LEGION GETS DERBY FOR CELEBRATION

Members of Gresham Post American Legion are busily planning the big celebration to be held at the fair grounds on July 3, 4 and 5...

The running horses will come from Toppensish, Wash., and are described as first class. Those to take part in the harness races have been in training on the race track at the fair grounds for some time.

The tentative program of races includes two harness and three running races on Sunday, with two harness and four running races on Monday. The fourth running race on Monday will be a consolation, in which all winners in the former races will be excluded.

There will be a horse show and fire works on Sunday and Monday nights. Admission to the grounds will be free throughout the celebration.

AGED MAN SUCCOMBS TO APOLECTIC STROKE

Death came very suddenly Thursday evening, June 24, to Solomon Messinger, aged 78 years, who succumbed to an attack of apoplexy at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Buckley, on Pleasant View avenue, southwest of Gresham.

The deceased had resided with his daughter for ten months previous to his death and before that had been at the home of his son, W. E. Messinger in Portland. He came across the plains in 1864 and was one of the Yamhill county pioneers.

Mr. Messinger is survived by five children, Mrs. Cora Haines of Portland, Mrs. Frances Wernes of Bend, Mrs. Lillian Buckley of Gresham, W. E. Messinger of Portland and Frank Messinger of Alaska.

The Oaks Offers Free Amusement

Free vaudeville at The Oaks amusement park this week is more than full of interest. "The Postman," by Van Alst, is a veritable knockout. Singing, whistling and a score of the latest jokes are all included in this act.

FAIRVIEW

The Multnomah County Health association will hold a clinic at the schoolhouse Monday afternoon, June 28, beginning at 1:30. The clinic is especially for those up to seven years of age with special reference to those expecting to enter school in the fall.

Morning worship will be held at the Smith Memorial Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 o'clock with the sermon by the pastor, the Rev. E. R. D. Holtensted. Sunday school will convene at 10 o'clock.

C. H. Lane announces that his place of business is now located two blocks west of Union High school and his customers may procure Watkin's products there.—Adv.

DAHLIA GROWER PRAISED IN JOURNAL EDITORIAL

Under the caption, "Unwrecked," a beautiful tribute was paid to the courage and persistence of Mrs. Vera L. Tucker of Gresham in an editorial in a recent issue of the Oregon Journal.

Her husband, who had given her a beautiful country home near Portland, died three years ago. She was left with 12 high-priced acres that at once became an obligation.

Her hobby in prosperous days had been growing flowers. She determined to ride the hobby to prosperity again. The home place became a commercial dahlia farm.

One day she decided to enter an exhibit at the Crook county fair at Prineville. She arranged her most beautiful flowers and started to drive to the Central Oregon county seat. On the way down a mountain road a tire went flat.

That is the story of Vera Wolverton Tucker as told by Western Farmer. It goes to show that the wreck of a life or the wreck of an automobile may both be righted, and the beauty of living may be retained, if one has a determined and courageous spirit.

COURT SUSTAINS WILL OF LATE A. C. WHILON

A decision was rendered Wednesday in the circuit court, Judge Tazwell's department, sustaining the will in the case of the will contest of the late A. C. Whilon. The contestants, Henry Whilon and Mrs. John Ickler had charged their brother, Herman Whilon, with exercising undue influence in regard to their late father's will, and the decision as rendered in favor of the proponent, Herman Whilon, leaves the will to stand as originally written.

JOHN BRUGGER DIES AT PORTLAND HOME

Interment will be made in Gresham cemetery Saturday afternoon of the remains of John Brugger, aged 74 years, who died at his home in Kelly's addition in Portland Thursday, June 24. He had suffered an attack of intestinal flu about the first of the year and had been ailing since that time.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Josephine Brugger and three brothers and a sister, Andrew of Portland, Theodore of Gresham, Melvin of Nebraska and Mrs. Elizabeth Karpenstein of Eugene. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Third Reformed church, 87th street and Woodstock avenue, Lents, with the burial rites following at Gresham cemetery.

Baptist Church Makes Announcements

The Bible school will begin at 9:45 a. m. and the preaching service at 11 o'clock, at the Bethel Baptist church next Sunday morning. The subject of the morning address by the pastor will be, "The Revelation of the Future." In the evening there will be a merged service.

Free Methodist Services.

Sunday school will convene at the Free Methodist church Sunday at 10 o'clock, followed by preaching at 11 by the Rev. M. V. Whetzel. The young people's meeting will begin at 7 and preaching at 8 in the evening. All strangers in the city are cordially invited to worship at this church.

Undenominational Church Services.

Sunday school will convene at the Undenominational temple at 10 a. m. Preaching service in the afternoon at 2 o'clock will be preceded by a song service. The pastor, the Rev. S. F. Pitts, will preach again Sunday evening, the service beginning at 7:30. Prayer meeting will be held on Thursday evening and Bible study Friday evening. All are welcome to these services.

22 GRESHAMITES VISIT CLUB CAMP AT O. A. C.

Gresham Cuthbertonians, 22 of them in all, made up a party that visited the boys' and girls' summer school at Oregon Agricultural college on Wednesday. At first this was designed to be a business men's visit to the college, but gradually the ladies let it become known that they too might enjoy a day off from the cares of life and look in upon the 500 youngsters gathered from 25 counties of the state for a fortnight's stay for study and recreation.

A group composed of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Walrad, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hessel and their guest, Miss Grace Williams, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kidder and daughter Roberta, Mrs. Marion Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sterling, S. E. Palmquist, Oscar Johnson, A. W. Metzger, B. W. Thorne, W. J. Todd, E. W. Aylsworth, C. I. Raker, Mrs. Cecil Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Chase St. Clair and Mrs. Mary Welch left Gresham at 5:30 in the morning, arriving at the agricultural building about 9 o'clock.

The scenes presented throughout the various buildings where classes are holding forth were those of animation and intense interest. As was but natural, the party divided, the mothers represented in the group following small daughter to her classroom where she was being instructed in the intricacies of cake making and decorative stitches and the fathers taking the lead of sonny who was learning just the proper proportions and the right kind of feed for the various small animals on a well regulated farm.

The courses presented by the instructors at the junior session of the summer school are varied, including farm mechanics, animal husbandry, gardening, blacksmithing, crop production, sewing, cooking, canning, basketry, in fact, about everything that a group of bright, healthy, happy boys and girls could be interested in. Nor is this thing all work and no play, which is reputed to make a dull boy out of Jack.

Six groups of boys have been organized into a league and the rivalry is indeed keen among the Huskies, the Strugglers, the Rinkeydinks, the Beavers, the Bearcats and the Wampus Cats. The contest is on as hot as the weather for the supremacy in horseshoe pitching, baseball, tennis, basket ball, track relays, swimming and volley ball. The favorite diversion of the girls seems to be the big swimming tank where Coach Coleman supervises that sport for both boys and girls. A movie picture was taken Wednesday forenoon of a unit of girls engaged in the art of basket weaving.

It surely was a matter of comment by the visitors, the clocklike precision with which affairs were dispatched. Everything was on time, meals included, there seemed to be no confusion, perfect discipline prevailed, each person from State Club Leader H. C. Seymour down to the little nine-year old club girl who wanted 25 cents worth of ice cream to eat all by herself, seemed to fit into place perfectly and the marvel was there was no clash. The only lamentable feature of the otherwise happy gathering was the death last Sunday of one of the chaperones, Miss Gladys Pennington, who was taken ill soon after arriving at Corvallis and who lived but a few days.

The Gresham delegation must be a humble bunch not to get the swell-head at the reception given them on Wednesday at Corvallis. Bill Kinder, the inimitable, with his estimable wife, gave their undivided attention to making the Gresham folks at home and to supplying their wishes along every possible line. The ladies were invited to lunch in Waldo hall, part of the group being guests of Mrs. Kinder, the remainder seated with Mrs. H. C. Seymour. Here again was perfect order. The dining room will seat comfortably about 250 and that many little misses stood behind their chairs and sang the doxology, all in unison, afterward seating themselves and quietly awaiting the passing of the dishes. To be sure, one little wiggly girl dropped her fork a couple of times, but no one noticed and all did justice to the excellent luncheon which was followed by ice cream as dessert.

The men, with Mr. Kinder as host, lunched at Cauthorn hall and here again 300 boys, as with the girls, moved with decorum and curbed in their spirits, reserving them perhaps for the ball game of the afternoon. At Waldo hall the Gresham ladies were introduced to their young audience and were greeted with the words of the inspiring, "How do you do, Gresham visitors, how do you do?" Two visitors were present from Portland and they, too, came in for their share of the honors.

After luncheon a picture was taken of the Gresham crowd, after which all repaired to assembly hall in the "Y" hut and the Gresham folks were called to the platform and introduced to the children who gave a cheer that nearly raised the roof. Mrs. Cecil Metzger was presented with a pin by Miss Helen Cowgill in recognition of her sewing class that had achieved the distinction of being 100 per cent. The visitors were fairly deluged with verbal bouquets and honored time and again throughout the day. They were applauded, photographed and dined, and the only "roasting" they received was by the sweltering heat which hung over the valley like a blanket.

About six o'clock, however, an ocean breeze struck up and the evening was delightful as to temperature.

C. E. St. Clair spent much of his time in the afternoon giving the college press the once over. Several of the men, accompanied by a daughter, loath to let go of her "daddy," attended the ball game. Governor Pierce was scheduled to speak at 4 o'clock. Before leaving for Gresham, about a half dozen machines were lined up and the crowd snapped for the second time during the afternoon. The return trip was made without incident. The occupants of the St. Clair machine were forced to look on the aftermath of a wreck about three miles south of Salem. The machine was in the ditch and a man, woman and child seemed to be more or less badly cut from glass, if not more seriously injured. An outbound Salem stage bus had stopped to render aid. A driver of one of the Gresham machines admitted making the trip to Corvallis in two hours and forty minutes Wednesday.

CONCESSION SPACE IN DEMAND AT 1926 FAIR

W. H. Mitchell, who is in charge of concessions on the Multnomah county fair grounds, says that he has enough new applications for space in the new main building of the fair to fill up all available space. He is, however, giving old concessionaire's the preference and many have signed up. Others will be seen in a few days but soon the remaining space, if any, will be sold to new applicants.

BABY SPECIALIST TO CONDUCT FREE CLINIC

Dr. S. Ulysses Moore, well known baby specialist of Portland, has been secured for the baby clinic to be held at the Gresham library on next Tuesday, June 29, beginning at 1 o'clock. Gresham physicians who have promised to assist are, Dr. A. W. Botkin and Dr. H. V. Adix. Miss Mary P. Billmeyer, Multnomah county health nurse, who was in Gresham one day this week completing arrangements for the clinic, said that the assistance of all physicians is desired but she had been unable to get in touch with some of them.

It is hoped that a large number of mothers will take advantage of this opportunity to check up on the health of their children and get the latest information on the care of the preschool child. Those under seven will be examined.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR JAPANESE CHILD HELD

Funeral services were held at the Gresham funeral parlors Wednesday for Teruko Kido, 10 years of age, who died of pneumonia Monday, June 21, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kido, farmers on the Cleveland place. Besides her parents she is survived by a brother and two sisters. The funeral was a most elaborate one and was attended by a large number of American people. A Japanese minister from Portland presided and the ceremonial rites of their faith were followed during the service.

An abundance of beautiful flowers were given and at the concluding service at the Mt. Scott crematorium a picture was taken of these. The child was a former attendant at the Gresham grade school. The father is a highly respected resident of the community. A brief service at the Mt. Scott chapel preceded the cremation of the remains.

FUNERAL HELD FOR LATE MRS. ELIZA ROSE

Mrs. Eliza Isabella Rose, who died Sunday, June 6, at the home of her brother, A. C. Cogswell, of Eagle Creek, was buried in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Estacada June 22, with services in the Eagle Creek church, the Rev. Mr. Wear, of Clackamas, officiating. The remains of the deceased was at the Gates Funeral home from the time of her death until burial, pending the arrival of her husband, Daniel Rose, from Fairbanks, Alaska, where they had lived for the past 25 years. Mrs. Rose was 49 years of age and, besides her husband, is survived by two brothers, A. C. Cogswell, of Eagle Creek, and B. F. Cogswell of Campbell, California. She came to Eagle Creek about two months ago for the benefit of her health. The Rebekah lodge, of which Mrs. Rose was a member, assisted in the services at the grave. She had been instrumental in organizing the Golden North Rebekah lodge No. 2, at Fairbanks.

Methodist Church Announcements.

Bible school at the Methodist church will meet at 10 o'clock, with competent teachers and interesting graded lessons for all except the adult classes, which use the uniform lessons. Bible school will be followed by the morning worship and sermon at 11. Dr. C. W. Huett, the pastor, will take for his morning theme, "The New Attitude Towards the Bible." There will be special music.

The Epworth League devotional meeting will be held at 7 o'clock and the pastor will preach at 8 on "The Cured Soul." Prayer meeting will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to all these services.

MASONIC ORDERS WILL VISIT HOME

Plans for the service to be held at the Masonic home at Forest Grove next Sunday by the Masonic orders of eastern Multnomah are practically complete at this time. Masonic organizations from Gresham, Troutdale, Bridal Veil and Parkrose will take part. Dr. Chas. W. Huett of Gresham will deliver the sermon at the home and the special musical numbers will be provided by a committee composed of Mrs. L. A. Harlow, Mrs. E. M. Fox and Mrs. J. A. Larsson of Troutdale. The service will begin at 2:30.

Those who intend to drive cars and those desiring transportation should get in touch with the committees in charge before Sunday. The committees for the Gresham Masons and the Eastern Stars consists of U. G. Smith, A. W. Metzger, B. W. Thorne, Mrs. E. W. Aylsworth, Mrs. Benj. Cameron and Florence Honey, Troutdale committees consist of John Burns, Earl Tegart, Dan Mickle, Mrs. W. C. Spence and Frances Fox.

MRS. S. A. ARATA DIES FROM EFFECT OF BURNS

Burns received Tuesday night, when a can of kerosene exploded in her hands, proved fatal two days later to Mrs. Bessie Arata, aged 48, who resided at her country home at Arata station, near Troutdale. She was burned at her home and was taken to Good Samaritan hospital where she died without regaining consciousness.

Stephen Arata, the woman's husband, was taken to the same hospital for burns which he sustained on his hands and arms when he attempted to extinguish the flames. The explosion occurred when Mrs. Arata tried to replenish a smouldering fire with a can of kerosene. The fumes ignited exploding the can and throwing blazing kerosene on the woman. Her husband seized her and threw her to the floor in an effort to put out the flames, but by the time this was done she was terribly burned and Mr. Arata had been badly seared on the arms. The pair was rushed to the hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at St. Michael's church, in Portland, Fourth and Mill streets, at 10 o'clock, with interment in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Marie Anderlini.

LOWER PRICES ON HUDSON-ESSEX CARS

Hudson and Essex cars are now at the lowest price levels in the company's history, following reductions which have just been announced. The new schedule brings the Essex coach to $735, the Hudson coach to $1095, the Hudson brougham to $1395 and the Hudson seven-passenger sedan to $1550; all prices f. o. b. Detroit.

This reduction came at the end of a five-month period in 1926 in which Hudson-Essex buyers broke all records in their demand for these cars. The January-June period saw 114,500 cars shipped from the plant, or practically 17,000 in excess of the 1925 period making this the record holding season up to date.

At the same time these figures became available it was stated also that the retail sales for May had reached 33,500 cars. Considering holidays, this was practically at the same high rate as obtained in April. The April and May months saw the delivery of 65,500 cars to Hudson-Essex buyers, which is said to be far in advance of any previous mark.

Bible Standard Services Announced

Sunday school at the Bible Standard church will begin promptly at 10 o'clock next Sunday, followed by the preaching service at 11. The pastor will deliver an evangelistic message Sunday evening at 8. The regular mid-week prayer meeting will meet on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Cottage prayer meetings will be held Friday nights at the homes of members. The public is welcome to all services.

Big Entertainment at Damascus.

A big entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Damascus Sunshine Club in Damascus community hall, Saturday, June 26. There will be a one-act play, music, stereopticon slides. Admission, adults 25c children 15c. Refreshments sold after the program.—Adv.
