The baby clinic held at the library Tuesday afternoon in connection with the meeting of the Multnomah county health association was well attended and, judging from the large number of mothers and fathers present, was much appreciated. Colleen Fall, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fall, took highest honors in the baby class. Her score was near perfect. Dr. C. Ulysses Moore, child specialist, of Portland, was present in the interest of the little folks and Dr. H. V. Adix, of Gresham, assisted in the clinic.

children, Miss Doris Bailey and Buddy and Victor, of Florence, Colorado, are here for a few days as the guests of the Bailey and Raker families. They are on their way home by way of California. Mrs. Honrath was formerly Mrs. Dora Bailey.

Mrs. Lillie Mitchell, a lady well along in years who has been a worker at the cannery this season, was tendered a pleasant surprise Thursday noon by the women of her tables in the barreling department. Fifteen in all took their lunch and made a picnic occasion of it, after which they presented her with a glass water set and berry dish to match to show their appreciation of her faithfulness in her work. Mrs. Mitchell was much pleased with the little party and the kindness which prompted it.

VISITORS AID IN FIELD AND ENJOY FINE PICNIC

Unexpected visitors recently enjoyed dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parsons and assisted in the berry picking going on at the ranch, as there was a scarcity of pickers. These were the guests of Mrs. Y. Grace of Ventura Park, one of the regular pickers in the Parsons berry fields, and Mrs. Parsons helped to make the occasion a picnic which will long be remembered by those who took part in it. One of the party, Captain John Nilsen, an old Norwegian sea captain, expressed his appreciation of the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Parsons in the following words: "Berry pickers seem to be scarce, but like visitors from San Francisco, they tried the berry field and all unite in saying that Mr. Parsons has a very good berry patch. It is wonderful to see how spry this old couple is and how they take care of their farm. Besides the fine raspberries, cherries, pears and apples, their new potatoes are large and palatable. The spring water is cool and refreshing. A special table was made and put under the old walnut tree where all were seated. I must say that Mrs. Parsons is a wonderful cook. We have come from San Francisco, which many call the sunny South, and while it truly has nice scenery, nature has blessed the land of our hostess with many wonders in the line of scenery."

Those present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, E. H. Lord, Captain H. V. Zelms, Mrs. A. G. Zelms, H. T. (Teddy) Zelms, Captain John Nilsen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ulving, Miss Irene and John Ulving, Jr., Miss Margaret Ulving, Mrs. V. Grace, Mrs. T. H. Spillman.
