Friday was the occasion of the birthday of J. J. Robertson, he being 81 years of age. A number of friends called at his home during the day, including his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McLain, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jane Robertson. Flowers, fruit and other small but pleasing gifts were given him. Mr. Robertson's health is now variable. He has never been entirely back to normal since his severe sick spell a couple of months ago.

The third quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist church will begin Friday evening and continue over Sunday, with preaching each evening and Sunday morning by the Rev. W. N. Coffee, of Salem, superintendent of the Willamette district.

The Rev. August Youngren, from California, is planning to visit Gresham soon and a meeting is being planned in the interests of the Japanese of this place, to be held in the Free Methodist church April 3. The Rev. Mr. Youngren is a former missionary to Japan and occasionally preaches to the Japanese at Gresham.

A. H. Chambers, a brother of Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, and a friend, Lloyd French, of Hood River, drove down for a short stay at the Roberts home Sunday. During the day Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts and Miss Helen Chambers drove to Camas, Washington, and return.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Sakki are enjoying the comforts of a new Overland sedan which they purchased a few days ago.

Arthur Bjur, who lives southeast of Gresham, was in town Saturday. He is an experienced electrician and was for several years with the late F. L. Mack. He is now entering the field as an electrical contractor.

Lester, the 18-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McMurry, is ill at the home of his aunt, Mrs. P. E. Stone, who is caring for him. His illness began two weeks ago with chickenpox and has since developed into pneumonia. The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McMurray is still in Good Samaritan hospital in a critical condition from the effects of pneumonia.

George L. Johnston, of Gresham, and Miss Alma L. Dye, a bookkeeper in the employ of the Portland Telegram, were married Sunday at the home of the bride's parents in Portland. Mr. Johnston is associated with his father and brothers in the circulation route of the Telegram and Oregonian and it is understood the newly wedded couple will reside in Portland.

Miss Helen Harper, of Portland, who has a violin class in Gresham, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Althaus. She occupies a prominent place on the weekly broadcasting program of several circuits. Mr. and Mrs. Althaus drove Miss Harper into Portland and then returned to their home in Cedar in time to hear her play in the program which was given over KQP at the Portland hotel on Sunday evening.

Clair Stockton has obtained employment in the finishing room of the paper mills at Camas, Washington, and spends the week ends with his parents at Gresham.

Some one entered the premises of J. Gantenbein Friday night by cutting the wire to a fence at the rear of the house, prying off the lock to the chicken coop and making way with ten purebred Buff Orpington hens and rooster, also a full blooded Plymouth Rock rooster and two other hens. This makes the second time the chicken house of Mr. Gantenbein has been invaded during the past few months, the other loot not being so heavy as this one. This last depredation was almost a complete cleanup of chickens at the Gantenbein household.

A social meeting of unusual interest will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church next Thursday evening in connection with the regular meeting of the Ladies Aid society. The meeting will be held in the evening instead of the afternoon as usual, and the men of the church have undertaken to furnish the program and refreshments for the occasion. Provisions are being made for at least 200 people and the invitation is being extended to all members and friends of the church to attend. The meeting of the Aid society will be held in the Epworth League room at 7:30 and the social meeting will follow.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Proctor, of Sandy, March 19 at the Timmerman home in Gresham. The baby has been named Fred Lester Jr. and with his mother is getting along well. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLean at the same home on March 21. The child did not live, it being a case of premature birth, but the mother is doing nicely.

Mrs. U. S. Morgan, of Estacada, a sister of Mrs. M. E. Williams, is spending a couple of days at the Williams home.

A unique advertising device which is attracting considerable attention has been placed in the window of the Bank of Gresham. The affair is propelled by electricity and consists of cards bearing the advertising of various firms, which are picked up automatically by small arms and displayed to view; then replaced by others in turn. Altogether it is a neat and effective scheme for advertising the wares of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Smith and little daughter drove to Spokane yesterday in answer to a message telling of the serious illness and expected death of Mr. Smith's father. During their absence the Gresham Filling station will be taken care of by Burten Walrad and E. R. Wright.

Two obsidian spear points have been found recently by R. F. Walters on his farm on Gresham Heights, one of which was turned up by the plow and the other uncovered with the hoe in the garden. Both are in good condition. One is about two inches and the other about three inches long.

Mrs. A. T. Honey of Portland visited on Friday with her mother, Mrs. E. Boughner. The honeys formerly lived on the butte south of Gresham.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lambert of Jennings Lodge were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Chase E. St. Clair.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Geddes and son Maitland of Portland were in Gresham Sunday looking after some repairs on their residence on South Roberts avenue.

A letter recently received from Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harrison, who are spending the winter in Santa Ana, California, brings the word that they have had a most delightful sojourn there. They are planning to leave for home early in April and will arrive about the middle of April.

Gresham Volunteer Fire department will give a benefit dance at the Masonic hall on next Friday evening, March 26, which promises to be an interesting and enjoyable occasion. Old time music and old time dances will be the order, and "Mack" Thomas of Sandy will be announcer. Refreshments will be served at the Oscarette.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn F. Howe, who came to Gresham last winter from North Dakota, attended the funeral services in Portland this afternoon of Darius Howe, aged 77, father of Mr. Howe of this place. Interment was made in Rose City cemetery.

Mrs. George Duncan entertained four friends of Melcher Duncan at dinner Friday evening, the occasion of his 16th birthday. The boys were John Ott, Edward Stubbs, Winston Strong and Harold Dye.

A number of neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. G. A. Cox last night to remind her that she had reached the 50th milestone of her age. A pleasant evening was spent and light refreshments were served. Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Cox were Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Cockle, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hoover, Mrs. M. V. Sturm, who was also celebrating her own birthday, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Splawn, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Adams, Mrs. L. D. Calkins, Blanch and Bernice Macho.

THE SPINE OF METHUSELAH

METHUSELAH lived 969 years. Chipper as a sparrow in his nine hundredth year. Imagine! But then, he didn't have to spend vital energy worrying about germs or anti-toxins or appendicitis or anything like that. And it is doubtful whether he was ever pestered by a life insurance agent.

DID you ever wonder about the sort of body machine Methuselah must have had? MAN'S body is a machine. It must be kept well oiled, elastic, smooth running. Elasticity is life. Rigidity is death. The motive power of the body machine is nerve force. The main artery of the nerve system is the spinal cord. As they branch away from the spinal cord, all the trunk nerves must pass through and between the movable bones of the spine.

AS LONG as the spinal bones stay in their proper place they don't annoy the nerves carrying the body's motive power. But let some of these bones get out of place, even a little, and the flow of nerve force is interrupted. Then the body machine suffers. It would seem reasonable to suppose that the bones in Methuselah's spine stayed put.

HOWEVER, that was before the days of pavements, cement sidewalks, joggly street cars, trains and automobiles. It was in the days when a man would just naturally have to jump up and down on a rock or something in order to jar the spinal bones out of place.

TODAY, our spinal bones won't stay put. They get out of place, bother the nerves, and our bodies suffer because of interruption of nerve force.

THE SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC concerns itself solely with adjusting spinal bones so that nerve force can flow freely. Then the body takes care of itself. It retains elasticity—death's greatest foe.

COME to see me today. Let me adjust your spinal bones. It doesn't hurt and it will give you a new lease on life.

AND will you then live as long as Methuselah? Probably not. You've got a lot of things to contend with that he didn't have. But your life span will be considerably lengthened.

The old flag pole base at the city hall is being burned out preparatory to placing a new pole in the ground. This time a reinforced cement stub will replace the wooden one and steel clamps will be used to bolt the pole proper to the base. The new pole which is 60 feet in length has been lying on the ground for some time ready to be erected. The old one was blown down in a strong east wind which prevailed last winter.
