

Greshamites Enjoy Homecoming.
Among those who attended the homecoming week at Oregon Agricultural College last week were, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kinder, S. B. Hall, Miss Virginia Curran, R. E. Cannon, W. C. Lawrence and Earl Shafer, the latter football coach of Union high school. Mr. and Mrs. L. T. St. Clair attended the festivities as press representatives and were enthusiastic fans at the big football game on Saturday. The county club and the agricultural agents were especially interested in the homecoming celebration from the angle of the alumni. Mr. Kinder renewed the acquaintance and friendship of his former classmates of three years ago and S. B. Hall those of his graduating class of 1903. Those who had the privilege of being in Corvallis at this big annual get-together, pronounce it as simply "great."

Judge George Stapleton presided over the circuit court of Umatilla county last week at Pendleton, taking the place of Judge Gilbert W. Phelps of Pendleton, who came to Portland to direct the proceedings of the circuit court.

A parsonage adjacent to the denominational temple is in course of construction and will probably be in readiness for the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Pitts, within two or three weeks. The building is a modern cottage 22 x 24 in size, three rooms with bath, built-in conveniences, plastered, and with porches on two sides. R. C. Frace, of Sandy, is in charge of the carpenter work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Clow are expecting the Rev. and Mrs. D. Q. Barry, of Gladstone Park, as Thanksgiving guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burch entertained at Sunday dinner their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thom of Salem, and the former's father, William Thom. Mr. and Mrs. Burch and son, Clair, expect to go to Roseburg to spend Thanksgiving with friends.

The annual bazaar of the Methodist Ladies Aid, which will be held on Wednesday evening, December 3, promises to be one of the best ever given by the society. Beautiful fancy work is being offered for the sale, Christmas post cards, handkerchiefs and many novelties will be shown. A good dinner will be served and an interesting program given. The circles making up the society are working separately to provide articles for the occasion. The members of the Dorcas circle will have all articles at the home of Mrs. A. McManus on or before Monday, December 1, at 1 o'clock, when the committee will meet to price and arrange the articles.

M. D. Kern had a quiet celebration of his birthday Monday, which was participated in by a number of neighbors. Mrs. Kern provided a birthday cake and invited to enjoy it Mrs. O. A. Eastman, Mrs. M. E. Gilmore, Mrs. George Page, Mrs. W. A. Winters, Mrs. Hannah Johnson and James Lawrence. Mr. Kern has been ill but is now able to be up a part of the time. Mrs. W. R. Kern and daughters Florence and Helen of Vancouver, Washington, visited Sunday at the M. D. Kern home.

George Bechill of Glenco, Ontario, Canada, was the guest all of last week of his brother, Fred J. Bechill and family. The brothers had not met for 30 years. The guest was shown the beauties of the Columbia river highway and the Mt. Hood loop road, going on the latter to the snow near Twin Bridges. He expressed great admiration for the scenery, which, he said, surpassed anything he had ever seen, though he has traveled in Europe.

Mrs. J. S. Carlson, who has been for more than three weeks under treatment at Portland Medical hospital for an ailment of the stomach, is reported to be improving in health, though it is expected that she will remain in the hospital for a few weeks longer.

Delegates to the Older Boys' conference to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Dallas under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association, were chosen last Sunday by the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school as follows: James McAllister, Guy Rusher, Arnold Rogers, John Ott and Edward Stubbs. They will be accompanied on the trip by Lester Spencer, who will take them in his car and bring them home again. Other delegates have been chosen to go with them from the high school. They are Ellis Judd, Jack Dowsett, Orville Johnson and Vearl Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Shipley visited with the former's brother, R. C. Shipley and family who reside near Bull Run, a few days last week.

J. L. Stafford drove to Monitor Monday on business connected with the operation of the plant of the Oregon Pickle and Canning company at that place.

W. L. Gorsage is having his residence remodeled, by the addition of a dining room and two bedrooms and the enlarging of the basement, also a fireplace will be installed. During the month or more the alterations are taking place, the family will reside in the C. R. Miller cabin opposite their home. J. A. Bushong has charge of the work.

J. E. Metzger has just completed the installation of a 7-tube double "A" Super-Heterodyne radio receiving set in his furniture store. The set is equipped with a loud speaker and the aerial is more than 60 feet in height. Montreal and Pittsburg are heard with ease, also the California stations.

The estate of Henry T. Taber, who died at Longview, Washington, in September, was filed for probate in the superior court last week. His real and personal property amounted to about $1500. Mr. Taber was formerly a resident of Gresham.

Mrs. Anna Jenner, mother of George K. Jenner, returned with her son and his wife from Corvallis where they had been attending the O. A. C. Homecoming week festivities. She will remain until after Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. Jenner were accompanied to Corvallis by Mrs. Frank Lines, of Albany, mother of Mrs. Jenner, who remained to return to her home.

Mrs. Anna Full is in receipt of a telegram from St. John, North Dakota, announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Edstrom, aged 67 years, who passed away Sunday evening after over a year's illness with heart trouble. Mrs. Full will be unable to make the long trip to attend the funeral. Mrs. Edstrom is survived by her husband and three daughters. The family had anticipated the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Edstrom on the coming Saturday, November 29.

Geo. F. Lane of Gresham has just been made a member of the dairy club of Oregon Agricultural College. Plans for the dairy division of the agricultural fair the winter term were discussed at a recent meeting. The club is expecting to keep up the reputation it has made in previous years by putting on the first prize exhibit. Mr. Lane is a junior in the school of agriculture.

The funeral of Kathleen Gray Rowley, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rowley, who died in a Portland hospital Thursday evening from convulsions, was held from the East Side undertaking parlors, Saturday afternoon at 2:30, with interment in Multnomah cemetery. The Rev. S. F. Pitts conducted the funeral services. The Rowleys came to Gresham from Hood River about six weeks ago and are living near Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hoover, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Rowley.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Judd have been invited to spend Thanksgiving day at Ridgefield, Washington, where they expect to visit with their cousins, N. C. Hall and B. L. Caukel, and their families.
