cooley on the gravel at the side. They met a truck and were overtaken at the same time by a car driven by Mrs. Anna D. Brown of Cornelius. The latter evidently became confused and swung over to the wrong side of the road, striking Mrs. Clanahan, whose right arm caught over the front bumper of Mrs. Brown's car, dragging her about 15 feet, when the car was brought to a stop.

Mrs. Brown offered to bring the woman into Gresham but a passing autoist picked them up, and after riding as far as the 12-mile corner, Mrs. Clanahan insisted on walking, and she and Mrs. Cooley proceeded leisurely to their homes.

NIGHT WATCHMAN SAVES DAMAGE IN BUILDING

Emmet Kelly, Gresham's newly-elected marshal, who has been night marshal for the past year and a half, proved his efficiency one night last week while making the rounds of the city, when he noticed the leakage of a pipe in the drug store of G. M. Davidson which caused damage amounting to nearly $100, but which if passed by unnoticed, would eventually have run the loss up to several hundred dollars.

It was about midnight when Mr. Kelly made the discovery of the burst pipe in the soda fountain apparatus, and hastily summoning Mr. Davidson, they repaired the leak as best they could until a plumber could make the proper repairs by daylight.

The damage to the drugstore will be under $100 and that of the basement of the First State bank will be slight in comparison to what it would undoubtedly have been had Marshal Kelly been less vigilant.

FIRE EQUIPMENT IS DEMONSTRATED HERE

The Howard-Cooper company, of Portland, sent last Saturday a model of their latest improved combination fire truck with pumper, chemical and hose truck. A crew to man this equipment was also in attendance and with several interested firemen from Gresham, the machine made a demonstration up and down Main street to show off the fine points of the fire apparatus.

One advantage of this rig is the pumper, which can be inserted in a creek or other body of water and the water pumped onto a fire without attaching to a hydrant. This was the combination which was recently on exhibition at the International Livestock exposition and won so much favorable comment. Members of the fire company at Gresham were deeply impressed with the demonstration as they are in need of just such equipment for the local station. Its cost is around $5000, which is regarded as very conservative.

D. E. TOWLE ATTENDS CANNERY CONFERENCE

D. E. Towle returned from Salem Friday evening where he was chairman of the cannery committee meeting which was held at that place to investigate the desirability of forming a central organization for canneries. This meeting proved to be simply a preliminary get-together talk relative to the more complete discussion and organization which is hoped to be perfected at the next meeting of this committee which will be held in Portland at the chamber of commerce next Monday evening.

At this time each of the six men comprising the committee will bring in their best thought on paper and will endeavor to reach some definite agreement on the centralization idea which includes the sales agreement and uniformity of packing the cannery product.

Rebekahs and Odd Fellows Will Visit Home.

Next Sunday, November 30, is the time set for the annual visit to the Odd Fellows home in southeast Portland by members of Gresham Odd Fellows lodge and Rebekahs. The visitors will leave the I. O. O. F. hall at 1 o'clock.

It is planned to take donations of vegetables and fruit for use at the home. The Welfare club of the Rebekah lodge has made three handsome quilts that will be included in the gifts to the home. Donations of vegetables and fruit are solicited and may be left at Cecil Metzger's grocery. Any further information regarding the plans may be obtained from Cecil Metzger or Mrs. A. F. Hoover.

Now dawn the glad morn of the Annual Feast—hurray for Thanksgiving Day! The children are smiling from biggest to least, a welcome to 'Thanksgiving' Day. So fervid in thanks that we can't stop to plead for blessing's that, somehow, we don't seem to need, with health, home, and heaven the bliss of our creed—we hail this Thanksgiving Day! Recallin' the past—and the tears we have shed, we bow—this Thanksgiving Day, . . . for, health comes soon to the wounds that have bled, . . . Rejoice, this Thanksgiving Day! The Lord of the Vineyard provideth the yield from garden and orchard—from medder an' field, with joy in the light of His presence revealed, we hail this Thanksgiving Day! Partake of the feast in the fullness of cheer—on this, our Thanksgiving Day! The seed-time is past—but the harvest is here, for this—is Thanksgiving Day. Let nothin' that's selfish creep into our soul, though appetite's pleadin' is hard to control. Let Peace and Good-will our allegiance enroll—all hail, sweet Thanksgiving Day!
