

GRANGERS LISTEN TO GOV. PIERCE

Gov. Walter Pierce was at his best Saturday afternoon as he brought the subject of taxes to his audience assembled at the high school gymnasium on the occasion of the meeting of the granges of Multnomah county in an all-day session. As the governor was leaving for a trip to eastern Oregon, his time was limited, but he put into his address for the brief time he occupied the floor enough punch, pep and array of interesting facts clinched with undisputable figures to keep his hearers afraid every moment he was going to quit.

He declared to begin with that the subject of taxes was a favorite one with him. His pet theme is the re-installing of the state income tax and he cited figures from various other states where this has materially reduced the burden to the small property owner and placed it equitably on the shoulders of those able to pay. He declared that much of the wealth of Oregon is in stocks and bonds where the assessor cannot find it. While the income tax law was in operation, nearly three million dollars were turned into the treasury, according to the governor's statistics. He promises still a greater return of funds to the state if the income tax law is restored. The governor, who was accompanied by the state treasurer, Jefferson Myers, was highly pleased with his reception by the visiting grangers and farmers and greatly enjoyed the lunch served by the ladies in charge of arrangements.

The meeting was opened and presided over by Pomona Master J. G. Kelly about 10:30 in the morning and the time was taken up with community singing and addresses by S. B. Hall and D. E. Towle. Following the speech by Governor Pierce the audience was favored with a selection by the high school orchestra and several numbers by the Portland police quartet. There is only one police quartet. The four members, with the inimitable Walter Tyler as leader, captivated their hearers and every number made a hit. The encores they received would make a prima donna turn green with envy. It is needless to say these popular singers will receive a warm welcome whenever they may choose to make Gresham another visit. As they were leaving the gymnasium, each of the quartet and their accompanist, was presented with a box of lunch which probably they enjoyed on the way back to the city.

W. C. Lawrence spoke on the subject of Gresham Union high school, a subject not only dear to his heart but one with which he is thoroughly familiar. Miss Jeanette Putnam Cramer spoke on conserving time, strength and money by the making of a household budget, also on the budget's first cousin, step savers. Mrs. Exley, a member of the Russellville grange, gave two humorous readings, which were much appreciated.

Sickness and disarrangement of the

GRESHAM LETS CONTRACT FOR WATER RESERVOIR

Contract for the building of the new steel tank with roof to be used for a water reservoir for Gresham was let at an adjourned meeting of the council on last Wednesday night to the Pittsburg-Des Moines Tank company, the price being $9,140. The base and pipe contract was let to the J. W. Sadler company, at $13,013.25. The latter includes the laying of a 10-inch steel pipe from the in-take at the city hall to the reservoir, with necessary fittings. To these contract prices must be added an engineers' fee of 6 per cent, amounting to $1329.19, which brings the cost of the project to $23,482.44. It is likely that other small items will come up to bring the expense slightly higher, but it is a matter of considerable satisfaction to the councilmen and others, that there is so large a margin over the maximum amount of $33,000 authorized by the city in voting bonds. It is expected that a number of hydrants will be placed along First and Second streets on Wallula Heights to give fire protection to residents in that part of the city.

WAR ON ROADHOUSES WAGED BY SHERIFF

War is continuing on the roadhouses which adorn the highway between here and Portland and other places, according to information given out by Sheriff Hurlburt and his assistants. Three arrests have already been made and at least ten more are in sight, the result of evidence carefully gathered recently.

The sheriff has stated his purpose to close the places at midnight hereafter and thus prevent the gathering of the riffraff of the city who are forced to the suburban districts after the midnight hour to continue their revelry and drunkenness. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the proprietors of the Six-mile house, the Julius Bock roadhouse and Peacock villa. Several places in the neighborhood of Gresham are under surveillance and more arrests may be expected. The Green Mill, the Twelve-mile house and Beacon Lodge are others against which evidence has been accumulating, according to the authorities.

Berry Growers Attention.

All berry growers who are not under contract, ATTENTION. Call H. G. Andrew, 896, for valuable information concerning this year's crop.—Adv.

Garden Service.

Pruning, landscaping, new lawns made. Complete line of fruit and ornamental trees and shrubs for sale. W. W. Stowe, phone 321.—Adv.

Nae-Ova Treatment for Rheumatism.

We have been appointed agents for this celebrated treatment, $5 per treatment. Gresham Drug Co.—Adv.

program were smilingly met by the lecturer of Pomona grange and taken all in all the occasion of the meeting on Saturday was conducive to many valuable interchanges of ideas and mutual helpfulness.

BLACK CAP RAISING URGED BY TOWLE

The planting of black cap raspberries in this section at this time is thought to be a good proposition by the management of the Berry Growers Packing company, as the acreage of that berry is comparatively small and the demand is sure to be good in the next few years. Manager D. E. Towle has put the situation up to the members of the association in the following letter:

"As suggested in our last letter we would try to make some suggestions as to plantings of berries for the future and at this time wish to call your attention to the fact that Black Cap raspberry acreage of this territory is down to the zero mark, and those of you who will plant an acreage of this berry will doubtless reap a rich reward in at least growing enough to supply the fresh fruit demand.

"There are two varieties that are most highly recommended for quality of fruit and vigor of growth and yield. These are the Munger and Plum Farmer. Plants are rather scarce, but we have found a supply of Munger plants at a reasonable price that are claimed to be first class and free from disease, being certified to by a fruit inspector.

"Blackcaps are handled quite differently from other cane berries as they do not need either posts or wire, and in making a planting of these berries the plot of land should be square or nearly so to cheapen the cost of cultivation. Plants should be set on the square, preferably six feet apart each way, this making it convenient to use the horse cultivator both ways, which reduces the hand work. And when the canes are from two to three feet long they should be pinched off, which will force out the lateral branches and give the main canes a stock strong growth that makes them self supporting, and by cutting the branches back to a length of say one to two feet, will give sufficient fruit wood to produce a good yield of berries. As the black caps berries grow in clusters and all ripen in a shorter time than the red berries, it makes them cheaper to harvest. In setting 6x6 feet, 1200 plants will plant an acre and the cost of plants being 2c each, the cost per acre would be $24. If interested, and if you want the association to secure the plants for you, orders should be placed at once, as they are quite scarce."

ARTHUR LELAND DIES IN PORTLAND HOSPITAL

Arthur Allen Leland, aged 42 years, a former resident of Gresham, died Monday, January 18, at 11 a. m. at Good Samaritan hospital from pneumonia. His illness had extended over a week's time. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Sarah I. Leland, a brother, Isaac, a sister, Mrs. Ella M. Potter and a daughter, Maida Leland. The funeral service, in charge of the Rev. S. F. Pitts, will be held at the Miller & Tracey chapel Wednesday forenoon at 11 o'clock, after which the remains will be taken to the Portland crematorium for cremation.

Raw Furs Wanted.

I am paying more than market prices for all kinds of raw furs, including moles and rabbits. For prices call 1659 or write C. A. Carlson, Taxidermist-Furrier, Gresham, Ore.—Adv.

Journal Bargain Rates Now On.

Bargain rates on the Oregon Journal are now on, also attractive combination rates with the Gresham Outlook. Until February 3 the rates will be as follows: Daily and Sunday Journal, $7, with Outlook, $7.80; Daily Journal, $5, with Outlook, $6; Weekly Journal one year 75c, with Outlook, $2. Order through the Outlook.

The Outlook's bargain counter on page 2.

FORMER PRINCIPAL HERE GETS NEW 3-YEAR TERM

In a recent issue of The Freewater Times, received at the Outlook office, an article appeared mentioning the re-election of Elmer F. Goodwin to the superintendency of the Milton-Freewater high school for a second term of three years, at a salary of $4000 a year. Mr. Goodwin, who served as principal in the Gresham Union high school for a period of six years, is now on his fifth year at the eastern Oregon school. The chairman of the high school board there states that the board is well pleased with the present policy of the school, which has made it one of the best in the state. There are 18 teachers on the high school faculty and an enrollment of 299 students.

RADIO CABINETS MADE WITH MUCH DIFFICULTY

A staff of explorers and specially trained buyers of mahogany continually plod through the dense, steaming jungles of Central America and Mexico, in search of genuine mahogany that meets the rigid tests and the high specifications for certain radio cabinets.

Little does the average person know of the perilous adventures and difficulties encountered in securing the genuine mahogany, logging it to the coast, where it must be kept in fresh water till the ship in which it is to be carried arrives. This is to avoid the teredo worm, scourge of tropical seas, which attacks all wood, honeycombs it and makes it worthless.

For the exacting manufacturer, the mahogany must come from Mexico or central America, as it is conceded to be the only true mahogany aside from that on the gold coast of Africa. African mahogany is not especially adapted to radio cabinets.

Seventy-eight operations, with as many inspections, are required to convert the rough mahogany logs into satin finished radio cabinets, according to the Atwater Kent company of Philadelphia. This firm uses an average of 20,000 feet of mahogany a day, approximately four feet to a cabinet.

The process of converting the mahogany logs into cabinets, in the Atwater Kent daylight factory, may be separated into three divisions: the wood itself, the construction of the cabinet and the finishing of the cabinet. After the logs arrive in the United States, they are cut into boards and exposed to the atmosphere. When the mahogany boards are first placed in the open, they are almost white, but the action of the elements turns them to a light, salmon pink shading sometimes to a brown, then to the mellow mahogany tone. After the boards are sent to the factory, great care must be exercised to keep the room at a high temperature. Any sudden change, or cold air, will make many of the boards warp, and some snap. After the boards are cut, they are automatically planed, tongued and grooved. High-speed machines drill holes; others round the edges of the cabinets. Large, endless sand belts speed production and make the assembled cabinet smooth as glass. In assembling the cabinet, special care is taken to make the joints tight by dove-tailing instead of nailing together.

After the cabinet is assembled, it must be water stained, lacquered, rubbed, lacquered and rubbed again and again until the highest smooth piano finish is obtainable. The special preparations of the Atwater Kent Company enable them to bring the full mellowness of the mahogany to the surface and finish the cabinet in such a manner that it gives the same effect as if plate glass were placed over the cabinet to accentuate its beauty.

Unusual Value this Week. $1.25 to $2.00 ladies' Phoenix silk and wool fancy sport hose, 95c. Aylsworth & Martin.

MUSICAL EVENTS

POLISH VIRTUOSO TO BE SYMPHONY SOLOIST

Paul Kochanski, eminent Polish violin virtuoso, will be the solo artist at the next regular Monday night concert of the Portland Symphony orchestra, to be played at the public auditorium, January 25. Paul Kochanski is probably the only outstanding violinist of foreign birth, before the public of America today, who has established himself in this country on his own merits. His immediate predecessors made stock of glamorous reputations abroad. Not so with Kochanski. He arrived in 1921, with the determination to make good without preliminary advertising. He was determined to make his debut with Damsrosch and the New York Symphony orchestra, playing the Brahms concerto for violin and orchestra. This announcement met with the disapproval of his managers, since the concerto had been regarded almost as the sacred possession of Fritz Kreisler.

Kochanski had his way, however, and he won. His success was instantaneous, and he comes to Portland with a great backing of public confidence. Portlanders will be glad to learn that Mr. Kochanski will play the Brahms concerto in Portland with the orchestra.

The opening number for the concert will be the overture to "Rosamunde" (Schubert). This is one of the best examples of Schubertian melody and grace. For his closing group, Mr. van Hoogstraten has selected numbers that will balance with the concerto. The grotesque and interesting fantasia, "A Night on Bald Mountain" by Modeste Moussorgsky, will be played. This is one of the most unorthodox of all orchestral works. Moussorgsky could be original and at the same time fascinating. His opera "Boris Godunov" and this fantasia are probably the best liked among American audiences.

Wagner's overture to "Tannhauser" will close the performance. This work has been heard many times in Portland and its leading motive, the "Pilgrims' Chorus" is known to all music lovers. The overture is a masterpiece of orderliness, and is a remarkable example of Wagner's ability to project the entire tale of the opera in the prelude.

GRESHAM MUSICIANS OPEN NEW STUDIO

Miss Frieda Bratzel, upon the expiration of her lease of her studio in the First State bank building the 15th of this month, leased room for a studio for her piano class work at the home of Miss Elva Dolan, opposite the library, and will continue her work there. Miss Florence Honey will again occupy the studio in the bank building vacated by Miss Bratzel. Before her departure for China Miss Honey conducted her classes there, then turned the studio over to Miss Dorothy Walton and Mrs. Edele Miller, after which Miss Bratzel had the place for the remainder of the lease. Miss Hazel Thiele, who formerly was associated with Miss Bratzel, is yet in Alaska.

Miss Helen Harper, of Portland, began last Saturday with her violin music class at the high school building. Miss Harper is an outstanding violinist and comes to Gresham highly recommended. She recently turned down an offer with the Ellison-White circuit and she is leader of a prominent church orchestra in Portland. Miss Harper and Miss Dorothy Dickey are both members of an exclusive musical fraternity of the University of Oregon, Mu Phi Epsilon.

Miss Charlotte Nash, who some time ago secured a number of violin pupils in Gresham, is now attending the University of Oregon where she is majoring in violin. For the present she expects to spend the week-ends at home with her mother, Mrs. John Nash, who is staying at the residence of Miss Winnifred Osburn.

The Gresham high school is sponsoring the showing of the comic opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," which will be given some time this spring. The music was written by Sir Arthur Sullivan and the words by John Gilbert. The scenes are laid on board the British ship throughout the whole play. It is said that when the glee clubs sing through the delightful and intriguing story, one can almost hear the waves splashing against the side of the ship and feel the refreshing sea breezes.

Gresham Beauty Shoppe everything in the line of cosmetic therapy. Courtous and efficient treatment. Mrs. Lois St. Clair, First State Bank building, phone 1841, Gresham.—Adv.

Money to loan on real estate. Farm loans at 4 per cent. B. W. Thorne.

ELEANOR WILNER WRITES BEST ESSAY

The state contest, representing seven counties, which was sponsored by the marketing department of the Portland chamber of commerce in co-ordination with Oregon Agricultural college came to a close last week and two of the victors were Eleanor Wilner, who won first place in the grade school class and Frances Ekstrom, high school student, who was awarded fourth place in a keen competition wherein many excellent essays were submitted on the subject of marketing.

The community contest was first held some weeks ago in which the two Powell Valley girls were declared victors. Later the lucky contestants in the community met for a district try-out and again Miss Ekstrom and Miss Wilner came out ahead. But in the finals, or in the state test, Miss Ekstrom stood fourth, while Miss Wilner still retained her place as first prize winner. The prizes were very substantial ones, the grade school pupil receiving a cash prize of $60 while Miss Ekstrom received one of $15.

The subject treated of was "Marketing" in its various phases and has been very ably dealt with by both the Gresham girls. The essays in full will be printed in the Outlook as space is available. Eleanor Wilner, who is 13 years of age, is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Wilner, of Powell Valley, and is a student at the Powell Valley grade school. Her essay would do credit to one much older.

The various victors selected from the contestants throughout the state have been much feted during the past few days. The young people were guests at luncheon of the Portland chamber of commerce, they were taken on numerous tours of inspection including the city markets, a prominent bank, the city woolen mills and terminal and on Monday were again guests at the chamber of commerce at the open forum which is held each Monday noon. W. D. Kinder and S. B. Hall accompanied the two young ladies from this place and looked after their safety and welfare in the matter of entertainment.

FOUR BRONZE MEDALS GIVEN CLUB MEMBERS

Four bronze medals have within the past few days been awarded to as many girls in county club work from O. M. Plummer, general manager of the Pacific International Livestock exposition in recognition of work done in their respective lines of work. Pearl Yandell and Thelma Salisbury were given the medals for their work in the prune bread team. These are Gresham girls, although since the demonstration took place in which Miss Salisbury participated she has gone to California with her parents. An effort will be made to send her medal to her.

Two other Multnomah girls, Edith Swanson and Lois Cree, from Gilbert, were awarded medals for their work done as members of the canning team which demonstrated the canning of meat at the Pacific International. These medals were not given as the result of any contest particularly, but were awarded to all the members who competed in the demonstration of the work.

The medals will be presented to the girls at some public meeting in connection with club work which will be arranged soon in the two communities where the girls live.

KENDALL STATION BUS CONNECTS WITH CARS

Another new auto bus line has been added to the service of the Portland Electric Power company, beginning Sunday morning. This is to be known as the Powell Valley road line and a part of the regular city bus system.

The route will be southbound from East 71st street and 29th avenue via 71st street, Powell Valley road, East 82d street to Kendall station, where the busses will connect with the interurban system. On the return, the busses will be routed in the same manner, only reversed.

Rebekah Bake Sale.

All members of the Gresham Rebekah lodge are expected to bring something good to eat for the sale at the A. W. Metzger store Saturday, Jan. 23, from 1 to 4 o'clock.—Adv.

WANTED

More people to read and use the Want Ads. Notice the careful classification and look for what you want or advertise for it.

SPRAY MATERIAL

Miller's Lime and Sulphur Solution with spreader. Sherwin-Williams Dry Lime and Sulphur.

PRUNING SHEARS

For Trees, Berries and Shrubbery

A complete stock of all sizes. See our assortment and prices before buying

FERTILIZERS-

We have cars of Nitrate of Soda, Superphosphate, Potash and Land Plaster arriving now and due to arrive soon. Let us quote you.

A Complete Line of Swifts Red Steer Fertilizers

A. W. Metzger & Co.

The WINCHESTER Store

Phone 1451

Phone 1451

January—

WHITE SALE

This week at

L. L. KIDDER HARDWARE CO.