ESSAY CONTEST WINS FAVOR IN SCHOOLS

Much favorable comment is being received by the First State bank on its selection of subjects for its essay contests in both the high and public schools. The eighth grade pupils are studying the constitution of the United States and familiarizing themselves with the life of Benjamin Franklin in order that they may determine to what extent his influence was felt and what effect it had in the framing of the constitution; while the high school students are scratching their heads over the problem of what they can best do to show their appreciation of that which they prize most highly—citizenship.

There are many contests on at this time—one a nation wide oratorical contest, and students are no doubt quite busy, but this is as it should be. President Coolidge says, in speaking of contests of the character of those of the First State bank, "It represents the most effective method of enlisting the interest of young men and women in our governmental institutions." In the opinion of educators, a closer acquaintance with the constitution of the United States is a fundamental need today in the education of young people.

Buick shares its price with many motor cars —but its Value with none

Because of the great number of Buicks bought each year, and because every dollar of the savings of great volume goes back into Buick value, Buick's moderate price buys quality.

Buick can, and does build its cars the way all motor car engineers would like to build theirs, if their volume or selling price permitted.

*For eight consecutive years Buick has led, in volume of sales, all members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Buick is selling more cars today than ever before in Buick history.* The public wants finer transportation at lower cost. And in Buick they get it.
