GRESHAM BRANCH OF LUMBER COMPANY SOLD

The retail yard branch of the Jones Lumber company located here with the head office in Portland has changed hands, the deal being closed up a day or so ago that gives possession of the Gresham holdings of the company to Barnes & Rhorson, of Seattle, northwest lumbermen. They will take possession the first of the coming February and it is expected they will move to Gresham with their families. M. C. Addy, who has had charge of the Jones Lumber company's yard in Gresham for about the past two and a half years, will stay with the new owners a month after they take possession, lining them up and getting them started. Addy is undecided as to just what he will engage in after giving up his work here, but thinks he will take up something in Portland.

GRADE SCHOOL TO GIVE FINE PROGRAM

It has been the custom of the grade school for years past to render a Christmas program each year a day or so preceding the holiday vacation. The Christmas holiday period begins this year on Thursday, Dec. 24, and school will begin again on Jan. 4. The program will be given in the auditorium of the grade school on the afternoon of Wednesday, Dec. 23, beginning at 1:30. A hearty invitation is being extended by principal, teachers and students to be present at this time and enjoy the result of weeks of thoughtful preparation and plans. Last year's program was excellent. This one promises to be better. The numbers are as follows: Invocation; song, "It came upon the midnight clear;" The toy celebration; "The birth of Jesus," by Rev. E. G. Judd; song, "Ting a ling ling;" "Bill," a class exercise; "Silent Night;" "Boyhood of Jesus," Rev. E. Horstmann; "Rugle's Christmas party;" "Manhood of Jesus," Rev. W. T. Klotzbach; "Luther's Cradle hymn;" "Why we have Christmas," by Prin. C. W. Huett; "Santa Claus," by Prin. C. M. Quicksall; general exercises; benediction.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE TALKS FROM OLD GRADS

Prin. R. E. Cannon, of Gresham Union high school announces that all former graduates of the high school are invited to a big "get together" at the high school next Wednesday at 12:40. Those who are attending higher institutions of learning or those who are teaching, in fact the invitation is broad and is to include any who are interested in the high school and its doings.

There are to be "pep" talks, experiences, etc. Miss Doris Zimmerman, who sings over the radio for Oregon Agricultural college, will sing; Bill Fritz, a student at the University of Oregon, has kindly consented to dance; Rinar Mattson, also a U. of O. man, will orate and Helen Lawrence will represent the Oregon state normal students. Grace Welch has been invited to give a five-minute talk on the subject, "Going through college in one week."

Mr. Cannon states that some of the more fortunate girls who ventured into matrimony since graduation have been asked to come in and speak on the subject, "Why girls should marry early," or a similar topic. Letters will be awarded to the baseball and football men and altogether they are looking for a real, rousing, peppy meeting, one never to be forgotten. Mr. Cannon says that every one is to constitute himself or herself a committee of one to broadcast the invitation to all to attend.

Death Comes to W. E. Robinson.
W. E. Robinson, aged about 70, died suddenly Thursday evening, Dec. 17, death coming without the slightest warning. He was about to partake of the evening meal when he fell forward and expired without a word. Mr. Robinson was for years a banker in Howe, Indiana. He had been here and in Portland for the past 15 years, living in apartments in the city or on the George Towle property on Honey Hill. Mr. Robinson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Robinson, who is a sister of Mrs. George F. Honey, and by one son, Edwin Mead Robinson, editorial writer on the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and an author of note. The son has been summoned and is on the way here. Funeral services have not been definitely arranged but will probably be on next Tuesday.

DIPHTHERIA SITUATION IN FAIRVIEW TENSE

The diphtheria situation at Fairview is tense, and while it has not assumed the proportions of an epidemic, by any means, is regarded as serious enough to warrant the closing of all entertainments which had been scheduled for the Christmas season. Up to the present time one death has occurred from the disease, that of Tomiko Kobayashi, a seven-year-old Japanese girl, who died at the isolation hospital last Sunday within six hours after being taken there.

Following her death around 50 or 60 Japanese were inoculated with the anti-toxin serum. They had been in the house and it was decided to take this precaution. Two other Japanese families are now in quarantine, although no serious cases have been reported among them.

There are several other Fairview families in quarantine also, in some of which there are members who have been found to be carriers of the disease while others have it in a light form. No case has developed which could be considered as serious. George Shaw Jr., Morgan Backus, Elmer Patrick and Lawrence Mahaffey have been declared to be carriers and as such are quarantined in their homes, while Wanda Cook and Bill Patrick, a brother of Mrs. R. Roberts, have the disease in a mild form. It is said.

It has been thought to postpone indefinitely the entertainments incident to the celebration of Christmas, including the school program, the program to be given by the Methodist Sunday school, the grange social and that part of the Presbyterian program in which the children had a part.

School is still going on and will probably continue until the date for the beginning of the regular holiday vacation unless new developments should take place. Dr. William Levin, state health director, and Miss Mary P. Billmeyer, county health nurse, came out Monday and administered the Shick test to 50 pupils in the school. They came out again Thursday to observe the workings of the test and found only nine negative cases or those who are considered as immune. The physician will be out in January to administer the antitoxin to the remaining number of pupils who did not respond favorably to the test.

It is believed by Fairview residents and others that the situation is well in hand and that unless unforeseen complications set in, the end will soon come to the unpleasant conditions which prevail at present.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO GIVE HOLIDAY COCERT

A splendid holiday concert to be given in the Portland auditorium on Monday evening, December 28, has been arranged by Willem van Hoogstraten, conductor of the Portland Symphony orchestra. All the numbers are cheerful, bright and melodious and the concert is expected to draw a sold-out house from Portland and vicinity. Those desiring to attend should make arrangements early, as many have been turned away from the last two concerts. Following is the program for December 28: Sibelius, Finlandia; Sibelius, Valse Triste; Bach, Air; Grainger, Irish Tune from County Derry; Liszt, Les Preludes; Dvorak, New World Symphony.

Kiddies, see Radio Electric company's window Saturday afternoon for a real Boston Terrier puppy. Mrs. F. E. Batchelor.—Adv.

Holly May Be Mailed Parcel Post Without Inspection.

Many inquiries are being received in regard to shipping holly and other Christmas greens by parcel post. This is to advise that holly and other cut greens may be shipped by parcel post without a certificate of inspection when intended for decorative purposes and not for propagation. E. E. JOHNSON, Postmaster.

WINTER EPIDEMICS CAUSE UNEASINESS

With the advent of winter many contagious diseases present themselves and at the present time are taxing the energy of the health officials who are doing all in their power to reduce them to a minimum. To call the roll of the mumps victims would be to compile a lengthy directory of names, so numerous has the list become. Some severe cases have been reported among those afflicted, although others are very mild, causing the ones who were suffering with the glandular swelling to doubt if the diseases really were the mumps.

The report got around erroneously that children were free to return to school even while other members of the family were sick with mumps, but this is true in cases only where they have been kept separated from the sick persons and where those wishing to return to school had previously had the disease. Where they have been freely exposed and have not had the mumps, the authorities think it wise for them to remain at home until all danger of coming down is past.

Chicken pox has now made its appearance in Gresham, two cases developing during the past day or so. However, there seems to be no cause for alarm over the conditions locally in regard to contagious diseases if proper conditions are observed as to the general rules of health.

Baptist Christmas Services and Program.

Christmas will be observed in the Baptist church next Sunday. If the weather conditions are unfavorable and the church building is not sufficiently completed, the Bible school and preaching service in the morning will be held in the auditorium of the grade school just across the alley from the church and the Christmas program put on by the young people and scholars of the Bible school will also be held in the auditorium of the grade school in the evening. The regular Bible school Christmas lesson will be studied in the Bible school beginning at 10 a. m. At 11 o'clock the special Christmas services of the church will be held. The choir will present special Christmas music and the pastor will preach a sermon, the theme of which will be "Why Observe Christmas?" The intermediate society will meet at 5:30 p. m. and the B. Y. P. U. at 6:30. At 7:30 the Christmas program "The Quest" will be presented by 30 members of the Bible school in three parts as follows:

Part I, Prologue—The Christmas Story; Interlude—The Christ Child's Quest; Part II, The End of the Quest, Christmas in the Home; Part III, Where the Christmas Spirit Shines, Gifts for others.

Much careful preparation has been made for the presentation of this interpretation of Christmas and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

MOTORCYCLE COP HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Lee Mullenhour, motorcycle cop, got badly tangled Sunday with a Dodge sedan driven by John F. Proctor, a Portland man, at the point where the Rockwood road crosses the Base Line. Mullenhour was badly though not seriously injured as he struck on his head, and his arm was giving him considerable trouble when he was taken from the scene of the accident to Portland.

The traffic cop was proceeding west on the Base Line on his motorcycle which was equipped with a side car, when the sedan coming in on the Rockwood road from the north hit him as its driver was negotiating a left hand turn. Proctor was not harmed although his machine was considerably wrecked. The side car of the motorcycle was badly damaged.

Right of Way Suit Settled.

Decision was rendered a few days ago in the case of Mrs. Hanna Unis vs. Multnomah county, in which she was suing for the amount of $1200 to be paid her for the right of way through her ten-acre ranch near Gustavus station. She was allowed but $365 for said right of way privilege, but $5 more than the first offer which was made by the county for the strip of land.

Corbett Woman Severely Injured.

Mrs. K. Hanneman, wife of the proprietor of the Hanneman dairy at Corbett, is in Good Samaritan hospital the result of an accident which occurred Thursday morning on the Columbia River highway between Springdale and Corbett when the milk truck in which she was riding collided with a machine going west on the highway, catching her foot between the two machines and injuring the heel severely. Mrs. Hanneman had started for Portland with her husband in the truck. At a certain point along the road he had occasion to apply the brakes and they held so well that the machine skidded and turned half way around in the road just in time to receive a blow from the oncoming car. Her foot was badly mashed and she was hurried to the hospital where she will probably be obliged to remain for several days.

FORMER GRESHAM BOY MAKES FINE RECORD

The following account of the rapid rise in the world of a former Gresham boy may prove interesting to the friends of Mrs. Jake Metzger, whose brother, Edwin P. Shattuck, the subject of the sketch, went to New York in 1896, hung out a shingle as a lawyer on Broadway, made good in his chosen profession and was decorated three times in Europe during the World War.

Mr. Shattuck was born in Gresham in 1873, attended the University of Oregon and at the close of his junior year went to New York and entered Columbia University, receiving his degree of LL. B. in 1899. He is now the senior member of a large law firm on Broadway. He is a director in a number of corporations, is active in two educational foundations and is also a member of several civic clubs.

Mr. Shattuck was chosen chairman of the New York delegation to entertain the Oregon delegates during the national democratic convention. He has many outdoor activities, among them membership in the New York Raquet and Tennis club, the American Yacht club and a golf club. He also belongs to several bar associations. He served as counsel and director of the two government corporations controlling the grain and sugar corporations during the World War and immediately following the close of the war he received decorations from Poland, Finland and Bulgaria for the relief work he did in those countries. Mr. Shattuck takes an active part in the activities of the Oregon State society in New York whenever it meets and is always glad to greet Oregonians when they are making a visit to the Metropolis.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AND TREE ATTRACT

Plans are being rapidly perfected for the community Christmas tree entertainment which will be given outdoors next Tuesday evening at the corner of Main and Powell streets, beginning at 7 o'clock. The program will open with selections by the Gresham band to be followed by community singing of a group of Christmas songs, the first of which will be "Joy to the World." It has been requested by the leader of the community singing that members of all church choirs in Gresham shall go forward to the platform and assist in this.

The community singing will be followed by chorus numbers by the pupils of the grade school. Steady and patient rehearsals have been taking place at the school for these and it promises to be well worth hearing.

Miss Doris Zimmerman, of Portland, will next favor the audience with a vocal selection. Miss Zimmerman needs no introduction to Gresham. She is a graduate of Gresham Union high school and is now attending Oregon Agricultural college where she is prominent in musical affairs. She has a fine contralto voice and the committee feels it is fortunate to secure her for a place on the program.

After a number by the orchestra the Rev. C. W. Huett will give a five-minute talk on "The Spirit of Christmas." Following this will be a most fanciful number when the Union high school clubs in costume will sing a group of Christmas carols. The last musical number on the program is a community song, "Merry, Merry Christmas."

Last but not least on the program will come the part to every child so dear, the momentous time when Santa Claus shall put in an appearance and in his jovial manner distribute to the little waiting hands a bag of candy as a sign of his enduring fellowship and good will. It has been arranged to distribute to every child ten years of age or under a bag of candy. These bags are now being made in the domestic art department of the high school under the direction of Miss Augusta Hahn. They are of red and green mosquito bar, a contribution of one of the local merchants.

Spotlights will be thrown on the costumes of those participating in the program and this in itself will no doubt prove a very pleasing feature. Should the weather be inclement, the children are not to be disappointed and the program will be rendered elsewhere.

Much praise is heard on all sides for the beautiful tree which is diffusing its radiance without partiality to all within reach. The tree will remain in place until New Year's. The spirit which prompts it is not mercenary in any respect, but it is thought it will prove an inspiration to the city and the surrounding country.

DELEGATES ELECTED TO STATE TEACHERS' MEET

The Oregon State Teachers association will be held at the Lincoln high school in Portland, Oregon, December 29, 30 and 31.

Multnomah county outside of Portland is entitled to three delegates. From a list of seven nominees the following teachers were elected to represent Multnomah county: F. D. Bralley, principal of Gilbert school; F. D. Olesman, principal of Orient school; Mrs. Dunn, principal of Russellville school.

The first day of the meeting will be devoted to business and reports. The remainder of the time will be filled with educational features. Dr. Edward Cubberly of Stanford University is one of the speakers from out of the state.

That Christmas Gift

What finer Christmas gift could you possibly make to many of your young friends than a savings deposit book in the First State Bank.

Such a gift carries with it all the pleasure, good will and Christmas cheer of the usual gift and in addition an infinite possibility for good.

It points the way to success in life and may bequeath a habit of thrift that will attain that goal. $1.00 is sufficient to obtain such a book but you may be as liberal as you like.
