LAST RESPECTS PAID FOR AGED RESIDENT

The Mission church in Powell Valley was well filled with sympathizing friends Tuesday afternoon who gathered to pay their last respects to the memory of Jonas Magnuson who died Friday afternoon from apoplexy at the age of 91 years. In the absence of the regular pastor of the church, the Rev. O. H. Larson, formerly pastor of the Mission church, officiated at the preaching service under the direction of the Gates Funeral home. Many beautiful floral offerings attested the regard in which Mr. Magnuson was held in the community. Mrs. O. H. Larson and Mrs. Karl Hagberg each rendered solos and the Rev. and Mrs. Larson sang a duet. The pallbearers were Emil Satterstrom, P. Staffenson, A. C. Sward, Gust Carlson, Frank Staffenson and Charles Palmblad.

Jonas Magnuson was born in Vermland, Sweden, March 30, 1835, and lived there until 1893 when he came to Wisconsin, residing there 12 years. From there he moved to Oregon and has lived in this vicinity for the past 20 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marie Magnuson and three children, Swan Magnuson, Mrs. A. Anderson and Mrs. Swan Olson, 15 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Mr. Magnuson was held in high esteem in his neighborhood, was a splendid husband and father and throughout his long illness was exemplary in patience and fortitude. The remains were interred in Douglas cemetery.

A simple and effective way of killing fleshy rooted plants like the dandelion and many other weeds that mar lawns is use of sodium arsenite. A sharp slender wood stick is dipped in the poison and struck down through the center of the plant. The arsenic travels through all parts of the root system and the most resistant plant will live but a short time.—O. A. C. Experiment Station.

JOE DUNNE FOR JOINT SENATOR

JOSEPH E. DUNNE.

Joe Dunne, candidate for state senator from the joint district of Multnomah, Clackamas and Columbia counties, is just the man who should be elected to the state senate. A more straightforward, thorough, versatile dependable business man cannot be found in Oregon. The Outlook knows him and is prepared to back up this statement. He has a wide acquaintance. His friends are legion. He will have the loyal support of the very best and most influential citizens in Portland and the counties named.

Joe is a big man and has substantial ideas and nothing of a freak nature will get by him if he can possibly prevent it. He is a man who has convictions and inspires confidence. He has broad ideas and the public good at heart. There is no selfishness about Joe. He is safe from every standpoint. He is safe on the tax question. He is safe on the wet and dry question. He is safe on the automobile legislation. He is not afraid to vote no even if he is the only one. He is not a trader but goes after what he wants and strikes out from the shoulder against what he doesn't want.

Joe Dunne is president of the Oregon State Motor association, a director in the Multnomah County Fair association, a past consul commander of Multnomah Camp 77, Woodman of the World. He is a Rotarian, a Moose, a Shriner, an Oddfellow, an Elks, etc. But he signs himself as "just a business man willing to serve the public, not a politician."

Let's make sure Joe Dunne is sent to the senate.

B. F. MULKEY'S HAT IN CONGRESSIONAL RING

B. F. Mulkey, prominent lawyer of Portland and well known in Gresham and vicinity, is one of the three men seeking the republican nomination for congress from this the third district. The others are, Maurice E. Crumpacker, present incumbent, and Norman S. Richards. The democratic candidate is Joseph B. Carson, of Portland.

Mr. Mulkey is a well known and highly respected citizen of Portland and well fitted by education and experience for the position he seeks. He was for eight years a member of the Oregon state senate; four and one-half years prosecuting attorney of the first judicial district of Oregon; five years a member of the faculty of the Normal school at Monmouth and five years president of the State normal school at Ashland.

He introduced the first local option measure in the Oregon senate and was acting president of the state senate when the direct primary bill was restored to the calendar after its defeat three days before and put in course of passage. He believes in that law and is opposed to any effort to destroy its force and effect.

He believes many employes of the government in the postal and other services are underpaid, and that such employes should be well paid as a just reward for their services and also as a standard to be followed for the employes of the states and cities of the country for those public servants who, like our fireman and policemen, risk their lives for the protection of the public.

He believes in conservation of natural resources but says the conservation should be for the sole benefit of the people within the state who should have far more right than they now have to determine what disposition should be made of the power sites and forests and lands within its borders.

Mr. Mulkey says: "My platform stands four square on all the great issues, among which are protection of childhood, resurvey of forest reserves, the upholding of the Eighteenth amendment, and energy and diligence applied to the business of the state."

FORMER RESIDENT HERE WRITES FROM MONTANA

The Outlook is in receipt of a letter from J. M. Brooks of Hardin, Montana, giving an interesting description of the recent strange phenomenon in connection with the Aurora Borealis, as seen from his location. He also tells of conditions in the wheat section in which he is actively interested. Mr. Brooks is a brother of Mrs. Richard Beadle. Following is the letter:

"I noticed in the issue April 16 an item referring to the phenomenon in connection with the northern lights as seen in your section recently. Will state that it was observed in this region also.

"The Aurora was seen first, a very fine display, then later the mysterious circle appeared. The Aurora is seen here frequently, at least once or twice each year.

"In my 40 years living on the coast I recall but one sight of the northern lights. That was about 1892 I think, while I was on the Base Line near the 12-mile corner.

"I am up here on the top of the world about 35 miles from Hardin, Montana. I am with a farming corporation that gets its land from the Crow Indian reservation under lease. We are plowing and seeding a lot of new ground in flax. Finished the wheat a few days ago and commenced seeding flax yesterday. Our rounds are two miles long each way, making four miles a round trip. Will be seeding until some time in June. The total acreage in wheat and flax will be better than 100,000 this season. We have three batteries of drills, five drills in each, and a cultivator attached to each drill. Each seeding outfit takes a width of 54 feet, so we get over a lot of ground each day.

"Hardin is 12 miles from Crow Agency, which latter place is near the scene of the famous battle field where Custer made his last stand, June 25, 1876. A big celebration is planned for the present year, when the 7th Cavalry will be here and camp on the banks of the Little Bighorn. A great many visitors are expected to be present.

"I enjoy reading the Outlook and keeping in touch with the progress in Powell's Valley and Multnomah county. I send greetings to my friends in Gresham and vicinity."

Mrs. William Lindeman Passes Away.

Mrs. Nettie Lindeman, aged 29 years, passed away early Tuesday morning at Emanuel hospital where she had been taken the day before. She resided near Brunner station on the Section Line road about a mile west of Gresham and had been ill at her home several weeks before consulting a physician. She was brought to the office of Dr. Mary Becker who later called in Dr. Geo. Inglis. Together they ordered the woman's removal to Emanuel hospital, where she lived less than 24 hours. She is survived by her husband, William Lindeman, a son, William Jr. and her father, William Fensky. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the residential chapel of Miller & Tracey.
